

Sharlene West Becomes Bride

Now making their home in St. Louis, Mo., are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Barrett, who were married in Roseburg at the First Baptist Church June 23. More than 200 guests were present for the ceremony.

The bride is the former Sharlene West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack West of Roseburg. The bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Edward J. Barrett of St. Louis.

Officiating at the ceremony were Dr. Barrett and Dr. Eugene Gerlitz.

Orchids from Hawaii dominated the church decorations. The bride and bridegroom met in Hawaii and the island flowers were used as a sentimental gesture.

Helen Hanford was pianist. Soloists were Ruth Edwards, who sang "The Pledge," "I Love the Prayer" and "How Do I Love Thee?"

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore white organza with detailing of elaborate embroidery. Her flowers were three large white orchids surrounded by smaller Vanda orchids.

Carrying orchid leis were the bride's attendants. The matron of honor, Mrs. Wayne Case of Portland, wore orchid crystalite. Blue crystalite was worn by the bridesmaids: Mrs. Ross Webb of Portland, Virginia Ward of California and Mrs. Fred Jacobs of Seattle, Wash.

Flower girls were Pixie and Dixie Bonebrake, twin sisters. The girls carried white carnation leis which were exchanged by the bride and bridegroom at the service.

Acting as best man was Stan Barrett of St. Louis, the bridegroom's brother. Ushers were Bill Farmer of St. Louis, Bob Edwards of San Mateo, Calif., Fred Jacobs of Seattle and Wayne Case of Portland.

Candlelighters were Vicki West and Preston Barrett.

Mrs. T. L. Goodwin and Mrs. John William Robertson helped with the church decorations.

Mothers of the bride and bridegroom both wore blue leis with orchid corsages. Grandmothers of the couple also wore orchids.

Orchids were used in decorations at the reception held at the home

DEAR ABBY: Our son, married only four years, phoned us yesterday to say his wife never wanted to see us or hear from us again. The reason: She doesn't like my loud laughter or "affectionate ways." My son says his first duty is to his wife. Must a son forsake his parents to prove his love for his wife? Last Mother's Day I broke down in a flood of tears because there was no card or call from them. Dad tried to console me, but on Father's Day he cried like a baby because he was forgotten, too. They have two darling babies which they always take to see the other grandparents. They never come to us. Have other parents gone through this? Must we forget our son or what?

HURT PARENTS

DEAR HURT: Yes, many other parents have "gone through this." You can't force your love on your son or on his wife, and you shouldn't try. The immature and embittered daughter-in-law is your son's problem. Best that you ignore both of them until he shows what he can, or will, do—if anything.

DEAR ABBY: When a man proposes to you, cold sober, and then doesn't do anything about it, can he be sued for breach of promise? Do I need witnesses? If so, how many? Please don't tell me to see a lawyer—he is one. Thank you.

JILTED

DEAR JILTED: See ANOTHER lawyer. This time for professional reasons.

DEAR ABBY: I am 68 and Albert is 76, and we have been married 51 years. I have never had any trouble with him until just lately. There is this young, good looking, blonde-headed neighbor woman across the alley and she can't be over 25. She takes sun baths in her back yard every morning, and my Old Man has suddenly decided he is going to go in our back yard and pull weeds. There ARE no weeds, and if there were he'd ask me to pull them because he's got a bum back. I don't want him to think I am jealous, so I haven't said anything to him. Maybe I should. What do you think?

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Don't worry. It takes two to tango. Besides, if Albert's back is too "bum" for wedding, he's not about to tango.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "DALLAS GIRL:" Your problem is neither as serious nor as unusual as you imagine it to be. Many married women wonder about the same thing. I urge you to discuss it frankly with your family doctor.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby, Box 3363, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
