John, Brothers Praised In Shrine Workouts

Plans for the State attack are rapidly shaping up for Saturday's annual Shrine All-Star contest set for Portland's Multnomah Stadium.

The State team will be out to even the series with the Metro 11, and two Roseburg super-stars loom as key figures in the strategy being planned by head coach Fred Spiegelberg of Medford.

In the previous 15 games, Metro holds a 7-2 advantage, with State's last triumph coming in 1956. Since that time the best the State all-stars have managed was a 19-19 deadlock in 1961 with Roseburg quarterback Mike Brundage running the show.

This year another Roseburg quarterback will be playing a featured role. Paul Brothers, two time all-star and All-America signal caller, is set to engineer the drives for the powerful State contingent. Brothers, billed as the finest running quarterback to ever play prep ball in Oregon, boasts deceptive footwork and an uncanny sense of balance when packing the mail.

In addition to being an outstanding running quarterback, Brothers also presents a threat in the air with his passing — and will have a quartet of talented ends to throw at, including teammate Spike

Moore. The other glue-fingered State ends includes Pendleton's Steve Bunker, Medford's Lloyd Hammonds and Grants Pass' Bob Shepard.

At the signal calling spot Brothers has plenty of backing with Medford's Dan Miles set to relieve the Roseburg ace. Miles has been looking good in practice sessions, showing the form he used in guiding the Black Tornado crew of Medford to the A-1 crown last fall.

Stealing the spotlight in the State drills to date has been Roseburg All-America tackle, Doug John. John, tipping the scales at a mere 225 pounds, figures heavily in the destruction the State coaches are planning come Saturday.

John's aggressive defensive play makes opponents think twice before attempting to run his side of the line and he has actually been holding back in drills at the University of Portland field. Still when the chips are down the rugged tackle shifts into high gear and the opposition suddenly finds itself in trouble.

In the past few days things in the State camp have been looking up with the offense starting to click and the defensive unit jelling. However, plenty of activity in the Metro camp indicates that the Portland area gridgers aren't ready to concede to the impressive State squad just yet.

Metro will have a rugged running attack with halfbacks Tom McAllister of Jefferson and Ron Delplanche of Hillsboro carrying the load, along with Milwaukee fullback Ron Koenig.

The 54 all-stars are eagerly anticipating the kickoff Saturday night at 8:30 when 'football's finest hour' will once again be re-enacted. Assisting Spiegelberg in coaching the State team is Roseburg's Roy Thompson and North Salem's Spike Hilstrom. The coaching staff for the Metro team is made up of Bob Hull, Tom Keele and John Allen.

Reserved seat tickets for the game are on sale at J. K. Gills and Steven and Sons Jewelers in the Lloyd Center and Salem. General admission tickets will go on sale at the Stadium Saturday at 9:30 a.m.

The game is an annual benefit for the Shrine Hospital for crippled children.

McKay's Tops Suiters, 6-3; Mock's Wins

Mock Motors and McKay Drugs posted first round victories in the opening round of the YMCA Twilight League post-season tournament.

Mock's, the league champs, turned on the steam to dump the Roseburg Merchants, 12-5, while McKay's was forced to go nine innings to topple Suiters' Building Supply, 6-3.

The two teams are currently playing a best-of-three series to decide the tournament champion. Mock's exploded for five runs in the first inning against an undermanned Roseburg Merchants team, then coasted to the lopsided win. A home run by Frank Weber highlighted the first inning rally, while Dick Blehm blasted a round-tripper in a four-run seventh inning uprising and Don Wells came through with a triple during the game.

A three-run rally in the top of the ninth broke a 3-3 deadlock and gave McKay's the victory. With one away John Pardon singled and Bill Perry was safe on an unsuccessful fielder's choice. Ralph Hawes drove in the winning run with a base rap, then pitcher Don Hesselguesser blasted a two-out double to add two insurance runs.

Hesselguesser was 4-5 at the plate for the winners, while Pardon was 3-4. Leonard Floth had a 2-5 record for Suiters'.
