Dear Abby!

She Deserves Credit

— By ABIGAIL VANBUREN —

DEAR ABBY: How can you call a woman with a prefabricated family a "mother in the highest form"? That was an insult to true motherhood. What does a woman who has adopted four children know about the joy of first learning that she is to bear a child? What does she know about the beauty of carrying a child under her heart? What does she know about the thrill of a child's first cry? What does she know about the fulfillment of actually giving life?

MOTHER OF FIVE
DEAR MOTHER: Perhaps she knows nothing of the "joy, the beauty, the thrill and the fulfillment" you mention. But don't you think that the woman who asks for the measles, mumps, heartaches, risks, sacrifices and the challenges of rearing a child, with none of the attending blessings of bearing her own, is deserving of special praise?

I do.

DEAR ABBY: We have been happily married for one year, and my problem is my wife, when I am driving, I have driven over 250,000 safe, accident-free miles in the last nine years. My wife, on the other hand, is a relatively inexperienced driver. However, while I'm driving she is constantly slamming on imaginary brakes and suddenly shouts warnings such as, "Watch out!", "Be careful!", etc. I have come very close to having accidents due to her comments and actions. How can I teach her to have more confidence in my driving?

ALMOST SMASHED
DEAR ABBY: Unless your wife is given to hallucinations, her comments and actions are an indication that you are not the careful driver you think you are. Be extra careful in the future, and see how relaxed and full of confidence your wife becomes.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a magician and the best in the business. How can I get a job?

MAGICIAN
DEAR MAGICIAN: YOU'RE a magician, and you're asking ME?

DEAR ABBY: I wonder if "Disgusted with younger women" is complaining or bragging. She said she raised 14 children without a washing machine. Well, I'd complain. I don't think younger women are lazier, I think they're smarter. After all, MEN manage to provide themselves with all the tools THEY need to make THEIR work easier.
