

Heart Attack Claims Senate Crime Buster

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., former farm boy whose lifelong dream was to become president, died today of a massive heart attack.

The 60-year-old senator, with the trademark of a coonskin cap, who twice unsuccessfully sought the Democratic presidential nomination, died "quickly and peacefully" at nearby Bethesda, Md., Naval Hospital at 3:40 a.m. EDT associates said.

Kefauver had entered the hospital late Thursday for treatment of what at first was believed to be a severe attack of indigestion. Tests Friday brought a diagnosis of a mild heart attack.

However, additional tests disclosed that the condition was more serious, even though Kefauver apparently experienced no additional increase in pain. Doctors discovered that he had suffered a rupture of an inner wall of the aorta, the main vessel through which the heart pumps blood to all parts of the body.

Before an operation could be arranged to repair the damage, a fatal rupture of the entire wall of the aorta occurred.

The death of Kefauver, who never attained his presidential ambitions but nevertheless won a wide reputation as a senatorial crimebuster and battler for other causes, stunned leaders of Congress. Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said it is "a very big loss to the Congress." Republican Leader Everett Dirksen said he was very distressed at the news.

The tall Tennesseean was elected by a booming majority in 1960 to a third Senate term in what had been predicted as a close race because of his votes for some civil rights legislation. His big win was correctly seen by Democratic leaders as boding good for their side in the subsequent presidential elections.

Kefauver experienced bitter disappointment both in 1952 and 1956 when he tried and failed to attain a shot at the goal he set for himself as a high school youth—the presidency. He was beaten by Adlai Stevenson both times for the Democratic presidential nomination.

He gunned for the vice presidential nomination after Stevenson won top spot in 1956, and won the second place in a tough but

SEN. ESTES KEFAUVER
heart attack victim
died from then Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Fast Action Nips Umpqua Forest Fires

Severe lightning storms struck the Umpqua National Forest Friday causing at least two fires.

The first fire reported was four miles north of Diamond Lake and was brought under control before covering more than a quarter of an acre. The second fire was also quickly controlled, reported Don Tandy, Diamond Lake District Ranger.

Tandy said that two separate storms hit the Diamond Lake District Friday. The first struck at 1 p.m. and lasted two and a half hours, with the second striking at 6 and lasting until 8, according to Glide correspondent Mrs. Arthur Seby.

The fire control officers and crews of the Forest Service are on alert because of the extreme fire danger.

The Forest Service is planning an air check of the area this morning in anticipation of more lightning strikes. Considerable rain accompanied the lightning storm, and officials report that fires may show up for a period of a week or more.

More lightning is expected in the Diamond Lake District tonight.

Meanwhile, three minor grass fires, the largest covering three acres, kept the Douglas Forest Protective Association crews busy Friday.

Early Friday morning a call was received from Melrose where an electric fence was blamed for starting a blaze four miles west of Melrose. The fire covered a quarter acre of grass and brush before being controlled by the DFFPA crews. The Roseburg crew answered the call.

Children playing with fire was allegedly the cause of a three acre grass fire three-quarters of a mile north of Tenmile at noon. The Tenmile Warden and the Roseburg crew of the DFFPA controlled the blaze.

A third grass fire Friday was caused by sparks from a mill burner just north of Glendale at 5:12 p.m. The small blaze was quickly doused by the Clines Creek crew of the DFFPA after burning a tenth of an acre in grass and sawdust.

Weekend Rail Meetings Set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government mediators scheduled weekend meetings in an effort to settle the deadlocked railroad work rules dispute.

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz met separately Friday with heads of the engineers' and firemen's unions in a determined bid to see if the rail brotherhoods would make additional concessions on the fireman issue.

Assistant Labor Secretary James J. Reynolds conducted bargaining between the railroad negotiators and representatives of the trainmen, conductors and switchmen involved in the dispute over crew sizes.

It was understood the two groups meeting with Reynolds were at an impasse in the negotiations.

The Labor Department officials are hoping to produce some proposal before Tuesday for consideration by the 156 general chairmen of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

This group was summoned to Washington at Wirtz's request to be on hand in case any agreement was reached.

A Labor Department spokesman said Wirtz would meet today with the railroads, and Reynolds would confer with the five unions involved at the same time.

There was no government comment on the day's sessions, but chief management negotiator J. E. Wolfe declared there was "absolutely no progress."

Unions have threatened a nationwide rail strike if new rules are put into effect Aug. 29.

Idaho Escapee Is Back After 2-Year Absence

BOISE (UPI) —Blaine Garvin, 23, was back in the Ada County jail today after nearly two years of unapproved freedom.

Garvin walked away from the county jail in August of 1961 following his arrest on a charge of violating probation granted him on a second degree burglary charge.

He recently was traced to a lumber mill at Grants Pass, Ore., and an Ada deputy returned him from there Friday.

Project Is Dedicated

KLAMATH FALLS (UPI) —The Klamath Project Extension, a $818,550 irrigation project, was dedicated Friday.

Sen. Wayne Morse and Rep. Al Ullman, both D-Ore., and Floyd Dornay, commissioner of the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, appeared at the dedication ceremonies.

Paper Says Government Owes Oregon $500,000 For Old Wars

SALEM (UPI) —The Salem Capital Journal said today the federal government still owes the state of Oregon nearly $500,000 for state expenditures during the Civil War and two Indian campaigns in the 1870s.

The newspaper said Oregon Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton will investigate to see whether the claims still could be collected.

The newspaper said the state still has claims pending for $390,000 in bonus pay and bounties paid by the state to Oregon Militiamen who were mustered into federal service at Pacific Northwest Indian posts during the Civil War.

An additional $52,000 is claimed from state expenditures during the Modoc Indian War in 1872-1873 and $21,000 from the Umatilla Indian War of 1878.

The Capital Journal said the Civil War claim, resulting from two bond issues passed by the Oregon Legislature in 1864, were approved in part by the U.S. Court of Claims in 1969, but that Congress never appropriated the money.

The claims for the two Indian campaigns were filed in 1911.

They seek additional monies refused by the federal government in original settlement of the states Indian war claims.

The militia said the state troops were mustered during the Civil War after all federal army units were called back to the east coast from the Northwest stations.

The enlistment bounty of $150 a man and the bonus pay was authorized by the legislature at the urging of army officials when state authorities found it impossible to fill the recruiting quota set by the war department.

Some 1,810 Oregon Militiamen were stationed at posts in Oregon, Washington and Idaho between 1861 and 1866. Although no Oregon units ever participated in campaigns against Confederate Army troops, they played a key role in suppressing Indian uprisings.

California Attorney General Stanley Mosk last January laid siege on the federal capital for some $7.5 million California claims owed for state expenses during the Civil War.

The Weather

SALEM (UPI) —The Salem Capital Journal said today the federal government still owes the state of Oregon nearly $500,000 for state expenditures during the Civil War and two Indian campaigns in the 1870s.

Mostly fair through Sunday, except for showers in the mountains.
Highest temp. last 24 hours	83
Lowest temp. last 24 hours	62
Highest temp. any Aug. (6)	103
Lowest temp. any Aug. (56)	41
Precip. last 24 hours	4
Precip. from Aug. 1	0.7
Normal Aug. Precip.	3.31
Normal Precip. 9-1 to 8-1	32.72
Precip. from Sept. 1	35.05
Sunset tonight, 8:24 p.m. PDT
Sunrise tomorrow, 6:14 a.m. PDT

Rusk Reassures Germans

Sunday Big Entry Day For Exhibits At Fair

Sunday is the major entry day for exhibits in the 1963 Douglas County Fair.

Articles will be received at the Douglas County Fairgrounds from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday for food preservation, textiles, art, photography, ceramics, hobbies and crafts and gems and minerals.

Fair Manager Bert Allenby emphasized that all entries in those departments will close at 4 p.m., and no others will be accepted.

Meanwhile, Tuesday is scheduled for entries in fruits, vegetables, baked goods and livestock. Again the hours will be from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Finally, floral entries should be brought in between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Wednesday, the day the fair opens.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY, center; his brother, Robert, left; and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Hugh Auchincloss, right, leave Cardinal Cushing's residence in Boston, Mass., Saturday after Mass for the President's son Patrick Bouvier. They are shown en route to the cemetery. (UPI Telephoto)

Unions, 3 TOC Firms OK Pact

PORTLAND (UPI) — Representatives of two striking lumber unions and three members of the Timber Operators Council reached agreement on a three-year contract Friday afternoon.

The pact between the International Woodworkers of America and the Lumber and Sawmill Workers unions and the Willamette Valley Lumber Co., Santiam Lumber Co. and Pope and Talbot, Inc., must be ratified by the unions' members in a referendum vote.

The three companies withdrew their bargaining authorization from the TOC and did their own negotiating.

Karl Glos, head of the 196-member employees' bargaining group, said "We may be approaching the end of this thing."

The proposed pact calls for a 30 1/2-cent hourly raise in wages and benefits during the next three years.

3 Indicted For Boycott

Macon, Ga. (UPI) — A federal grand jury has indicted three integration leaders on charges they conspired to run a white grocer out of business because he voted against a Negro in a civil rights law suit.

The three companies withdrew their bargaining authorization from the TOC and did their own negotiating.

Karl Glos, head of the 196-member employees' bargaining group, said "We may be approaching the end of this thing."

The proposed pact calls for a 30 1/2-cent hourly raise in wages and benefits during the next three years.

Riddle Girl To Reign Over Area Festival

A pretty girl from Riddle was named Friday night as this year's queen of the Myrtle Creek Fall Festival.

She is Carol Johnson, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Johnson of Riddle. Besides having the fun of reigning over festival events, Carol will have $150 in gift certificates to spend. These were provided by merchants in Myrtle Creek, Canyonville, Riddle and Tri-City.

Included in the queen's court are Nadine McKinnis, who received $100 in gift certificates; Karen Steinhauer, $75; Charlene Wilson, $50; and Linda Graves, $25.

Dance Held

Carol was chosen following Friday night's band concert and pre-

Private Mass Held For Kennedy Infant

BOSTON (UPI) — An anguished President Kennedy bade a touching farewell to his infant son today during a simple graveside service that followed a Mass of the Angels.

The Chief Executive remained behind for a moment at the graveside after the actual services were over.

The President walked to the side of the tiny white coffin and with his head bowed placed his hand on the top for a moment. After a few seconds, the President followed the other mourners to the waiting cars.

The graveside services took less than 10 minutes and the presidential party then returned to the nearby residence of Richard Cardinal Cushing who said the Mass in his private chapel.

Only close members of the Kennedy family were at the Mass and the graveside services. The burial was in the family plot in suburban Brookline, the town where the President was born.

After the services, the President and his party boarded their helicopter and returned to Cape Cod.

At Otis Air Force Base on Cape Cod, Mrs. Kennedy was reported resting quietly. She was taking the death of the child "very well" according to members of the family.

She was unable to attend the services for the infant who died just 39 hours after his birth Wednesday. She is recuperating from the Caesarean birth.

The Mass was in the cardinal's private chapel and was conducted in strict privacy. The prelate wore all-white vestments, a symbol of the innocent character of the deceased and his acceptance into heaven, according to Catholic belief.

After the services, an eight-car cortege went from the cardinal's residence to nearby Holyhood Cemetery. The trip took only about six minutes.

With the Chief Executive in one car were Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Mrs. Kennedy's mother, Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss. Other members of the family were in the cars that followed.

About 100 persons stood outside the cemetery gates as the cortege arrived. No one was allowed on the grounds.

The child was buried in a family plot which had never been used before.

7000 Still Out

The return of the workers at Santiam, Pope and Talbot and Georgia-Pacific operations would leave an estimated 7,000 men out of work in the 67-day-old Pacific Northwest lumber strike.

Still struck were S. Regis Paper Co. and U.S. Plywood Co., both members of the Big Six employers' bargaining association, and some smaller firms, who are members of the TOC, in Oregon, Washington and California.

Some 14,000 men returned to work this week at four Big Six companies, which ended a lock-out. The lockout came June 7, two days after the unions struck the two other Big Six firms.

Representatives of the unions and the Big Six were scheduled to meet in a negotiating session here Monday afternoon. No talks were scheduled between the unions and TOC.

Boys Admit Setting Fire That Destroyed Building

PORT ORCHARD, Wash. (UPI) — Two teen-age boys admitted Friday they started the fire which destroyed two warehouses and an unoccupied building here Wednesday.

The boys, 16 and 17, told police and county juvenile authorities they entered the Peninsula Feed Co. warehouse and lit cigarettes. The blaze started when they tossed a match away.

The fire destroyed the feed warehouse, the Rice Electric Co. warehouse and the unoccupied building formerly used by a gunsmith. Electrical appliances stored in the electrical firm's warehouse were destroyed along with two trucks and 86 tons of hay in the feed warehouse.

Total damage was estimated at about $100,000.

Accidents Claim Four Oregonians

By United Press International

Four persons died in separate accidents in Oregon Friday.

Gary Jones, 15, Salem, drowned while swimming in the Willamette River near Salem.

Roland Golz, 41, Eugene, was electrocuted while working on a Portland General Electric Co. line five miles north of Sandy.

Lewis Allyn, 59, watermaster of Lexington, was killed in a one-car accident on State Highway 74 near Heppner.

William Dabney, 20, Vancouver, Wash., died when he was struck by a freight truck in a parking lot in Portland.

West Berliners Concerned Over Kremlin Chats

BONN (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk flew here today from Moscow to reassure apprehensive West German leaders that the United States will protect their interests in its negotiations with the Kremlin.

Rusk's special jetliner landed here at 12:15 p.m. after a four-hour flight from Moscow. The secretary talked for 10 minutes with Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko just before leaving the Soviet capital, but neither man would say what they discussed.

Rusk left the plane briefly during a 20-minute stopover in Copenhagen, but did not talk to newsmen. U.S. ambassador to Denmark William M. Blair Jr. said the secretary did not want to delay his departure.

The secretary told Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder, who met him at the airport, that he would give German officials a full report on his talks with Gromyko and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

"I am confident that the many questions raised here will be fully taken care of in these (Senate) hearings (on the recently signed nuclear-test treaty), and that they will be made a matter of record," Rusk said.

The secretary will spend most of the day and evening conferring with Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard, who is slated to succeed Adenauer in October, is expected to sit in on Rusk's talks with the chancellor.

Rusk comes here at the invitation of Schroeder, who is seeking support for his argument that West Germany ought to sign the partial nuclear test-ban treaty.

Schroeder wants Rusk to reassure Adenauer that the Communists will be unable to use the international status of Communist East Germany.

The secretary of West Germany's three major political parties will join Adenauer and Rusk at dinner tonight.

Rusk returned Friday night to Moscow from the Black Sea Coast where he met Khrushchev for talks which ranged over a variety of problems.

Although Rusk said no conclusions were reached, Western diplomats said the secretary of state gained the impression that the Russians want to "mark a time" before negotiating a cold-war settlement.

'Copter Misfire Fatal For Girl

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — The U.S. Army today investigated the killing of a Vietnamese child by an American helicopter gunner whose machine gun accidentally was triggered by an entangled communications cord.

A U.S. military spokesman said the offense could lead to a court martial, but he indicated this was not likely.

The gunner, whose identity was withheld, was hospitalized with shock, the spokesman said.

The accidental strafing in a strategic hamlet north of Saigon also wounded four other persons. None was in critical condition.

The strafing took place Thursday as the villagers were preparing for ceremonies Friday in which the hamlet was named after outgoing U.S. Ambassador Frederick Nolting Jr. Nolting soon will be replaced by Henry Cabot Lodge.

Another unfortunate accident related to the ceremony happened Friday morning when a Vietnamese girl was struck and injured by a jeep. U.S. military officials said the jeep belonged to the Vietnamese army.

The shooting incident occurred as the U.S. helicopter was bringing supplies into the village, one of many protected hamlets set up by the government as a form of safety against Communist guerrilla attacks. The helicopter was part of the U.S. force stationed in South Viet Nam to help the government against Communist penetration.

Officials said a cord used for inter-communications among the copter's crewmen got tangled and tripped the trigger of the machine gun. The gun fired several rounds into the crowd of children and other persons watching the helicopter land.

In the jeep accident, American officials said, the girl suffered a broken arm and head injuries, and was taken to a hospital at Nhatrang, south of the strategic hamlet.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman previous press reports that the girl was struck by a jeep carrying Nolting to the hamlet. The previous reports had said a boy had been killed by Nolting's vehicle.

The jeep was said to have been part of a convoy of Vietnamese sent to the village to set up security provisions for Nolting's subsequent visit.

Mrs. Kennedy Rests Quietly

OTIS AFB, Mass. (UPI) — First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy remained at the hospital here today while funeral services were held for the son she saw only twice.

Mrs. Kennedy rested quietly and was reported to be taking the blow of the loss of Patrick Bouvier Kennedy "very well" under the sorrowful circumstances.

The President's wife had a very long day Friday filled with drama, pathos and the three visits from the President and visits from close members of her family.

Because of so much excitement Friday, Dr. John W. Walsh, her obstetrician who has been in constant attendance, has ruled a "quiet day for her" today.

The only visitors she is expected to have will be her husband and probably her sister, Princess Lee Radziwill of London, who flew from Greece Friday night to be with her sister.

Friday night was like Grand Central Station at the base hospital with many visitors for the First Lady including her stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss.

"She's really been fabulous," said Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary Pamela Turnure, when asked how the President's wife was taking the death of Patrick.

Miss Turnure said Mrs. Kennedy had not talked by phone to her two children, Caroline, 5 1/2, and John Jr., 2 1/2, but the President has been carrying messages back and forth between the youngsters and their mother.

Kennedy went to the summer White House at Squaw Island following his first consoling visit to Mrs. Kennedy Friday and he broke the news to the children that their baby brother would not be coming home.

Telegrams of condolence have continued to pour in from all over the world. Flowers also were being carried into the base hospital.

The White House said Mrs. Kennedy had a "quiet night and is resting."

Park Director's Tour Will Stop At Diamond Lake

SALEM (UPI) — Oregon's state parks will be inspected by National Parks Service Director Conrad Wirth next week.

Wirth and representatives of three other federal agencies will accompany the State Parks and Recreation Advisory Committee and State Highway Department officials on the three day trip starting Monday.

Other federal agencies which will have representatives on the tour include the Bureau of Land Management, U.S. Forest Service and Bureau of Outdoor Recreation.

The bus tour will begin in Portland and will be routed up the Columbia River Highway.

It will go south to Bend, Crater Lake, Klamath Falls, Grants Pass and end at Medford Wednesday afternoon.

Members will inspect developments at Cove Palisades State Park, the Prineville Reservoir recreational area and overnight camping units under construction in Collier Park, Crater Lake, Valley of the Rogue and Diamond Lake.

CAROL JOHNSON
festival queen