WASHINGTON (UPI) — Believers in Krebiozen, the "anti-cancer" serum, planned to resume their stand before the White House today, hopeful of some sign that President Kennedy would heed their pleas.

Pierre Salinger, the President's press secretary, said late Tuesday he would "look into" the matter.

The American Medical Association (AMA) has categorically labeled the drug "worthless."

Law requires that "plans for investigational use" be filed with the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for every drug under experimental use. Drs. Stevan Durovic and Andrew C. Ivy, Chicago, sponsors of Krebiozen, at first complied with this requirement, then withdrew their plan charging the FDA with harassment.

Their action meant that Krebiozen no longer could be sent through interstate commerce. Persons using the drug were faced with the choice of moving to Illinois or abandoning the treatment.

About 200 of them, some en route to Chicago and many wearing the symbolic black of mourning, appeared before the White House Tuesday in support of their plea. They also picketed the Health Education and Welfare Department.

Youngster Admits Burglary Of Home

A 15-year-old Roseburg boy suspected of stealing $430 from an area residence last Friday has been turned over to the Douglas County Juvenile Department.

Sheriff's officers said the boy admitted a burglary at the William H. Greenfield home at 1072 Keasey Road Friday night.

Missing from the home were a candy box containing silver dollars totaling $370 and a paper sack containing $60 in change. The youth indicated he also helped himself to some bottled beverages.

Entry was made through a laundry room rear door.

Investigating officers said the boy recounted that he later hitchhiked south on Interstate Highway 5, stopping at several stores and service stations along the way to exchange the silver money for paper.

Due to the boy's age, his case will be processed in the juvenile court, authorities said.

Reclamation Engineer Visits Douglas County

John F. Mangan, new area engineer for the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, was a visitor in Douglas County last week.

Ben Irving, Water Resources Survey engineer, said Mangan, a former engineer at Spokane, Wash., went up the South Umpqua to the Tiller area and also visited the proposed Olalla project.

Irving said a drilling crew is making core drills of the proposed pump sites, starting at Days Creek. This work is being done in connection with the feasibility study in the Roseburg division.

Irving advised that those who have not been contacted as to whether or not they want irrigation water from the South Umpqua should contact their district chairman or water office to obtain a questionnaire.

Mangan said he would push the preliminary aspects as fast as possible. Accompanying the official here was George Van Santan, also of the Bureau of Reclamation.
