Integrationists Planning More Chicago Siege Activity Today

By United Press International
Integrationists planned another siege today at a mobile school site on Chicago's turbulent South Side where pickets Monday charged police lines in a demonstration that erupted into a rock-hurling brawl.
At least 50 persons were arrested in the demonstration, which stretched out over the day and reached a climax when the pickets charged the police and hurled rocks.
Hard-pressed police threw body-blocks and tackled the demonstrators in attempts to prevent them from hindering workers laying down pipe for an emplacement of the trailer-like classrooms.

At least 50 persons were arrested in the demonstration, which stretched out over the day and reached a climax when the pickets charged the police and hurled rocks.

Hard-pressed police threw body-blocks and tackled the demonstrators in attempts to prevent them from hindering workers laying down pipe for an emplacement of the trailer-like classrooms.

The demonstrators remained at the site late Monday night and promised they would return today.
The scene of frequent demonstrations, the mobile school site is being prepared for the start of public school classes next month.
Integrationists have charged that the classrooms would help further alleged de facto segregation of the city's schools.
A federal judge at Birmingham, Ala., Monday ordered four Negro students admitted to white schools in Huntsville, Ala., in September. District Court Judge H. H. Groom also ordered the school board to submit a plan for complete desegregation by Jan. 1.
It was the third school desegregation ordered in Alabama, one of three southern states including South Carolina and Mississippi which have no integration in public grade schools. The two other cities in the state facing desegregation orders are Birmingham and Mobile.

Other racial developments:
Goldboro, N. C.: About 600 Negroes marched through downtown to protest racial discrimination.

Jersey City, N. J.: A white man accused of killing a teen-age Negro girl with a shotgun after gang fights between whites and Negroes was arraigned on a murder charge.

Jackson, Miss.: Court trials of more than 300 persons arrested during desegregation demonstrations this summer will begin next month and continue until next year, a judge said.

East St. Louis: Police arrested 47 demonstrators who jammed into the First National Bank singing hymns in the lobby and protesting alleged discriminatory job hiring.

Americus, Ga.: Hearings for 70 demonstrators arrested Monday night during protest marches were postponed and rescheduled for later in the week.

Dear Abby! "Mentally" Disturbed!

— By ABIGAIL VANBUREN —

DEAR ABBY: Are you a psychiatrist? If not, what gives you the right to determine whether or not people need professional care in this field? On several occasions you have advised that some friend or relative be examined by a head doctor. I assume you would have all humans conform to one pattern. Did it ever occur to you that some people LIKE being different, and are not mentally disturbed? Take that woman who wears muu mus on the street and likes to talk to bus drivers. Couldn't she simply be trying to show society that we are not all puppets of conformity?

DISTURBED
DEAR DISTURBED: The woman with the muu mus might have been perfectly sound, right up to the point where she was described as "eating tranquilizers like popcorn." Then, I suggested she might need professional help. It is no insult to be directed to a psychiatrist. Furthermore, it's better to see one and NOT need treatment than not to see one and NEED treatment.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 17 years and have three children. My husband left for a fishing trip for a week and when I asked him to give me an address or phone number where I could contact him in case of emergency, he said, "I'll be 'around' Rice Lake, Wisconsin, and if I give you more information you'll find an emergency to call me back and spoil my vacation." What do you say to a man like that?

FED UP
DEAR FED: If what he fears might happen HAS happened, I'd say, "Goodbye, Dear, CALL ME every other night in case I have something to tell you." If it has NEVER happened, send me your name and address and I'll give you another answer.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell "Canoga Park" that the main reason why so few Americans fly flags is: "On the 50 Americans" are never sure if they'll be home by sunset to take in the flag so, rather than show this disrespect to the flag, they do not put it out. TRUE-BLUE AMERICAN CONFIDENTIAL TO "LONG SUFFERING PATTI": Don't give up now. Even a "heel" has his Achilles.

Riddle, Oakland Stops Slated For Bloodmobile

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will make stops in both Riddle and Oakland this week.

Blood donors in the Riddle area are requested to turn out at the Episcopal Parish Hall between the hours of 2:30 and 5:30.

In Oakland the Bloodmobile will be stationed downtown from 3 to 6 p.m. on Friday.

A good turnout is hoped for at both drawings, committee spokesmen state.

Todd's Bid Lowest For Dormitory Job

Todd Building Co. of Roseburg was low bidder for Unit E of the Southern Oregon College campus in bid openings last week. Contract has not yet been awarded.

Todd submitted a base bid of $203,491 for general construction, $31,740 for rooms and kitchen, and a combination bid for the project of $519,567.

The only other bidder was Ausland Construction Co., Grants Pass which offered to do the general construction work for $205,550, and the rooms-kitchen job for $343,400, with no combination bid submitted.

Two Roseburg contractors submitted bids for electrical installations on the two projects, but neither was low. The firms were Madison and Stokes and Ridenour Electric.

The unit will house approximately 100 students and have dining facilities for nearly 400 more.

Railroad Firemen Committee Meets, But No Solution Eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The railroad firemen's union gathered its decision-making committee here today but there was no proposal for it to ratify, nor even a hint of a possible solution to the threatened nationwide rail strike.

The committee was scheduled to meet at 10 a.m. EDT. The 156 general chairmen of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen met after being called to Washington last week at the urgent request of Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz.

At that time Wirtz said it was necessary they be on hand to give immediate approval to any proposal produced by daily negotiations under way at the Labor Department.

But Monday night Wirtz said there was no plan to put before the body, which has the power to make a binding agreement for the firemen's union.

Still Disagree
Wirtz said after a night negotiating session the best he could report was that both sides were discussing new avenues toward possible solution of the four-year-old dispute. But he said "there are still significant issues on which there is disagreement."

"There were different suggestions discussed today," Wirtz said in describing Monday's talks. "Progress? I'd say no."

More union and management discussions were set for today. Wirtz said these discussions have consisted of consideration of different approaches to settling the dispute that have been tried in the past.

The discussions were being conducted against an Aug. 29 deadline.

FEELING GINGER
KINGSTON, England (UPI) — Seventy-year-old John Allison was given a conditional release Monday after pleading guilty to being drunk at 7 a.m. and playing "ginger-bread" — knocking on doors and running away.

line, when the railroads plan to put into effect work rule changes eliminating more than 35,000 jobs. Such action would trigger a nationwide strike by five unions.

Two Main Issues
Dropping of firemen on diesel engines and the size of train crews are the two main issues. The engineers and firemen's unions are in one negotiating group working on the firemen's issue, and the conductors, brakemen and switchmen are in another group discussing the crew size issue.

Both sides have accepted a Wirtz proposal that they discuss possible solutions in terms of a two- or three-year contract for both major issues.

The House and Senate commerce committees were marking time waiting to see how the Wirtz-directed talks come out before pushing further with President Kennedy's proposed legislation to turn the dispute over to the Interstate Commerce Commission for settlement.

Exchange Of Views Due In Arms Meet

GENEVA (UPI) — Delegates to the 17-nation disarmament conference today settled down to a general "exchange of views" and to await the United Nations session next month for the next major move on arms.

The United States and Russia told the conference Monday an effort will be made to follow up the partial nuclear test ban treaty when the U.S., Soviet and British foreign ministers meet at the U.N. General Assembly opening Sept. 17.

Informed sources said the negotiators here would spend the time until the U.N. session in an exchange of views on issues of lesser importance.

U.S. negotiator Charles C. Steel and Soviet representative Semyon K. Tsarapkin agreed the time is too short to conclude a study of any key question and reach an agreement on it. The conference resumed after a recess that started before the nuclear agreement was signed Aug. 5.

No formal conference session was scheduled today.
