

Patrick-Clifton Wedding June 16

The Tri City Presbyterian Church was the scene of a lovely wedding at 2 p.m. Sunday, June 16, when Virginia Carol Clifton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Clifton of Canyonville, became the bride of Reese Michael Patrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Patrick of Riddle.

The Rev. Richard L. Rohrbaugh, pastor of the church, read the vows before an altar flanked with huge baskets of white and yellow chrysanthemums.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She was beautiful in her white full-length silk organza wedding dress. It was fashioned in a simple empire style with a rich detailing of lace banding at the neckline and the three-quarter-length sleeves. Her chapel train was edged with lace. The bride carried a nosegay of white roses surrounding a white orchid with a purple throat.

Miss Sue Hoverson was maid of honor. Miss Andrea Gill and Miss Rita Morgan were bridesmaids. They wore yellow chiffon dresses styled with a bell-shaped skirt, three-quarter-length sleeves and low rounded necklines. They carried nosegays of roses and carnations.

Miss Patricia Patterson and Miss Hope Thompson, candlelighters, wore Nile green dresses styled like the other attendant's dresses. Mike Schofield acted as best man for the bridegroom, and the ushering was done by Doug Zenger and Steven Keel, of Madison, Wis., brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Peggy Clifton, sister of the bride, was flower girl. Her dress was a miniature of the bridesmaids. The ring bearer was Ronnie Davis, a cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Dale Rushton, organist, played appropriate music while the guests gathered, as well as the traditional wedding marches. She also accompanied Carolyn Mouch who sang "Perfect Love."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Clifton chose an afternoon dress of pink lace over taffeta with all pink accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a cotton lace Nile green sheath dress with jacket and white accessories.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. Zella Davis of Roseburg and Mrs. Richard Boney of Drew, an aunt of the bride, served the wedding cake. Miss Donna Steffins of Weed, Calif., a cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Delbert Davis, aunt of the bride, served punch and coffee. Miss Donna Davis of Weed, Calif., presided over the guest book. Miss Lynnett Wood of Sacramento, Calif., presented the gifts.

The couple is honeymooning at Reedsport, Seaside and Portland. For traveling the bride wore a brown and white suit. The young people will be at home in Riddle during the summer and in the fall they will live in Ashland where they will attend Southern Oregon College.

The bride was graduated with the 1963 class at Canyonville High School, and the bridegroom was graduated from Riddle High School. He is presently employed by the Patrick Lumber Co.

Coming from out of town to attend the wedding were Miss Donna Davis of Weed, Calif.; Mrs. Esther G. Bretz of St. Marius, Idaho; Mr. and Mrs. George Teel and Mr. and Mrs. Buford Willet, Eugene; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Patrick, Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Groffes, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Toll, South Beach; Carol Stuart and Peggy Kaerner, Corvallis; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sherrer, Prineville; Miss Lynnett Wood of Sacramento, Calif.; and Mr. and Mrs. Steven Keel of Madison, Wis.

The next meeting will be July 2 at the hall.

Glendale Job's Daughters Holds Open Installation

Betty Stapleton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stapleton of Glendale, was installed honored queen of Glendale Bethel of Job's Daughters in an open installation ceremony at the Masonic Temple Saturday evening.

Miss Stapleton chose the Book of Music ceremony for her installation and used music symbols as her decoration theme. Her colors were royal blue and gold, and she used "Song In My Heart" as her song theme.

A major accent in the decorations for the occasion was a music staff set up near the queen's station. A miniature white and gold tablecloth was used to carry out the general theme.

Candelabra at either side of the room held royal blue candles which were lit by Bill and Steve Smart, cousins of the honored queen-elect.

Large baskets of mixed flowers were also used in the decorations in the hall. A large blue heart trimmed with a music staff and gold notes stood on the floor in front of the basket of flowers.

Other officers installed included Jeanie Hughes, senior princess; Neva Wilson, junior princess; Christie Easton, guide; Julie Taylor, marshal; Joan Davenport, Patty Stapleton, Nonie Reed, Kaven Snyder and Mary Palmer, messengers; Christie Swanson, chaplain; Sheron Smith, librarian; Susan Major, musician; Becky Napier, treasurer; Loretta Byrd, recorder; Glenna Gilmore, senior custodian; Peggy Edson, junior custodian; Shirley Linville, outer guard; Candace Wells, lady of lights; Marsha Cooper, flag bearer; and Sandy Kelly and Diana Winkleman, choir.

Installing officers were Carol Major, retiring honored queen; Mary Lee Pate, guide; Marilyn Mehl, marshal; Mrs. Frank Daniels, chaplain; Nancy Clare, senior custodian; Mrs. Robert Thompson, junior custodian; Mrs. Life Edson, recorder; and Mrs. Joe Payne, musician.

The Bible was brought in by Mike Smart, a cousin of the honored queen-elect. Paul Schimp offered the prayer of invocation.

After the ceremonial was completed, the newly installed queen introduced her family, including her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stapleton; her sister, Patty Stapleton; her grandmother, Mrs. Jim Smart of Oolona, Ark.; her aunt, Mrs. Bill Smart, Mrs. Smart's sons of Arcata, Calif.; her aunt, Mrs. J. D. Shepherd; and Tony; and another aunt, Mrs. Joe Smart, and her daughters.

During the presentation period, her sister, Patty, presented the new honored queen with a gavel made by their father. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Stapleton received a gift from the queen.

Tony Shepherd and Kathy Smart, cousins of the newly installed queen, acted as gift bearers for the presentation of gifts to her officers.

An addendum honoring the newly retired Queen, Carol Major, followed the installation. The officers marched in and formed a V with the honored queen and the past honored queen, Jeanie Hughes, senior princess, presented Carol with a bouquet of blue and white carnations, and Neva Wilson, junior princess, presented her with her Past honored queen's pin. Betty Stapleton read an original poem of farewell.

Approximately 100 were served refreshments.

The serving table was centered by a large cake decorated in the musical theme. The elaborate cake was made and decorated by Mrs. Glenn Austin.

Party favors given guests in the dining room carried out the musical theme of the evening. They were miniature white china pianos.

Mrs. Bill Smart, aunt of the honored queen, served cake; Mrs. V. Kimbrough poured coffee; and Mrs. John Shepherd, aunt of the bride, served punch.

The tables in the dining room were covered with white cloths which contrasted with royal blue candles in crystal holders and arrangements of flowers used as centerpieces.

Mrs. Martin Brooks had charge of the guest book for the evening; Evelyn Kimbrough and Terry Sue Johns had charge of the programs; Frank Woodley assisted.

LOTUS KNIGHT PORTER Society BEVERLY BROOKE Barbara Knechtel Now Mrs. Koozer

The Rev. John E. Adams and Dr. J. Boyd Patterson were officiating clergymen at the June 11 wedding uniting in marriage Miss Barbara Jean Knechtel of Roseburg and Howard Daniel Koozer of Oakland.

The marriage took place at the Presbyterian Church at 8 p.m., 150 guests witnessing the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Knechtel of this city. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arville Koozer of Oakland.

Large baskets of gladioli and carnations were used to decorate the church. Mrs. Homer Grow was organist, accompanying Miss Marjorie Gates, who sang "Wedding Prayer" and "At Dawning."

The bride's father gave her in marriage. She wore a full-length gown of taffeta-faced silk organza fashioned on princess lines, with hip fullness at the sides of the dropped waistline. The dress featured a brush train with bow treatment at the back waistline. The bodice was designed with short sleeves and sculptured applique neckline. A petite Swedish crown of seed pearls was attached to a float veil of silk illusion, with a blush veil attached. The bride's bouquet was a white orchid centered in stephanotis on a white Bible which had been given to the bride's maternal grandparents on their golden wedding anniversary. The pearls she wore had been given to her mother by her father on their wedding day.

Miss Marion Lang was maid of honor. Miss Peggy Norris and Mrs. K. Boyd Knechtel, the bride's sister-in-law, were bridesmaids. All wore powder blue dresses of satin finish taffeta, with veil hats of the same hue. All carried crescent bouquets of white gladioli.

Ralph Koozer was best man for his brother. Another brother, Neil Koozer, shared ushering duties with Frank Schmittroth, a college friend of the bridegroom.

Lighting the candles were Gene and Harvey Koozer, brothers of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Knechtel wore a dusty-rose dress of printed marquisette with matching hat and white accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue two-piece cotton satin suit with white hat and slippers. Both mothers had gardenia corsages.

Following the reception held after the wedding ceremony, the newlyweds left on a honeymoon at the coast, the bride wearing a gray and blue tweed suit with navy blue bag and slippers and white hat and gloves. She wore the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

The young Koozers are now at home in Pocatello, Idaho.

Both young people received their high school education locally. Mrs. Koozer, a junior in home economics at Oregon State University, plans to continue her studies at Idaho State University. Her husband was graduated in physics in June from Oregon State University where he was a member of Chi Phi fraternity. He will be employed as a reactor operations engineer for the Phillips Petroleum Co. at Arco, near Pocatello.

Coming from out of town for the wedding were Ward Koozer of Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lutzer and family, Cottage Grove; Frank Schmittroth and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Knechtel, Corvallis; Dr. and Mrs. J. Boyd Patterson and Mrs. Grace Tucker, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hatch, Denver, Colo.; Mrs. Otto Nelsen, San Francisco; Cliff Norris and Miss Peggy Norris, Ontario; Mrs. Ruth Waugh and Karen, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kirkpatrick and Miss Marge Gates, Eugene; and Mr. and Mrs. Royce D. Lang and family, Sweet Home.

MR. AND MRS. HOWARD KOOZER, above, were married June 11 at the First Presbyterian Church in Roseburg by the Rev. John E. Adams and Dr. J. Boyd Patterson. The bride, Barbara Jean Knechtel, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Knechtel of Roseburg and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arville Koozer of Oakland, Ore.
