

Remodeled Men's Store Opens Today

Howard's Men's Wear Store in Roseburg will hold a grand opening in its newly remodeled store Thursday, reports owner Howard Hunsaker.

The store building, owned by Noble Goettel, has been completely redone on the interior to present a modern appearance, more light, a better arrangement for display of merchandise and additional stocks for a wider selection.

During the remodeling of the store, located at 507 SE Jackson St., the business was moved across the street into temporary quarters. The interior was ripped out and completely made over.

The ceiling has been given the effect of being lowered, being painted a dark color and with a dark border for the upper walls. Lighting fixtures have been dropped and centered, to give a soft but bright effect. Floors have been retiled and many new fixtures installed.

The rear of the building has been rebuilt, and a marquee added.

Hunsaker said he has added a large selection of teen-age clothing, shoes, shirts, casual pants and dress clothing. He also has added a complete line of nationally advertised work clothing and shoes and a downstairs western equipment section. He stated he plans to specialize in all nationally advertised branded lines.

MAULDIN A GRANDPA

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI)—Pulitzer Prize-winning cartoonist Bill Mauldin, creator of the GI team of Willie and Joe during World War II, became a grandfather Wednesday with the birth of Michelle Mauldin.

The 7-pound, 10½-ounce girl was born to 18-year-old Judy Mauldin, wife of the cartoonist's son, Bruce, 19. It was their first child.

Hunsaker came to Roseburg 15 years ago. For five years, until July 1955 he was manager for Herman's Men's Store, which is no longer in business here. It was then that he opened his own store in the Goettel building, which was remodeled at that time after housing a variety store for many years.

The building was again remodeled at the time of the blast of Aug. 7, 1959, then given the complete modern touch this summer.

Frank Norton is manager of the store. Other employees are Mrs. Lee McCarter, Danny Fromdahl and Larry Norton.
