WASHINGTON (UPI) — The first important congressional civil rights skirmish is over, but it may be many weeks before the real winner is known.

On the record, the House rejected an anti-discrimination amendment to a vocational education bill Tuesday and then went on to pass overwhelmingly the measure which more than triples federal aid for job training schools.

WIVES OF STRIKING U. S. Plywood Corp. workers at Roseburg decided a woman's touch might speed bargaining negotiations in the current woodworker strike. Mrs. Lynn Fleschman, seated, spearheaded a petition campaign rallying wives of idled workers in an appeal to the "Big Six" bargaining spokesmen. Other women in picture are wives who supported the move. They are, left to right, Mrs. Doyle Crawford, Mrs. Lowell Brown and Mrs. Percy Ligon, all Roseburg.

Petition From Wives Of Lumber Workers Asks Fair Settlement Of Strike Issues

A petition signed by over 100 wives of idled U. S. Plywood Corp. workers at Roseburg was on its way Tuesday to Lowery Wyatt, spokesman for the "Big Six" bargaining group.

The petition urged Wyatt to "use all the available power of (his) office to hasten a fair settlement of the existing strike."

Mrs. Lynn Fleschman of Roseburg got the petition under way and wrote the letter.

"This settlement should include a reasonable pay increase," the letter states. "We feel that in the face of the huge profits made by U. S. Plywood Corp. while our husbands' income has remained at a standstill, that the 33½ cents per hour (pay increase) asked by Harverson Nelson, IWA (International Woodworkers of America) is little enough. We also want the assurance that we and our children will have our husbands and fathers with us on the hereafter accepted weekends. In other words, we want our families together on the days the children do not attend school."

"The family is the basic unit upon which our nation rests," the letter continues. "The requests of the management involved in this controversy would serve only to hasten the dissolution of our most necessary fundamental of our civilization. Our men have stated they will not return to work at the expense of their families."

"We want you to know that we wives of our union husbands know all the issues at stake and again urge you to use your heart and skill in effecting a fair wage settlement so that we may have our husbands back on the job with a decent raise in wages and continue to have them with us on weekends."

Honolulu Papers Resume Editions

HONOLULU (UPI) — Metropolitan newspapers returned to Hawaii this morning for the first time since the start of the June 21 newspaper strike.

First to be published was the Honolulu Advertiser, which went from its customary 30 pages to 40 pages. Much of the extra space was filled with reviews of everything from local and national news to synopses of comic strips missed during the strike.

The Honolulu Star-Bulletin, an afternoon paper, was expected to follow its rival by only a few hours.

The strike formally ended on Saturday with the signing of a memorandum of agreement covering three-year contracts for the seven striking unions.

The contracts provided for wage increases of $5 a week and fringe benefits.

Computers May Prevent Thalidomide Disasters

OXFORD, England (UPI) — Computers may help save babies' lives and prevent "such disasters" as resulted from thalidomide, a leading doctor said today.

Dr. J. L. McCallum, British Medical Association council member, in a lecture prepared for a liberal party summer school, said "we shall be able to use computers for storing information about the use of drugs."

"The collection of statistics and the use of computers may well prevent any such disasters again," he said.

Another Southern City Lowers Racial Barriers Sans Incident

By United Press International
Merchants lowered racial bars without incident in another Southern city Tuesday.

Lunch counters at 12 retail stores in downtown Baton Rouge, La., and in two big suburban shopping centers were desegregated with advance notice. Negroes were served quietly at the stores during the noon lunch period.

Picketing continued, however, at Baton Rouge's segregated public swimming pool and Negro leaders have asked a federal judge for an early hearing of a suit aimed at desegregation of the city's park and recreation facilities.

Police arrested 138 Negro demonstrators at Athens, Ga., Tuesday for parading without a permit. Officers said 97 of the group were juveniles who were turned over to juvenile authorities.

Fifty-five Negroes were arrested at Sumter, S.C., for marching in the downtown area without a parade permit. All but 16 of this group were juveniles.

At New York, around 40 demonstrators left their picket lines at a Brooklyn construction site and filled up seats in the only restaurant in the area in a move designed to keep workmen from getting lunch. The pickets are protesting alleged job hiring discrimination on city construction projects.

Racial tensions appear to have eased in Chicago where white crowds have staged unruly demonstrations in a recently integrated neighborhood on the city's South Side.

Elsewhere in the nation: Danville, Va.—Six civil rights demonstrators were to go on trial here today on a charge of violating an anti-protest injunction. Four more demonstrators were arrested on Danville's main street Tuesday under a permanent injunction issued Aug. 2 prohibiting anti-segregation demonstrations.

Washington—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) has withdrawn its request for federal delay in granting funds to Norfolk, Va., educational television facilities. The NAACP said it wanted to make sure the facilities would not promote discrimination in the areas.

Detroit—Negroes today planned to picket the riverfront home of the United Auto Workers Union and the General Motors headquarters protesting alleged racial discrimination at a Chevrolet plant.

Tampa, Fla.—Two more Hillsborough County public schools will be integrated this fall by 14 students, all children of Negro personnel living at MacDill Air Force Base.

Elizabeth, N.J.—Five Negro pickets were arrested Tuesday when they tried to block the entrance to a construction site in protest against alleged union hiring bias.
