Mary Ann Welty Now Mrs. Hanley

A lovely event of July 27 was the wedding of Mary Ann Welty of Roseburg, the 10 a.m. single ring ceremony was held at St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church in Sutherlin, the Rev. J. J. Linehan officiating.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Welty of Wilbur. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hanley of Roseburg.

Church decorations included baskets of gladioli, fern and baby's breath at the altar. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Lewis Bintliff, close friend of the bride's family.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage, was charming in her white floor-length gown. Her silk veil was caught by a satin-covered clasp, designed and made by Mrs. Jack Morgan, sister of the bride. Pink carnations topped her mother's mother-of-pearl-covered prayer book which she carried.

Dressed in light blue taffeta street-length dresses were the bride's attendants: Barbara Welty, sister of the bride, as maid of honor; and bridesmaids Margaret Begley and Eileen Welty, another sister. Their hats were made of light blue net and flowers. Their slippers and gloves were white, and their bouquets were of white carnations.

Best man was Orville Gaylor. Ushering the guests were Ralph E. Rudzik of Albany and Jack Morgan, brothers-in-law of the bride.

The bride's mother was attractive in beige with matching accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore pink with white accessories and had a corsage of white carnations.

Wash. kept the guest book, and Mrs. William Welty had charge of the gift table. Mrs. Wayne Lillie, sister of the bride, poured coffee. Another sister, Mrs. Ralph Rudzik, cut and served the cake. The punch was served by Mrs. Tommy Davis.

The reception following the wedding was held in the Community Building in Sutherlin. Vases of vari-colored gladioli formed the floral decorations.

The couple left on a honeymoon at the coast, the bride wearing a beige and brown suit with white accessories and a white carnation corsage. The newlyweds are now at home at Shannon Courts in Wilbur.

Both young people attended Roseburg High School. The bridegroom is employed at Evans Products. Coming from out of town for the wedding were Mrs. Mary E. Dear Abby!

"Grapes Of Wrath"

By ABIGAIL VANBUREN

DEAR ABBY: I'm surprised at you. I usually agree with your answers, but that letter about the little four-year-old taking one grape at the grocery store amazed me. Are YOU agreeing with that busybody who saw it and said, "He'll be stealing cars at 16?" Let me quote Dr. Spock: "When small children take things that don't belong to them, it isn't stealing. They don't have a clear sense of what belongs to them and what doesn't." Besides, a grocery store is no place to discipline a child. She should have waited until they got home, and then explained why he shouldn't have taken the grape. You must never humiliate a child by reprimanding him in front of others.

STEADY READER

DEAR READER: Sorry, I don't speak Spock. If a child of four doesn't know what he sees displayed at a grocery store doesn't belong to him, the time to teach him is when he starts to help himself. I realize that public reprimand is doubly hard for a child to bear, but for some reason, those are the lessons they seem to remember longest.

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the young mother who didn't want to make a scene over one grape interested me. No scene is necessary if you start with the first grape. Several months ago, while marketing with my 3 1/2-year-old son, I noticed he was eating a cookie to which he had helped himself. I quietly led him to the cashier and asked him to apologize for taking that which did not belong to him. Then I insisted on "paying" for it. Believe it or not I had to make faces at the cashier over my child's head to get her to cooperate with me. She was ready to assume the "Oh, that's all right, forget it," attitude. It's difficult for mothers to teach their children complete honesty without the cooperation of others.

MRS. C. C. R.

DEAR ABBY: The "grape" story reminded me that we are never too young (or too old) to learn a lesson in honesty. When my husband and I were newlyweds, in 1937, things were rough. We were treating ourselves to a "movie" — the first in many months. My husband bought the tickets and as we were getting seated, he whispered in my ear, "Oh, boy! The cashier gave me change for a TEN, and I only gave her a one!" I turned to him and said, "Is your integrity worth only nine dollars?" He walked back, called the cashier's attention to her error and returned to me. Then he squeezed my hand and said, "Thank you, dear. I needed that lesson!"

PROUD

DEAR ABBY: About the young mother whose child ate a stolen grape from the grocery counter: She should have taught the child never to eat fruit unless it had been washed first. No wonder there is so much sickness in the world. There is more harm in eating unwashed fruit than in stealing. It says in the Bible, "Cleanliness is next to Godliness," you know.

ANOTHER MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: True, all fruit should be washed before eating. But it is equally important that the fruit should be paid for first! "Cleanliness is next to Godliness" is NOT a quote from the Bible — but "Thou shalt not steal" is.
