BPWC Installation Takes Place Wednesday Evening

Members of the Roseburg Business and Professional Women's Club held their annual installation dinner Wednesday evening at Ruth Bradley's Oak Tree Inn. With a background of organ music by Peggy Ostrander, "The Golden Key" was read by Edna Helgeson, and the traditional and impressive Emblem Ceremony was presented by past presidents Edna Helgeson, Matilda Brooks and Martha Wishart. Immediately following, new members were initiated at a candlelight ceremony conducted by president Dorothy Suksdorf. Everyone sang the "Emblem Benediction," each holding a lighted candle.

The installation ceremony was conducted by Zepha Pierson of Grants Pass, Southern Oregon District chairman. Incoming officers installed were Mildred West, president; Golda Nickell, first vice president; Helen Crankshaw, second vice president; Ada Jane Dick, recording secretary; Betty Allen, corresponding secretary; Marian Palm, treasurer; and Carmen Counts, sergeant-at-arms.

A scholarship was presented to Sharon Counts, who was the BPW Girl of the Month in February. She will attend the University of Oregon this fall.

Vocal numbers by Wayne Wagner were enjoyed by the group.

Kell-Gladwill Nuptials June 2

White stock, chrysanthemums and luchsia-colored gladioli decorated the Twin Palms Wedding Chapel in Lynwood, Calif., for the June 2 wedding of LaVelle Gladwill and Lee Davis Kell. The Rev. J. R. Gela performed the double ring service at 6 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Gladwill of Los Angeles and formerly of Roseburg. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kell of Portland.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was charming in her floor-length white satin gown, an original by Bianchi of New York. The dress was designed with a full skirt, elbow-length sleeves and full chapel train. She wore an elbow-length veil secured by a pearl trimmed satin rose with a front pearl teardrop. Her bouquet was a large white orchid in a cluster of smaller orchids, stephanotis and coral bells.

Loretta Gladwill, sister of the bride from Los Angeles, was maid of honor. She wore a fuchsia-toned sheer nylon over satin tuck and carried a nosegay bouquet of white butterfly orchids.

Roderick Kell was best man for his brother, Christopher Kell, another brother, was usher. Josie Kell of Virginia, cousin of the bridegroom, was candlelighter and attended the guest book. The bride's brother, Mickie Gladwill, was ring bearer.

Following the wedding ceremony, the bride's parents hosted a reception at the chapel's Tropical Patio. Later the couple left for a honeymoon at Laguna Beach before flying back to New York where they will make their home at 120 S. Central Park, Berkeley House.

The bride attended Roseburg schools and the University of Oregon Medical School. She was graduated from U. of O. The bridegroom was graduated from U. of O. and is presently a student at law at the University of New York.

Among the guests attending the wedding were Mrs. Willis Smith of Roseburg, maternal grandmother of the bride.

ELISA THOMAS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Thomas of Roseburg, who was graduated from University of Oregon this month, received confirmation of three appointments which provide a busy summer and year's schedule. The appointments include chaperoning a tour, two weeks training at Lake Arrowhead, and a two-year assistantship at Syracuse University in Syracuse, N. Y.

A WEDDING OF INTEREST took place June 2 at Twin Palms Wedding Chapel in Lynwood, Calif., when lovely LaVelle Gladwill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Gladwill of Los Angeles, formerly of Roseburg, became the bride of Lee Davis Kell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kell of Portland. (Melville Studio Photo, Lynwood, Calif.).

Riddle High School Prom Has Gala Hawaiian Theme

"Blue Hawaii" was the theme chosen by the Riddle High School juniors to honor the seniors at the banquet and prom Saturday evening. The banquet tables in the Episcopal parish hall were beautiful with Hawaiian decorations which were also used effectively around the room.

The program opened with the invocation by David Clark; welcome by Shelley Brown, junior president; response by Tom Roberts, senior president; music by Wayne, Scott and Mary; class history by Sara Preston; class will by Liz Sutton; and class prophecy by Carolyn McCoy. Gary Paetz was master of ceremonies.

The high school gym was elaborately decorated in the Hawaiian theme for the dance following the dinner. A silver entrance tunnel led to a Hawaiian garden complete with bridge and waterfall. A huge pink and white shell formed the background for Queen Lorraine Cam and King Bill Loper who were crowned by Shelley Brown, each receiving an exotic lei. Princesses of the court were Carolyn Frank, Carole Johnson and Mary Bonn. Princes were seniors Art Fisher, Keith Hanson and Jay Ball.

The gym walls were decorated with murals depicting Hawaiian plants and flowers. The individual refreshment tables were decorated with shell holders and segments of pineapple. Potted palms were arranged about the room.

The J. B. Orchestra of Myrtle Creek, seated under a canopy in Hawaiian motif, furnished music for dancing.

Surprise Party

A surprise birthday card party was given at Elkton recently at the C. G. Henderer home in honor of Mr. Henderer's birthday. The evening was spent playing cards. Guests arriving were: Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Garrison, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Henderer, Mr. and Mrs. George Bowman and Walter Duff of Roseburg.

Roseburg Girl Gets Honors

Elisa Thomas, June graduate of the University of Oregon, received confirmation this week of three appointments which provide a busy summer and year's schedule.

On Saturday, June 22 she departed from Portland on a month's tour of northern United States as a chaperone for 36 foreign high school students who have completed a year's study in this country under the American Field Service Program. The tour includes Washington D.C., where the students and chaperones will be hosted by State Department officials, and terminates in New York City, final departure point for the students.

Miss Thomas will return to the Coast by a southern route to Lake Arrowhead near San Bernardino, California where she will attend a two-week Campus Crusade Student Leadership Training Institute. From San Bernardino, she will return to the East to accept a two-year — $2,000 per year, assistantship at Syracuse University in Syracuse, New York where she will study for her Master's Degree in Student Personnel Administration in the Graduate Division of the School of Education.

Elisa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Thomas, 1034 S.E. Terrace, was last year's recipient of the Gerlinger Cup awarded annually at the University to the "Outstanding Junior Woman" considering scholarship, leadership, and activities.
