

How 'Gulpic' Bidding Works

By OSWALD JACOBY
(Written For NEA)

Some years ago I invented the term "Gulpic" to cover the bid too good to be a psychic, but too weak to be a bid. The name de-ways nice to see one properly punished.

West waited patiently for two rounds and then doubled when the opponents settled in two spades. He opened the king of spades and continued with the deuce. South won in dummy and led a club to his king. West took his ace and played ace and another spade.

South had two tricks and led a diamond toward dummy. West played the jack and East let dummy's queen hold the trick.

At this point South should have seen that the lights were about to go out and taken his ace of hearts, but down four doubled was an unpleasant prospect.

He led dummy's jack of hearts and let it ride. West took the queen and played his last diamond. East simply cashed diamonds and clubs until the last trick. He could not take that one because his partner had to ruff. The final result was that South went down five tricks.

PICK UP MATS

Q-The bidding has been:

South West North East
1♠ Pass 2♥ Pass
2NT Pass 3♣ Pass
3NT Pass 4♥ Pass

You, South, hold:

♠A Q 8 5 ♥10 9 ♦K Q 7 ♣K 9 4

What do you do?

A-Pass. Your partner has taken full responsibility for playing four hearts and you have two reasonably good trumps for him.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of responding two hearts your partner responds two clubs. What do you do in this case?

Use Of Good Manners On Vacation Trips Assures Better Time For All Concerned

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — A tourist is judged by his travel manners and the better they are the better the impression made on strangers at home and abroad.

The better also you will enjoy your trip if you exercise the rules of courtesy. Good manners add to good service you get too from the motels, hotel, roadside eating places, airlines, trains and buses. Those catering to the vacation-er—if pinned down—could give a list of gripes that long for correction. They are tolerant, because they are seeking the tourist dollar.

But, from talking to various persons in the travel industry, we have compiled Pauley's Easy Guide for Testing Your Vacation Etiquette.

—Do you hog two seats in the bus, train or plane by deliberately placing your coat, purse or other paraphernalia on the second seat, hoping thereby to seal it off?

—Do you on plane hang assorted cameras, coats or other accessories including flight bags in your area so that they overlap and create a hazard—or anyway discomfort—for the person behind or in front of you?

—Do you light a cigarette, pipe or cigar without asking whether smoking bothers the person sitting next to you?

—Do you use the ash tray nearest you or prefer to lean over and use one of your neighbor, dusting ashes as you go?

—Do you march up to the reception desk of hotel or motel and elbow others aside who are in line ahead of you to register? If you've pushed your way past others a little more patient during a busy tourist season, you've just won a top award for crudeness.

—Do you adapt, if the conditions are not as perfect as promised? Some of the overseas countries are just getting into the swing of seeking you as guest for a holiday and the shower may not always work, the soap supply not be ample. But point out politely that flaw in the service. Creating a scene does not create a favorable impression of Americans.

—In motor travel, especially in the United States, do you use the roadside picnic areas as if litter did not hurt? Multiply your left-behind paper plates and cups, soft drink bottles, etc. by the hundreds who also will use that picnic area in a given week and you see why some areas of the United States look like one big garbage heap. Crews eventually will pick up after you, but you're not thinking of the others who want to enjoy the outdoors nor of the multi-million dollars of taxpayers' money spent on cleanup alone.

—Do your driving manners show in reverse? Tail-gating, nudging out of your lane at a stop light for a quick getaway when the light turns green—these invite dis-

—Do you remember to say thank you to the filling station attendant, the policeman or anyone else who acts as a free guide? There are a dozen times a day the tourist has a chance to say thank you, and make traveling a treat instead of a trauma.
