

THE CITY POOL is getting good use now that the weather has warmed up. One day last week nearly 250 youngsters and adults splashed and swam in the pool. The water temperature hasn't gone below 75 degrees since the warm weather began, says Tom Keel, city park director. The pool is open Tuesdays through Sundays from 1 to 5 p.m. and 6 to 9 p.m. Swim tickets which save the swimmer a nickel a swim may be bought, and unused punches on the tickets may be used next year, Keel said. (Bert Eaton picture)

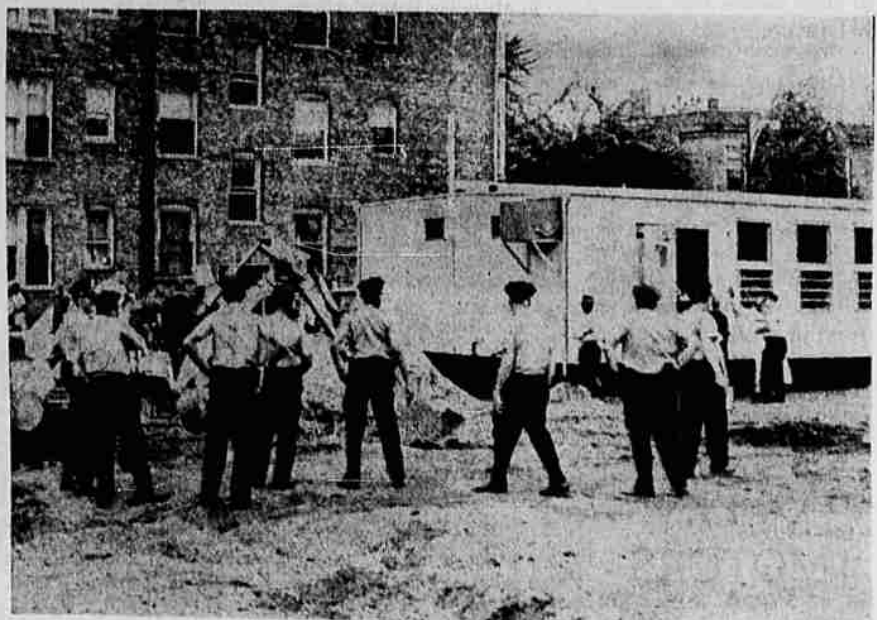

IT'S A HABIT — Leslie Marshal, 27, and his wife, Robbie, 24, admire their new daughter who was born in the family car on the way to the hospital in San Diego, Calif. It was the fourth time for the mother of five to give birth en route to the hospital.

TOO MUCH EXCITEMENT got the best of this young miss at the Douglas County Fair. She fell asleep in her stroller, and her exhausted mother decided to take advantage of the respite to have a candied apple. The five-day fair ends Sunday night. (News-Review photo)

BARARD RUSTIN, deputy director of the New York contingent of the scheduled "march on Washington" explains the route to be taken by buses on a map of Washington, D. C., during a meeting of marshalls held Tuesday in New York at West 130th Street. The march is scheduled to take place Aug. 28.

STRIFE EXEMPLIFIED — A view of policemen's backs indicates that trouble is expected when this picture was taken. The view is on the south side of Chicago Monday as the first of a projected 18 mobile classrooms was brought to the site for use in time for the opening of the fall semester. There were many arrests as demonstrators broke from picket lines into the path of construction trucks.

SECOND ANNIVERSARY — The second anniversary of erection of the Berlin wall is marked by Rainer Bortzel, left, a West German minister, who lays a wreath on the memorial to Guenther Liftin. Liftin was the first refugee to be killed while trying to escape from East Berlin after the wall went up. (NEA photo)

Picture Page

All pictures via UPI Telephoto Service

12 The News-Review, Roseburg, Ore.—Sat., Aug. 17, 1963

HERO WINS MEDAL — Henry Oleaga, 23, native of Brooklyn, N. Y., now living in New Orleans, La., holds the Merchant Marine Meritorious Service Medal he was awarded Wednesday in New Orleans. He along with 10 crewmen of the freighter Dolly Turman, boarded a lifeboat Oct. 27, 1961, and spent a perilous hour in the typhoon-whipped seas to rescue 47 crewmen from the sinking Japanese vessel, Fukuzan Maru, near the Marianas Island of Alamagan.

HER HIGHNESS GROWS UP — Great Britain's Princess Anne, who celebrated her 13th birthday Thursday is shown in portrait made by photographer Anthony Buckley. She is wearing uniform of the First Buckingham Palace Company of Girl Guides.

SOUGHT LODGING — It was in this street in Bournemouth, England, that two men trying to find lodgings aroused suspicion that led to their arrest late Wednesday as suspects in Britain's great train robbery. Detectives found $280,000 in two cars the men were trying to garage. Street, Tweedale Road, is shown in photo made Thursday. (UPI Radiotele)

STAN STEPS OUT — Stan (The Man) Musial, one of the greatest hitters in baseball history, is overcome with emotion while announcing he'll retire as an active player at the end of the season. Musial, 42, a quarter-century veteran with the St. Louis Cardinals, says he'll take a front-office job with the ball club. (NEA photo)

'I OBJECT' — Model Lois Bennett, bottom, 20-year-old look-alike of actress Elizabeth Taylor, insisted Wednesday that the voluptuous billboard body of Cleopatra used all over the world in the $1 million publicity campaign for the film is hers, not Miss Taylor's. The 106-pound, 34-20-34 model said she was paid $35 for one hour's posing. Miss Taylor, top, is shown in a 1961 photo.

SHORT STAY — Negro student James Hood quit the University of Alabama this week to "avoid a complete breakdown." The announcement came two months after he and Vivian Malone entered the all-white university with a federal guard which forced Gov. Wallace aside.