

YACHT SINKING SURVIVORS of the luxury yacht Freedom II are shown on the deck of the submarine Razorback which rescued them from a lifeboat some 600 miles off the coast of California. Skipper of the yacht, retired Vice Adm. Gerald Bogan, is second from left. Picture was taken as the submarine docked at San Diego, Calif.

JURISTS MEET — Justices of the highest courts of the states opened their annual meeting in Chicago this week. Shown seated left to right are Wilfred C. Tsukiyama, Hawaii; William McAllister, Oregon; and James Edwin Livingston, Alabama. Standing are Roy J. Salfisburg, Jr., Illinois; Theodore G. Garfield, Iowa; and Frederick W. Brune, Maryland. McAllister is vice-chairman of the executive council.

NEWLY-ELECTED OFFICERS of the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws are shown at the 86th annual meeting of the American Bar Association in Chicago this week. Left to right, Joseph McKeown, secretary, Coos Bay, Walter B. Malcomb, Pres., Boston, Mass.; Maurice Merrill, vice-president, Norman, Okla.; and Talbot Rain, treasurer, Dallas, Texas. Some 15,000 lawyers, judges and law teachers from throughout the nation and some foreign representatives are attending the meeting.

A BEAR ON MOVIES is shown in action as he appeared to be making movies of the photographer. A visitor to Yellowstone Park was making movies of the scenic wonders when this fellow forced the photographer's retreat. The tables were turned as the bear looked through the finder of the fleeing erstwhile photographer.

TAKE LONG RIDE — A cross country bicycle ride from Knoxville, Tenn., to San Francisco ended for Guy Taylor, left, and Bill Cobble as they pause beneath sign on Market Street Tuesday. The two University of Tennessee students started their trip June 1, making their way through St. Louis, Kansas City, Salt Lake City and finally San Francisco. The two youths will seek other means of transportation back to Knoxville in order to be on time for the fall semester.

SHELTER TEST — A herd of 30 dairy cows and one Guernsey bull got off to a nervous start Tuesday when they were herded into a fallout shelter to begin a test to find out how cows would react to long confinement. Three attendants accompanied the herd into the shelter to begin a two-week stay. The plan is to see how well the cattle survive in the shelter, which the firm built to preserve a milk supply in case of nuclear war. (Note sign at shelter entrance.) The shelter is built to accommodate 200 cows, with facilities for breeding bulls, feed and quarters for attendants.

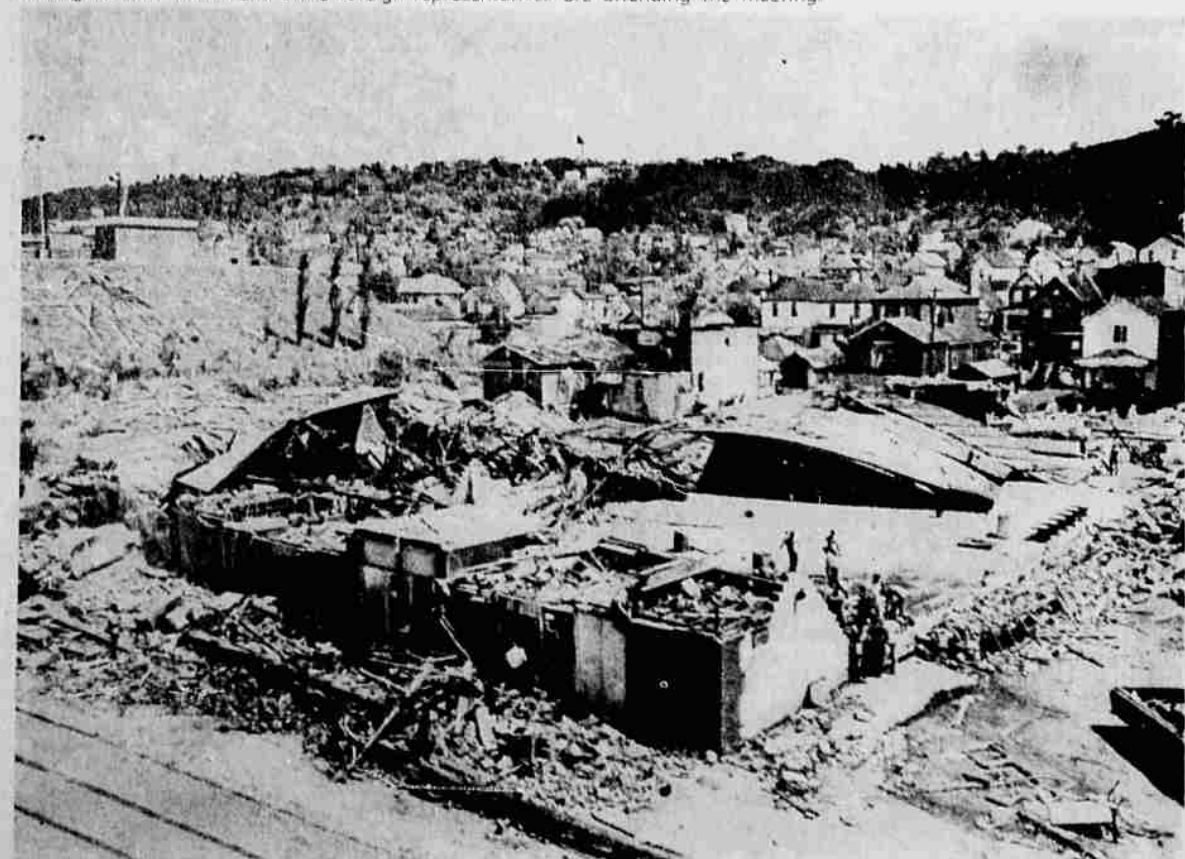

CONVENTION SET — Chairman of the GOP National Committee, William E. Miller, right, and Mayor George Christopher are in smiling agreement as the mayor puts his signature to an enlarged copy of check for $100,000 from the City of San Francisco to the Republican National Committee as part of guarantee in securing the party's presidential convention to this city in 1964. New York Congressman Miller and other GOP Committeemen were present at the mayor's office to sign agreements for the forthcoming convention.

Picture Page

All pictures via UPI Telephoto Service

12 The News-Review, Roseburg, Ore.—Sat., Aug. 10, 1963

WORKMEN CLEAR DEBRIS from what remains of the Glassport Roller Rink which collapsed last weekend near Pittsburgh, Pa., when hit by tornado-like winds of 89 miles-per-hour which ripped through the suburban Pennsylvania town. Police said that 75 persons were injured when the roof fell in.

PARACHUTE FAILS — With a dejected look, Pfc. Tom Gledhill, of the 101st Infantry Division (Miami, Fla.) sits on an unopened parachute that was supposed to have floated his companion, 'The Mule', safely to the ground in an equipment paradrop as part of Swiftstrike III maneuvers. Something went wrong and Gledhill's traveling companion is no more operational, just a maze of tangled steel.