

Defense Head Reports $1 Billion Chopped From Military Spending

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara reported to President Kennedy today that $1 billion was chopped from military spending for supplies and maintenance during the year ended July 1.

Raising his sights, McNamara said he expected economies totaling $4 billion annually in purchases of military supplies and spare parts and in operating costs within the next five years.

The actual and prospective savings were one-third greater than the Pentagon chief estimated would be possible at the start of a cost reduction program in 1962. But they only partly offset increased combat outlays which have pushed the defense budget up from $45 to $51 billion a year since McNamara took office.

McNamara, in a long memorandum addressed to the President, said $700 million was saved in purchases alone during the last 12 months.

Largest Saving

"The largest part of this reduction occurred in spare parts for aircraft and missiles," he said. "The Air Force has been able to reduce repair cycle time on high cost items from 90 to 45 days. The Navy reduced stocks of high demand spare parts on aircraft carriers by 30 per cent."

McNamara cited a 100 per cent increase in nuclear warheads in the strategic alert forces and a 60 per cent increase in U.S. nuclear forces in Europe as evidence that economies had not affected combat strength.

"Actions now planned for fiscal years 1964 and 1965 will bring the estimated annual savings, to be realized by fiscal year 1967, to almost $4 billion," he said.

Dollar-Saving Projects

McNamara said the biggest reductions last year were under a program headed "Buying only what we need," but he also listed these dollar-saving projects:

- Increased use of excess inventories. He said $1.2 billion worth of equipment taken from excess stocks was made serviceable after overhaul or repair.
- Shifting to competitive buying. McNamara said this usually reduces the cost of items by 25 per cent.
- Terminating unnecessary operations. Sale of 265,905 acres of land and 54 plants eliminated operating expenses that in a full year would total $316 million.

Faulty Figures Costly To Track

NEW YORK (UPI)—Officials at the Aqueduct race track Wednesday found to their dismay that to err is most certainly human.

The electric calculator which automatically figures the payoffs after each race broke down early in the day and the mutual department, forced to rely on the human brain, made a $20,343.40 error in the first race.

Holders of place tickets on the winner, Brenda Hope, were paid $15.30 for $2, whereas the payoff should have been $7.50; and holders of place tickets on Browns Risque, which finished second, were paid $5.50 instead of $5.10.
