Dear Abby! Mask Is The Thing!

— By ABIGAIL VANBUREN —

DEAR ABBY: There isn't a day that goes by that my 18-year-old daughter doesn't read every word you write. Maybe you will help me out by telling her something I don't have the heart to tell her. She is scaring me off with her make-up.
She is a sweet, wonderful girl, but when she is through with the paint brush she looks like something else. It is something new with her.
Her once beautiful eyes now look like something from a horror magazine. I have nothing against make-up, but I hate that cheap, artificial look. I want my daughter to look sweet, wholesome and natural as she used to.

SAD DAD

DEAR SAD: Move over. That horror look is the fashion now, and nothing could say would convince your daughter to give it up.
But have hope. If she meets a young man who tells her to wash her face or no soap... you'll have your sweet, wholesome, natural-looking daughter back again.

DEAR ABBY: Please save me and "my" parishioners from further blunders. The wedding season is upon us again, and I would appreciate your printing an answer to this question: Is the minister's wife automatically invited to every wedding in her husband's church?

I have never attended a wedding as a guest unless I have been specifically invited. Yet many parishioners have told me afterwards that they "expected" me, and were

SEEKS OUTSIDE SUPPORT

ALGIERS (UPI) — Premier Ahmed Ben Bella told an Algerian cabinet meeting Friday that former rebel leader Mohammed Boudaif and three other "sedition-ary persons" were seeking support from abroad. He did not give details.

A communique published after the meeting charged four men, all of whom are under arrest, with seeking "the division and poisoning" of Algeria.

very disappointed when I didn't show up.

MINISTER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: You, my dear, are correct. Nobody is "automatically" invited anywhere. If the Reverend and Mrs. So and So are expected to attend an invitational affair, they should be sent an invitation.

DEAR ABBY: At the place where I work there is a girl who despises me, although I don't know why. When I speak to her she turns her head. I am being married soon and wanted to send all my co-workers individual wedding invitations. Not wanting to leave her out, I asked a co-worker for her address. When she found out who the address was for she refused to give it out. Still trying to be friendly, I sent her an invitation to our place of employment.
She returned it to me through a foreman. Did I do the right thing in sending her an invitation? And didn't she wrong to return it to me?

FRIENDLY

DEAR FRIENDLY: You were foolish to have forced an invitation on the girl, knowing she refused to give her address to your go-between. But she topped you when she sent it back with the foreman.

DEAR ABBY: Re the widow who wrote in to say that until she became a widow she never knew there were so many "frightened unsure wives" unwilling to let their husbands help a widow with household chores or heavy work. I wonder how many times SHE loaned HER husband out to widows when she was married?
