Total sale volume this district: 61 million.

Miller said some of the sales, both large and small, include blowdown timber. Where possible, purchasers are being requested to remove the blowdown first in order to help reduce a bark beetle build-up, he pointed out.

Another selling program will be issued on or before Jan. 15, 1964. This program will include necessary revisions for the first half of 1964 and will be projected for another six months to cover the period Jan. 1, 1964, to Dec. 31, 1964.

Following is a resume of the various sales scheduled in the districts, including description of location, estimated volume, number of units, amount of construction involved and calendar year quarter in which the sale is scheduled.

Arguments Due On Validity Of Jim Hoffa's Indictment

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Arguments were scheduled before U.S. District Judge Frank Gray Jr. today on the validity of an indictment charging Teamsters President James R. Hoffa with jury tampering.

This was one of 12 issues raised by the defense in pre-trial motions seeking dismissal of the indictment or a change of venue. Four of the issues were resolved in favor of the government Monday when Gray overruled one of Hoffa's two dismissal motions.

Hoffa and ten others are accused of tampering with the jury which tried the union leader's $1-million conspiracy trial, which ended in a mistrial here last year. All have pleaded innocent.

Among the other issues to be resolved at the pre-trial hearings are whether government representatives are guilty of illegal conduct in the case, whether the defendants should be granted separate trials in another city and whether the defense is entitled to transcripts of grand jury testimony.

Defense attorneys charged Monday that U.S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller, trial judge in the conspiracy case, had made prejudicial statements about the defendants and that special assistants to U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy had come here from Washington to do a "hatchet job" on Hoffa.

Attorney Joe Binkley of Nashville charged that Miller found defendant Ewing King, president of Teamsters Local 327 here, guilty in statements the judge made in declaring a mistrial in the conspiracy case last Dec. 23.

At that time, Miller said he had received evidence that "close labor union associates" of Hoffa attempted to contact and influence members of the jury.

Attorney Z. T. Osborn said that from Miller's statements and actions, the judge intended that Hoffa was "circumstantially responsible" for the alleged jury tampering efforts.

The government has accused King of offering to help obtain a promotion in the highway patrol for James Paschal, husband of a woman juror. It also contends that bribes totaling at least $75,000 were offered to influence jurors and prospective jurors to vote for Hoffa's acquittal.

PARIS (UPI) — Designer Jacques Heim's long-skirt bombshell is a dud, American buyers said today.

After Heim opened the fall-winter Paris fashion shows Monday, a cross-section of merchandising experts from New York indicated almost complete indifference.

The experts conceded that the new heavy tweed walking suits and knee-high boots that are blossoming all over Paris could stand a skirt about an inch or two lower than usual.

Republican Governors Promise Action On Civil Rights Dispute

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Republican governors promised today to keep the civil rights dispute before the annual conference of state executives even though they were overwhelmed in the first test on that issue.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, leader of the campaign to get the governors' conference to issue a civil rights declaration, tried to lay responsibility directly on President Kennedy for Monday's conference.

The revised agenda for the conference called for talk without action on civil rights this afternoon. This debating session was provoked by Gov. Albert D. Rosellini of Washington, conference chairman, in one of the Democratic moves to defuse the civil rights issue.

Rosellini and other Democrats argued that any civil rights resolution adopted by the conference would be meaningless, might cause it to founder in a Southern

Democratic Filibuster and Even Break Up the Organization

Democratic filibuster and even break up the organization. But Rockefeller said Monday's vote was "a tragically shortsighted move" which had "gagged" the governors and undermined the states. He said it was incredible that the Democratic President had done nothing to stop the action of the Democratic governors.

The political benefits, if any, gained by Rockefeller at this conference cannot be measured. Under prodding from GOP National Chairman William E. Miller, however, the Republican governors did give an unusual display of unity. Rockefeller was joined in this fight by governors supporting or leaning toward Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, his potential rival for the presidential nomination.

New Effort Slated To Ease Cambridge Racial Tension

By United Press International
The Justice Department's top civil rights troubleshooter scheduled another meeting in Washington today in an effort to solve the racial problems of tension-gripped Cambridge, Md.

Burke Marshall said at the end of a marathon meeting with Cambridge Negro leaders and Maryland officials Monday night that "considerable progress" had been made.

Marshall declined to give any details of the nine-hour meeting called by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy who personally met with negotiators for about an hour.

In New York, police arrested 233 persons who blocked the path of cement trucks at a construction site in Brooklyn Monday. The demonstrators were protesting alleged job discrimination. Some of the arrested demonstrators were ministers and children.

Twenty-nine demonstrators protesting school segregation tried to stage a sit-in at the offices of the Chicago Board of Education Monday but were turned away by police. A 19-year-old Negro girl fainted during a pushing struggle with officers.

A federal judge at Columbia, S.C., Monday refused to reconsider his order that a Negro girl be admitted this fall to the University of South Carolina, the last segregated state university in the South. The mother of Henri Monteith, 18, said the girl definitely would enroll at the university in September.

Elsewhere in the nation: New Bern, N.C.—Negro leaders asked the Defense Department Monday to declare New Bern and Havelock off limits to servicemen because segregation practices in the two cities were violating the constitutional rights of around 600 Negro Marines at Camp Lejeune. New York—Five Negro leaders said on a national educational television program Monday night that President Kennedy's civil rights proposals don't meet the country's needs in the fight against segregation.

Seattle—More than 125 demonstrators showed up at a meeting of city council Monday to protest the makeup of a new human rights commission that included only two Negroes.

Trenon, N.J.—A day camp owner charged with violating the state's anti-discrimination law said Monday he rejected the application of two Negro boys because their parents and the state had pressured him to accept the youths.

York, Pa. — Negroes plan to march on city hall Wednesday to protest alleged racial discrimination and the use of police dogs to disperse crowds.

New Orleans—A federal appeals court Monday denied a request by Birmingham, Ala., school officials for a rehearing on an order to desegregate Birmingham public schools this fall. But the court refused to order the immediate integration of schools at Jackson, Leake County and Biloxi, Miss.

Slayer Gets Life

PORTLAND (UPI) — Circuit Judge James Crawford Monday sentenced Henry Gill, 36, Portland, to life imprisonment for second degree murder.

Gill, a construction worker, was found guilty by a Circuit Court jury here last Tuesday. He was accused of the fatal stabbing of Hubert Hayes, 41, Portland, in northeast Portland April 19.
