Lockwood Motors for the past 18 years has taken an active part in summer baseball in Roseburg, and the team which has been sponsored by the local Ford agency has made its name known as the powerhouse of American Legion Junior baseball throughout the state during the past seven years. That powerhouse is continuing to roll, as the Lockwood Motors team defeated Klamath Falls for the Area 4 championship Monday night and takes on Salem as the next step to the state title tonight. They are the defending champions, having won the state crown in 1961 and again last year.

A tribute to the team is Legion Field, regarded as the finest park in the state. This field will be the scene of the American Legion Regional Tournament later this month. Beginning as a "mother and dad come out to watch the game" affair, the Lockwood powerhouse has grown to the point of attracting from 1,200 fans per night at a regular league game to 2,000 or more in the playoffs. Much of the credit for the winning combination and the high interest in baseball here must go to Bill Harper, who jumps from the post with Lockwood Motors and Roseburg High School teams to a job at Oregon State University this fall. During past seasons, Lockwood Motors also sponsored Legion baseball teams in Myrtle Creek and Sutherlin to help attract interest in the sport in those towns. Among the names of others who have played key roles in the Lockwood crews of the past are those of Rudy Ritzman and Ery Short, former coaches and managers. The modern day record finds the Lockwood crew listed as winners of the state tournament in 1955, '59, '61 and '62. In 1956 they finished third in the nation.

OSU Faces Rugged Hoop Slate In '64

OREGON STATE UNIVERSITY, Corvallis—Coach Slat's Gill, never one to rest on his laurels, faces a real challenge next basketball season as his Beavers undertake what may be their toughest schedule ever. The defending Far West Classic and Western Regional NCAA champions meet most of their traditional rivals, but also take on such inter-sectional standouts as Cincinnati and Indiana. The 1963-64 schedule, released today, shows that Oregon State will meet Cincinnati in a two-game series on Jan. 3 and 4. The Friday opener is at Portland, and the clubs move to Corvallis for the Saturday encounter. Indiana reverses the procedure, playing OSU at Corvallis on December 29 and going to Portland for the Dec. 31 game. Both have been high ranked nationally, with Cincinnati winning the NCAA crown two straight years and placing second last season. The Beavers lost to Cincinnati in the NCAA semi-finals at Louisville. The annual Far West Classic will be held at Portland on Dec. 26-27-28-30, and includes OSU, Oregon, Brigham Young, Colorado State, Louisiana State, Seattle, Washington State and Iowa. Oregon State meets LSU in the first round play. Oregon State also will embark on a trip to Hawaii for three exhibition games in early January. OSU Schedule: Nov. 30, WSU at Pullman; Dec. 2, WSU at Pullman; Dec. 6, DePaul at Corvallis; Dec. 7, Washington at Corvallis; Dec. 12-14, California at Berkeley; Dec. 20-21, Indiana at Corvallis; and Portland; Dec. 26-30, Far West Classic at Portland; Jan. 3-4, Cincinnati at Portland and Corvallis; Jan. 5-12, Hawaiian trip; Jan. 17, Oregon at Eugene; Jan. 18, Oregon at Corvallis; Jan. 24-25, Stanford at Corvallis; Jan. 31, Seattle U at Seattle; Feb. 1, Washington at Seattle; Feb. 7, Portland at Portland; Feb. 14, Seattle U at Corvallis; Feb. 21-22, Idaho at Corvallis (Dad's weekend).

New, Used Car Lot Cleared

Two large sectors in the heart of Roseburg's blast area have been rehabilitated with the completion of Lockwood Motor Co.'s new building and new used car lot. The building is located on the site of the old Gerretsen Building.

Supply Co., site of the blast. The property across SE Pine St., where the Coca Cola Bottling Co. plant was located, has been acquired by Lockwood's from B. T. Unrath. This latter property, together with adjoining property to the north purchased by the company, was leveled and blacktopped this week. The lot will accommodate up to 50 new cars, an additional 30 used cars and another 50 spaces made available for customer parking.

Bird Hunting Rules Changed

PORTLAND (UPI)—The State Game Commission made few changes in 1963 hunting regulations for doves, pigeons, grouse, chukar and Hungarian partridge. The bag limit on chukars and Huns was increased from six to eight daily and from 12 to 16 in possession. The season will open Sept. 7 and close at a date to be set later. The season on mourning doves and band-tailed pigeons will be Sept. 1-30. Bag limit for pigeons will be eight daily and the same number in possession. The bag limit on doves is 10 daily and 20 in possession. The season on blue and ruffed grouse will be Sept. 7-22 in Eastern Oregon and Sept. 1-7 west of the Cascades. Bag limit again will be three daily and six in possession. The commission eliminated sage grouse hunting in Lake County this year and cut the bag limit to two daily and two in possession. It had been two and four, but wildlife officials said the number of birds was lower this season. Hunting will be allowed in Harney County and that part of Malheur south of U.S. Highway 20. The commission also set the hunting season for silver grey squirrels Sept. 1-Oct. 31 in southwest Oregon. The bag limit was cut from five to four daily and in possession. The season is open all year in northwest Oregon and there is no bag limit.

Tickets Ready For Pro Games

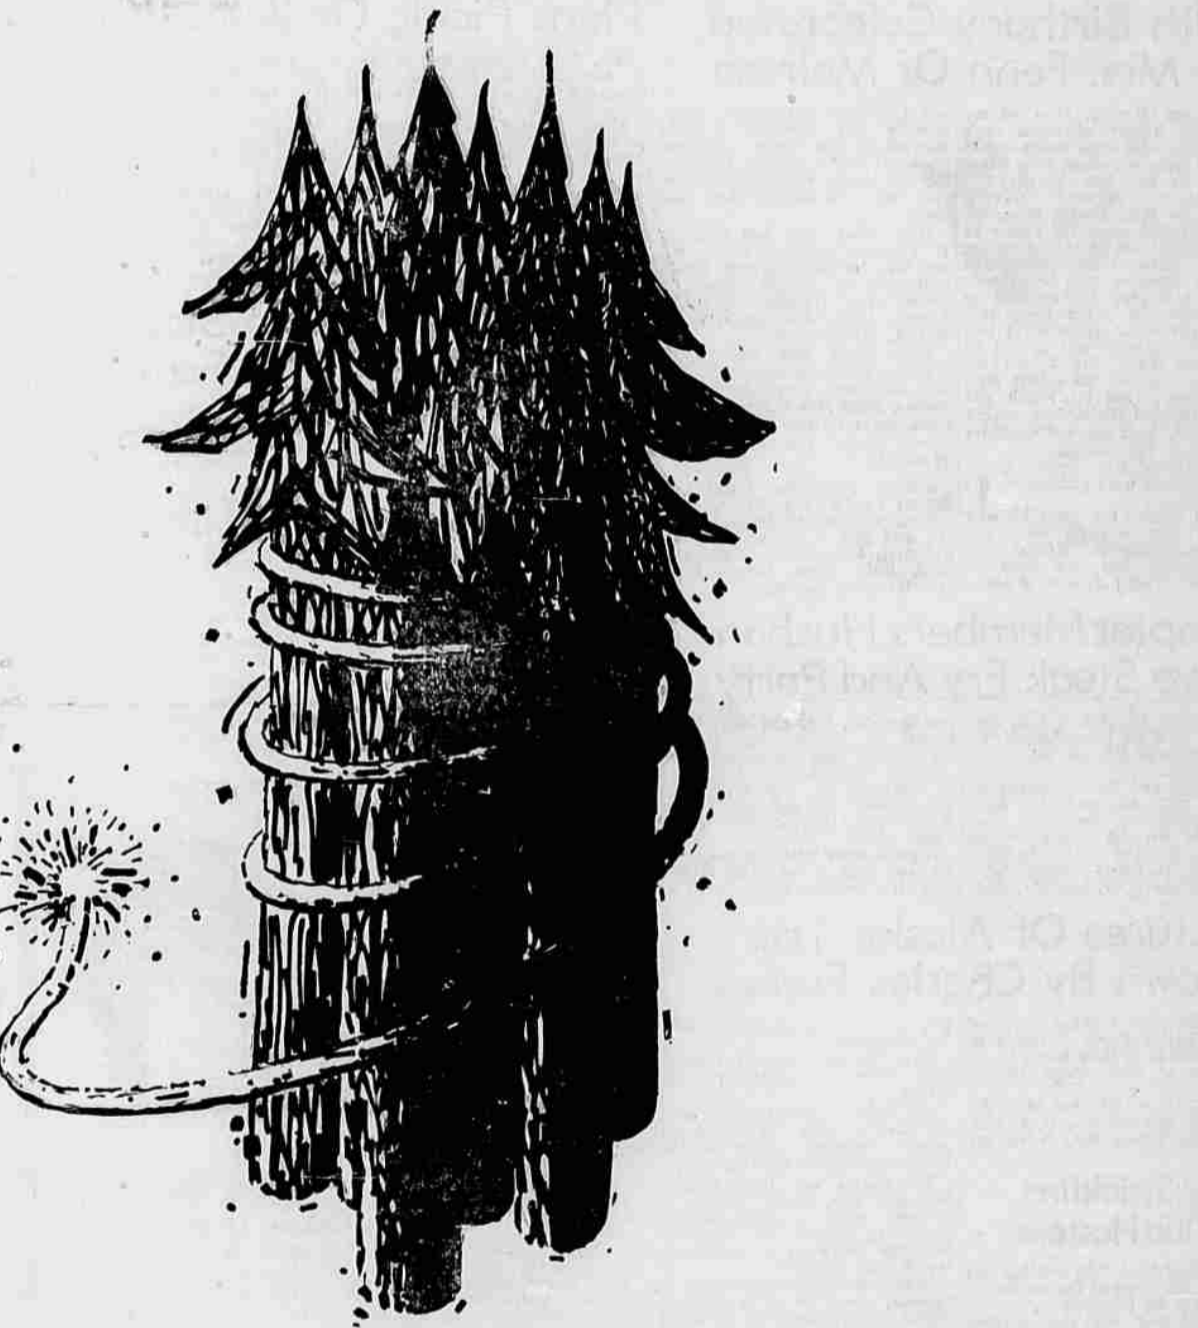

PORTLAND (Special)—Oregon Sports Attractions announced today that the box office opens this week for the professional football games scheduled at Multnomah Stadium later this month. First game pits the San Francisco 49ers against the Minnesota Vikings Saturday night, Aug. 10. Two weeks later, Aug. 24, the Los Angeles Rams clash with the Dallas Cowboys. The latter contest features the appearance of Heisman Trophy winner Terry Baker. Tickets will be sold over the counter at OSA headquarters, 519 SW Yamhill. An additional outlet will open next week at the Stadium Ticket Wagon, SW 20th and Morrison. Ticket Manager George Rickles announced that applications from out-of-town fans will continue to be filled by mail.

California Skaters Capture First Place

PORTLAND (UPI)—Mare Parker and Nina Howe of Walnut Creek, Calif., captured first place in the junior dance event of the North American Roller Skating championships before an estimated 4,000 persons Tuesday night. Berger and Karen Hansen of Middletown, N.Y., were second and Ronnie Bryant and Carolyn Dutton of Lancaster, Tex., finished third in the event on the third night of the competition, which runs through Saturday night. Kathryn Kroto of Erie, Pa., took the intermediate ladies' free skating crown with Joan Marie Miller of Pittsfield, Mass., second. In the novice fours freeskating title event, Michael Jacques, Nancy Lou Johnson, Daniel Gilmetti and Linda Gay of Norwood, Mass., finished first.

Schulz Services Held

EUGENE (UPI)—A funeral service was held Tuesday for former University of Oregon football player Irvin F. Schulz. Schulz, 34, was captain and guard on the 1931 Oregon grid squad. He also played in 1929 and 1930. A spokesman for the university said the Irvin Schulz Football Scholarship Fund would be established in his memory. Schulz was in the automotive business here for many years.

The woods are ready to explode!

More than ever before, good weather this summer means extreme fire danger. Tons of tinder-dry blow-down are stacked deep within Pacific Northwest forests—the result of last year's disastrous Columbus Day wind storms. Much of the windfall is now approaching the condition known as "red slash." It's ready to explode into fire. All it will take is the slightest spark from any source, a hot match or glowing cigarette, or a carelessly handled camp fire. Wide areas of public and private forest lands are threatened. If a fire starts in last year's blow-down, whole communities could be burned out. As a result, every precaution possible is being taken to reduce the danger. Regular seasonal fire closures have been broadened to include some lands previously open to the public. These closures will run through September if necessary. Your help is needed. Wherever you go in the woods, please accept the responsibility for fire prevention in the areas you use. Remember. The kind of fire that never has a chance to start is the fire that's easiest to control. Whenever possible stay in established camping areas. Observe the rules. Build fires only where facilities are provided for them. If everybody does the same, it will be possible to prevent a major fire disaster this year.
