

MR. AND MRS. DONALD COOPER, above, were married July 11 in an impressive double ring ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Robert Rigstad officiating. The bride, Vicki Lee Bean, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bean, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Cooper, all of this city. (Picture by Chris' Studio of Photography).

Vicki Lee Bean Now Mrs. Cooper

On July 11, Miss Vicki Lee Bean became the bride of Donald Lynn Cooper. One hundred seventy five guests were present for the double ring ceremony performed at 8 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Robert Rigstad officiating.

The date of the wedding marked the anniversary of the day the couple became engaged.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bean. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Cooper of Roseburg.

Yellow and white daisies and stock were used to decorate the altar, together with silver candelabra. A lovely white wedding cake was lighted by the bride and bridegroom.

Miss Pam Bonk of Myrtle Creek was soloist, singing "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer." Organist was Mrs. Homer Grogan.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was lovely in her floor-length gown of white satin which featured a train ornamented with lace. She wore a short bouffant veil secured by a jeweled Dutch crown. Her crescent-shaped bouquet was composed of daisies, pale yellow roses and ivy.

Virginia Harris was maid of honor. Sheryl Matthews; Christi Bean, sister of the bride; and Janet Cooper, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. Their dresses were identical, ballerina-length frocks of pale yellow cotton, chiffon, styled with full skirts. They wore slippers to match their dresses. Their headresses were flat bows with veiling. They all carried crescent-shaped bouquets of daisies and ivy.

Candlelighters were Daniel Bean, brother of the bride, and Steve Gosline, friend of the bridegroom. Donald R. Dickinson was best man for the bridegroom. Ushering was done by Bill Johnson and Fred Wolford and Larry Leonard, both of Oakland.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bean wore a smart light blue cotton dress with scalloped applied neckline. Her accessories were white. Mrs. Cooper, mother of the bridegroom, wore a becoming light blue dress with matching jacket and beige accessories.

Following the wedding, the bride's parents were host and hostess at a reception at the church. Daisy bouquets were used in decoration to complement the lovely four-tiered white cake, also ornamented with daisies.

The couple honeymooned at Lake Laurel and are now at home in Roseburg. For going away, the bride wore a beige hot sacking dress with crystal jewelry and white accessories.

The bride was graduated from Roseburg High School and is employed as a legal secretary for Bernau & Wilson, attorneys. The bridegroom was graduated from Oakland High School and is escrow agent for Douglas County Title Co.

Kings Meant To Force Aces

South arrived at four hearts on what is usually described as "Poppa - momma" bidding, but there was nothing "Poppa - Momma" about his play.

Most people would have wound up down one and complaining about losing both diamond finesses, but Sonny Moyle, the editor of Bridge World magazine, played the hand as if he wanted to use it in an article.

Actually there was nothing complicated about the play. Sonny played a low club from dummy at trick one. East won with the jack and led the five of spades and right here is where Sonny came up with a play to distinguish the men from the boys.

He covered the five with his South West North East king. West won with the ace and returned the jack. Sonny played dummy's queen and, when East followed with the four spot, Sonny's worries were over. He drew trumps and lost a club finesse to East's king, but East did not have a spade to lead and eventually Sonny got rid of his last spade on the long club in dummy.

Sonny's play would not have succeeded against a 6-1 spade break, but neither would the play of a low spade provided West came up with the correct defensive play.

Current figures indicate that advance sales are still running well ahead of last year and very close to the all-time record year of 1961, when 47,734 persons filled the Elizabethan Theatre to 98 per cent of its 42-night capacity.

1963 productions will run for a longer period of time than ever before (46 nights, as compared to 44 nights last year). Mail orders, Ashland window sales, and the branch box office network (throughout Oregon and Northern California) all indicate a rising interest in the Festival's 23rd season of Shakespeare under the Oregon stars.

Meantime, rehearsals have entered their final phases. Technical and costume crews are working around the clock to mount the four richly appointed plays in time for four successive opening nights: July 24 through 27. Following the four premieres, the repertory will then rotate nightly until September 7, allowing visitors — as always — to "Stay Four Days, See Four Plays."

Plays to be presented this year are "Merry Wives of Windsor," "Romeo and Juliet," "Love's Labour's Lost," and "Henry the Fifth."

Ticket inquiries may be made by writing "Shakespeare," Ashland, Ore., or by visiting the branch agency nearest you. Tickets are available in this area at Rickett's Music Store.

Those attending are asked to bring a basket lunch. The committee of local Southern Pacific employees who sponsor this event will furnish free ice cream, pop, coffee and other refreshments. There will be free pony rides and games for the children, awards for pensioners and drawings for a number of gifts.

Those desiring further information may contact R. W. Meissner, phone 673-3028, who is in charge of the pensioners affairs, or G. B. Abdlil, 672-4170, secretary of the picnic committee.

Transportation will be arranged if needed.

Shakespeare Play To Open July 24 At Ashland Site

By mid-July, 40.1 per cent of The Oregon Shakespearean Festival's 1963 full season capacity has been sold. Opening night for North America's oldest Shakespearean Festival is July 24 in Ashland.

Even though this leaves nearly 60 per cent of the total availability yet to be reserved, patrons are urged by General Manager William Patton to complete their theatre plans as early as possible. Opening night is sold out, but good seating remains for all other performances.

Dear Abby!

One Dyes -- The Other Dies!

— By ABIGAIL VANBUREN —

DEAR ABBY: How do you go about disowning a relative? My mother is a beaut. She won $600 at the races on a Saturday, and Sunday she married a man who works at the track. She's 62 and he's 44. She dyes her hair the same color red she dyes her own and thinks everyone turns around to look at them because they're so good-looking. I think she's gone into her second childhood. They are positively nauseating together. Should I put an ad in the local paper, officially disowning her? I don't care how much it costs.

DEAR EMBARRASSED: Don't put an ad in the paper. And save your money. You may need it to have their red heads examined later.

DEAR ABBY: We have 80 acres in the mountains, an old farmhouse, good hunting and a trout stream. We have company the year around. (Open on two or three hours' notice). Sometimes relatives bring their friends (who are total strangers to us), but they are always welcome. We love company.

Recently a nephew brought a friend to visit. About a week later we received a lovely thank-you note and a box of candy from the friend. I have been criticized for not writing to thank him for the candy. Should I do so? If I answer all the thank-you notes I shall have to hire a secretary.

DEAR NOT: Why? It doesn't take five minutes to write a thank-you note. All gifts deserve a prompt acknowledgement.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell people not to put the dog's dish in the dishwasher with the family plates. Hot water and soap do NOT kill every kind of germ. If they did, hospitals wouldn't need sterilizers. Even boiling water doesn't kill all bacteria. Especially spores and fungi.

The notion that a dog's mouth is cleaner than a human's mouth is folklore. We still know so little about diseases, and how they are transmitted, it is wise to observe all sanitary precautions.

EMERITUS, MAYO CLINIC
DEAR EMERITUS: Thank you for the information. I'll pass it on to my readers. But those who NEED it most will probably be the first to give me an argument.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LAS PALMAS:" The mother-daughter team that looks "just like sisters" frequently does more for the mother's ego than the daughter's.

Elkton Scouts Fete Visiting Explorers

Elkton Boy Scouts camped Friday and Saturday nights at Beckley's picnic grounds and spent Saturday cleaning up the grounds and swimming while waiting for a group of Explorer Squadron Scouts from Fullerton, Calif., who were canoeing the Umpqua River from Roseburg to Scottsburg.

Seven boys, Dennis Cooper, John Simpson, Gary Lawrence, Paul Whitme, Allan Stearn, Douglas Jones and Charles Jones and their two leaders, Clifford Maughan and Roy Cooper, made the trip in four canoes.

The Elkton Scouts and their families entertained the Explorer's Saturday night also at Beckley's picnic grounds with a pollock supper. Marvin Jeffcoat, Warren Baker and Jim Haines furnished musical entertainment for the evening.

The Elkton troop was presented a certificate expressing friendship from the visiting Explorer's.

Sunday, the visitors and their leaders attended the Elkton Christian Church in a group. They left in their canoes Sunday afternoon to continue their journey. Many local people watched the canoes at Sawyer's Rapids while the scouts attempted to shoot the rapids. Only one of the four canoes made the rapids on the first try.

A LITTLE TOO LATE
CHELTENHAM, England (UPI) — Mrs. Agatha Thompson, 65, admitted she is a little old for the love letter which arrived at her home Wednesday.

But she wasn't too old when a former boyfriend mailed the letter 42 years ago in Banbury, less than 100 miles away.

"It must have slipped down somewhere," a baffled spokesman for the Post Office explained.
