HELSINKI, Finland (UPI) — A shouting, laughing throng of Finns broke through police lines today to get a glimpse of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson as he opened the annual "America Days" celebration here in Finland's first ticker-tape parade.

About 10,000 persons lined Alexander Street to see the vice president, his wife Lady Bird and daughter, Lynda Bird, drive through downtown Helsinki.

Then, as he began his speech at a street intersection, an estimated 500 or so broke through police lines and almost engulfed the Johnson party.

The mob scene climaxed a busy morning in which Johnson sang "Happy Birthday to You" to an aging fishmonger in the Helsinki market, met old-time track star Paavo Nurmi and talked for an hour with President Urho Kekkonen.

At the "America Days" celebration, Johnson cut a ribbon to open the fair, then set out in one of his patented hand-shaking, autograph-signing tours.

Reporters, including old-timers here, had never seen anything like the welcome that the Finns gave Johnson today. It was a friendly mob, and Johnson responded to it, shaking hundreds of hands, smiling at children, and handing out autographed cards.

It was with some difficulty that the police got him into his hotel at noon.

"I've traveled in more than 30 countries," Johnson told reporters once he got back into his hotel, "but I've never had a friendlier reception than I've had here in Helsinki."

It also dwarfed all public displays during the just concluded Swedish visit, according to reporters following the tour.

Earlier Johnson, sporting a red carnation in his lapel and having "a wonderful time," talked to Kekkonen for an hour.

Before the meeting Johnson, on a five-nation tour of northern Europe, joined in singing "Happy Birthday" to a beaming fishmonger in a Helsinki market place.

The vice president and his family arrived from Sweden Friday. He will visit Denmark Tuesday.

This morning Johnson made the rounds of the streets of the Finnish capital as though he was running for mayor. He met Mrs. Aleksandra Jyrkinen, who has been selling fish for 45 years, and joined in singing greetings to her on the occasion of her 70th birthday.

Both the vice president and the fishmonger appeared to be enjoying themselves immensely. Johnson also gave the old lady his card and a souvenir pen with his name on it.

The subject of Johnson's talks with Kekkonen was unknown.

Before he visited the president's office, Johnson boarded the U.S. destroyer Barton, anchored in Helsinki harbor, and met Paavo Nurmi, the former Olympic star who is one of Finland's most famous citizens. Nurmi sent his greetings to

County Mental Health Group Receives Fund

Two years ago a young man was killed in a traffic accident near Glade.

At the request of the victim's family and others, a fund was started to promote mental health in Douglas County. The fund acquired $55 and this money was held by Julian Helleck, Douglas County juvenile director, pending formation of a mental health organization.

On Aug. 8 the Mental Health Association of Douglas County became an official chapter of the Mental Health Association of Oregon. With the organization formed, Helleck turned the money over to association officers with the comment:

"It is a pleasure to present this check . . . to the (association) knowing that the association is working for a healthier and happier community."

The mental health organization is a nation-wide, non-profit movement of citizens who are interested in promoting mental health. One of its goals is to see that people with troubles can find professional help in their home community.

Mental health problems are evidenced in many ways in community life, association officers point out. For example, it is known that emotional upsets can cause accidents. This is explained by Roseburg Police Chief John Treutt.

"It is a known fact that 88 per cent of all accidents are caused by human behavior. A temper flare-up can very easily cause an accident or cause a driver to receive a citation. A person who uses the vehicle as a toy to show off his driving ability or the horsepower of his vehicle causes many of the accidents which occur on the highway."

Association officers point out that the promotion of mental health is a community project. Persons interested in taking part in the mental health movement are invited to write to the Mental Health Association of Douglas County, P. O. Box 111, Roseburg, giving name, address and occupation. Persons interested in membership can enclose $3 which will entitle the individual to full membership as well as a monthly news bulletin published by the state association in Portland.

Explosion Rips Hole In Hull Of Grain Ship

CHICAGO (UPI)—An explosion, believed caused by a dynamite bomb, ripped a hole in the hull of the Canadian grain freighter Howard L. Shaw at Calumet Harbor shortly before midnight Friday night.

The ship has been tied up at the Continental Grain Co. elevator since last April because of a labor dispute between the Seafarers International Union (SIU) and the Canadian Maritime Union (CMU).

A hole four feet wide and six feet long was ripped in the hull amidships and just above the waterline on the port (left) side of the ship. The crew readied the ship's pumps but the vessel was not taking in water.

Among the crewmen aboard at the time of the blast, were Capt. Harold Jones, 1st mate Marvin Gilbert and Glenn Smith, a seaman on watch, all of Toronto, Ont.

Smith said he had made his rounds and found nothing amiss 30 minutes before the blast. When the explosion occurred, Smith said he located it by the smoke rising from the side of the ship. The crewmen were shaken up but none was hurt.

Capt. Jones said he knew of no reason for the incident and could make no damage estimate.

Windows were blown from the Continental Grain Co. offices a block away by the blast, which Chicago police said apparently was a dynamite explosion. The Federal Bureau of Investigation was expected to enter the case.

The freighter, owned by the Upper Lakes Shipping Co., Quebec, has been tied up here since last April because members of the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) have refused to load it. The owners have a contract with the CMU, which the SIU claims is a "company union."

Tacoma Robbery Suspects Enter Innocent Pleas

Joseph Frank Guse, 24, of Roseburg, entered a plea of innocent to a charge of robbery in Tacoma, Wash., Superior Court Friday morning and two other Roseburg men asked to have an attorney around as he fell and got his body hurt.

About 25 feet below the spot from where he fell there is a diagonal support.

"I hit it first. I guess it broke my fall. Then I grabbed hold of a bar farther down," he said.

He hung to the bar with both hands and worked his way around to a point where he could descend. It took him a half-hour to get down.

Bohlken said he was so shaken by his experience that he "just sat" for another half-hour before going to a hospital.

He was treated for a wrenched shoulder, strained chest muscles and face bruises and released.

Local Photographers Win Josephine Honors

Four Roseburg residents received awards for photographic entries in the recent Josephine County Fair at Grants Pass, they have been notified.

Mrs. Harold Horn was a sweepstakes award winner and received two other blue ribbon awards.

Others from this area who received awards were Lyle Timm, Betty Tauscher and Laverne VonSchultz.

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—The commander in chief of 2.7 million members Friday revved up the anticipated American Legion attack on the Kennedy administration's Cuban policy.

National Commander James E. Powers of Macon, Ga., a World War II Army lieutenant with a top sergeant's build and bark, set a policy course on the major issues facing the 45th National Legion Convention.

Man Survives Tower Plunge

QUINCY, Ill. (UPI)—Francis Ray Bohlen usually works with a safety belt.

But Friday "I was letting it dangle free from my waist because I was within arm's reach of the corner."

It came within a whisker of costing him his life.

Bohlen, 22, Slater, Mo., is a painter. He was at work near the top of television station KIQQ's 750-foot transmitter tower, slipping red paint on a cross bar. A brisk wind was blowing, causing the tower to sway.

"I was leaning over almost upside down," he said.

Bohlen was standing on a brace four inches wide, holding onto an upright bar near the corner of the lower and bending at his waist to paint a piece of structural steel near his feet.

"There was fresh paint on the brace I stood on. I slipped and fell," he said.

Bohlen said, "I had worked on a trampoline. I knew how to maneuver my body. I didn't want to go down there head first."

He said he managed to squirm around as he fell and get his body upright.

About 25 feet below the spot from where he fell there is a diagonal support.

Former Army Sergeant Quits Communist China

HONG KONG (UPI) — Scott L. Bamboo Curtain after being captured, Rush said:

"I made a mistake. I was too young. It was a foolish decision."

The former combat photographer said his mother was now living in Tucson, Ariz. Asked if he had a message for her he said:

"Just tell her that all three of us (his wife and child) will get home soon. Take good care of yourself. As soon as we complete procedures, we'll get home. I'm anxious as hell."

Rush had been expected here for several days.

Rush is the third American Army turncoat to leave China in a recent weeks. Lowell D. Skinner of Akron, Ohio, and Albert C. Belhomme, a Belgian, both arrived in Hong Kong last month.

Belhomme, who brought along a Chinese wife and three sons, is still in Hong Kong awaiting a ruling from Washington on whether he will be given Army back pay. He has said he needs the money to return to Belgium.

The return of Rush leaves five of 21 Army defectors still in Communist China, as far as is known.

Skinner, who returned to the United States, and Belhomme have said that two others of the original 21 left China to live in Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Tax Collections Gain In Oregon

SALEM (UPI)—State tax collections for the first two months of the current biennium totaled $21.5 million, the Legislative Interim Committee on Taxation was told today.

Tax Commission economist George Pederson said the July-August receipts were up 4.55 per cent over the same period last year, but were in line with estimates given the 1963 Legislature.

Pederson said that during fiscal 1962-63 seven Oregonians reported incomes of over $1 million. He said there were no million dollar personal returns in the previous year.

Finance Director Freeman Holmer told the committee that if the people turn down the legislature's tax increase measure, the state will be about $55 million short of meeting its bills under the budget. A special referendum election will be held Oct. 15.

He said if the tax measure is defeated, all budgets, including money given to local school districts for property tax relief, would have to be cut from 11 to 14 per cent to keep the budget balanced.

Holmer said the state ended the 1961-62 biennium with a $6 million surplus.

He stressed that there isn't any "huge surplus" in the state general funds as some persons apparently believe.

He said the tax bill passed by the 1963 Legislature would raise an additional $63.5 million, and that figure anticipates a growth in the state's economy.

In discussing budget controls, Holmer said there is a $7 to $8 million cost for servicing state bonds which can't be reduced and that his department hasn't any control over expenditures of the state's courts and departments which are set up under the state constitution.

He also said that defeat of the tax measure would cut the state's interest earnings on funds that are collected but not used until the bills come due.

Pederson said that the effect of the recent lumber strike on state tax collections will apparently be "nominal."

He said there could be a long-range effect because of possible plant modernization to eliminate some jobs and close some of the less profitable mills.

DALO Members Set Appearance At City Council Meeting Monday

Gerald Hayes, vice president of DALO (Douglas Aircraft Leasing Organization), indicated Friday a delegation of members of that organization will be on hand for Monday night's Roseburg City Council meeting to voice their side of the story on a recommended denial of commercial status for DALO.

The recommendation was made by the city Airport Commission Thursday on the grounds there is not enough business to support two commercial operations at the airport.

Hayes also said he personally questions the city's right to authorize an exclusive franchise. He said there are federal funds involved in the airport, and that it's his understanding federal regulations will not allow exclusive franchises on an airport in which federal funds are involved.
