Gilmans Honored On Anniversary

Sixty friends and relatives signed the guest book Sunday when Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gilman, Gary Gilman and his fiancée, Miss Lee Blake of Medford, entertained at an open house for Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Gilman on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary at the parental home in Fair Oaks east of Sutherlin.

The serving table was beautifully appointed with a white cloth shot with silver and wide silver bands, loaned for the occasion by Mr. and Mrs. Dick Miles of Reedsport.

The tiered cake was all white, topped with two white wedding bells and flanked by a lovely silver candelabra with three pink candles, a gift from Gary and Miss Blake. Pink carnations and white and pink gladioli graced the rooms.

Mrs. Roy Mundt of Salem, mother of Mrs. Gilman, and Mrs. John Mekkers of Coos Bay, Mrs. Gilman's sister, cut and served the cake. Pouring were Mrs. Orley Prock of Willamina, another sister; Mrs. Richard Mala of Eugene; and Mrs. M. A. Mullins, Mrs. Bill Kenwisher and Mrs. Maggie Frances, all of Sutherlin. Mrs. Ed Barnes had charge of the guest book, and Mrs. Ken Barney took care of the gift table.

Mrs. Gilman was attractively attired in a fully pleated dacton dress of white with a coral belt and slippers. She wore a large white orchid with a coral throat.

Many lovely gifts were presented to the honored couple, and included two unique money trees "blooming" with silver dollars.

CAROL RALSTON, above, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ralston of Camas Valley, reports her life as an English instructor in the Institute of Vitoria, Brazil, South America, is proving most interesting and rewarding. She taught two years at Powers before taking her new position.

Camas Valley Girl Teaching English In Vitoria, Brazille

Carol Ralston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ralston of Camas Valley has secured a teaching position in Vitoria, Brazil.

Carol was graduated from Camas Valley High School in 1957. She spent one year at Seattle Pacific University and three years at the University of Oregon. She taught English for two years at Powers. Through her desire for traveling she remembered a girl friend from Brazil she had met during her last year at the University and who is now teaching in Brazil. Carol finally made up her mind to try her luck and she is now teaching English at the Brazilian Institute. She also does some private English teaching. Among her private students is Norton Pipa Silva, an engineer who works for an Iron Export Co. He plans to spend a couple of months soon in the United States and will also inspect a big iron plant in Canada.

Carol's school started in August and runs until December and resumes again in March and runs through June. During her free months she plans to do some English tutoring and some traveling.

Carol states the people in Brazil are very friendly and helpful and her job is interesting and rewarding.

Gifts Collected By Camas WSCS

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met recently at the Camas Valley Methodist Church yard for a noon potluck dinner, with 11 women attending. Dr. J. T. Dixon was a special guest.

The final summer meeting was called "Christmas in August" and the purpose was to collect gifts for the Lavina Wallace Young Community Center in Nome, Alaska.

Mrs. Robert Wheeler led the worship. The door prize, a collection of Christmas cards, was won by Mrs. Dixon. A game prize was won by Mrs. Doris Lamm.

A short business meeting concluded the afternoon. The society gave $50 to the building repair fund for the church. A decorated Christmas tree ornamented with fresh flowers was used for decorations. The regular meetings will resume again on Sept. 11.
