WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield credited his GOP counterpart today with a display of bipartisanship that should help ratification of the nuclear test ban treaty.

on ratification until the end of next week. Mansfield and Dirksen called on the President Monday to elicit the letter. But it was Dirksen's role which, fellow senators said, will make it a bit harder for Republicans — or Democrats — to vote against the treaty.

Dirksen actually gave the treaty two boosts. While announcing his own support and getting from Kennedy a declaration designed to erase a senatorial "doubt," he also bluntly rejected the proposed Cuban reservation of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

Situation Reversed In Accident Report

A story in Monday's News-Review concerning an accident involving automobiles operated by Donald Raymond Pankey, 21, of Rt. 3, Box 1050, Roseburg, and by Nina Ellen Vallier, 16, of Rt. 2, Box 876, Roseburg, should have stated:

The Pankey car was traveling east on Mosher Ave. and the Vallier car north on Flint. Both cars were said to have entered the intersection about the same time.

The position of the two cars, according to city police reports, was listed in reverse in the news report. Pankey was cited by police for failure to yield right of way.

Six persons in the two cars were treated at Douglas Community Hospital for minor injuries, but only one, Nina Vallier remained in the hospital. She was released Monday.

Mrs. Sarah Smith Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Smith, 81, of Gold Beach, mother of Mrs. Greg Hentges of Myrtle Creek, died Sunday in a Gold Beach hospital after a short illness.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. at the Smith Funeral Chapel in Cottage Grove. Burial will follow at the Cottage Grove Cemetery.

IT WAS A BIG HUG FOR Mary Gronouski Monday, after husband John was appointed U. S. postmaster general. The Wisconsin tax commissioner is shown with his family in Madison, after the official announcement from the White House. The girls are Julie (L), 7 and Stacy (R), 10.

Welfare Demonstrator In Hospital Following Sit-In At State Capitol

OLYMPIA (UPI) — Grandma Peggy Goodman will be well enough to leave an Olympia hospital within a "couple of days," her physician said Monday.

Dr. James J. Lux said the circulatory ailment which forced Mrs. Goodman to end her five-day demonstration at the State Capitol was "not serious."

The wheelchair picket line at the Capitol collapsed earlier Monday but Mrs. Goodman and Gary Douglas said they believed they had accomplished their purpose.

"We think this phase of things is over," Douglas said. "It's up to other people now."

Mrs. Goodman, of Seattle, was taken by ambulance to St. Peter's Hospital here for a thorough medical checkup.

A few minutes later, Douglas left for his home in Everett in a car driven by an employee of the Department of Public Assistance.

The 59-year-old Mrs. Goodman began her demonstration Wednesday. She vowed to sit on the Capitol steps until the legislature was called into special session to raise welfare benefits.

Douglas, 33, joined the protest early Friday. Both pickets are confined to wheelchairs.

Mrs. Goodman agreed to enter the hospital after Dr. Bernard Bucove, state health director, and Dr. Robert P. Hall, chief of the Public Assistance Department's Medical Care Division, expressed fears for her health.

Douglas took several souvenirs home with him. They included the fork that Gov. Albert D. Rosellini used when he ate breakfast with the pickets Friday.

He said he was also taking some fond memories. "Olympia sure is a nice town," he said.

Hundreds of well-wishers visited Mrs. Goodman and Douglas during their stay.

Edward Vaughn Silvera, 24, of 1779 NE Klamath St., Roseburg, was sentenced to 30 days in the Douglas County Jail and fined $75 and $5 costs on a plea of guilty to furnishing liquor to a minor. He was arrested by the sheriff's department and appeared before District Judge Gerald R. Hayes.

He was accused of furnishing liquor to Gary Mitchell Davis, 20, of 4620 NE Stephens St., Roseburg, who also pleaded guilty to being a minor in possession of alcoholic beverages. He was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail and fined $50 and $5 costs.

Jerry Lee Wirta, 19, Winston, was arrested by the sheriff's department on a charge of illegal possession of liquor and released on bail, failed to appear in court Monday.

Billy Wallace McClain, 28, Winston, pleaded innocent to reckless driving on appearance before Judge Hayes Monday. Trial will be set later. He was arrested by state police.

Automobiles operated by Donald Ralph Butterfield, 26, of 1911 SE Ichabod St., Roseburg, and Lionell Charles Kreps, Coles Valley Road, Wilbur, collided "fender to fender" in the middle of the intersection of SE Douglas Ave. and SE Jackson St. Monday, city police report.

The accident occurred at 6:07 p. m. Butterfield was traveling south on Jackson and made a stop on Douglas then proceeded on Kreps had started across Jackson, police said. Kreps was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

SALEM (UPI) — Condemned child slayer Jeannae June Freeman 22, filed notice Monday she is making another appeal to the State Supreme Court.

A notice of appeal to the high court was filed in Marion County from the Ag. 6 circuit court ruling which upheld a state demurrer to an amendment petition for post conviction relief, and dismissed Miss Freeman's petition. She was convicted of throwing a six-year-old boy to his death in the Crooked River Gorge.

Wisconsin Man Named Postmaster General

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — Wisconsin Tax Commissioner John A. Gronouski intends to begin preparing for his new role as the nation's No. 1 postman — if the phone ever stops ringing.

There were smiles at the Gronouski home Monday after President Kennedy named the 43-year-old Democrat to his Cabinet as postmaster general. Only his 10-year-old daughter, Stacy, had frowns. She had to start saying farewell to her school mates on her first day of classes.

The first thing Gronouski plans to do, he said, is meet with Sidney Bishop, acting postmaster general, to "get a basic briefing. I've got a lot to learn and am looking forward to learning."

Gronouski will be the fifth postmaster general appointed from Wisconsin and the first person of Polish ancestry named to the Cabinet.

He said he hoped he was appointed "because they thought I could do a good job," and not because his nomination would attract Polish votes.

Helps In Campaign He said he worked during Kennedy's 1960 campaign "by licking a lot of postage stamps."

The stocky tax commissioner, who stands 5 feet nine inches and weighs 200 pounds, said he would join Pierre Salinger's wing of the administration's physical fitness program.

Born in the small Marinette County town of Dunbar on Oct. 26, 1919, Gronouski grew up in Oshkosh and attended the Oshkosh State College for three years before transferring to the University of Wisconsin. There he earned his bachelor of arts degree in economics.

After leaving military service, he returned to Wisconsin where he received his masters degree in economics and public finance, and later earned a doctorate in the same field.

He taught at the University of Maine and at Wayne University, and was director of the Federation of State Tax Administrators before coming here.

Has Two Daughters He married the former Mary Louise Metz of Madison in 1948. They have two daughters, Stacy, and Julie, 7.

During the war, he served as a navigator with the Eighth Air Force and flew 24 combat missions over Europe. He was forced to bail out from his crippled plane on one mission and was one of three from a crew of 10 that survived. Gronouski was rescued by a British destroyer in the English Channel.

"I have always been lucky," he said.

Accord Reached In DALO Hassle The issues involving Roseburg Airways, Inc. and DALO (Douglas Aircraft Leasing Organization) appeared to have reached a settlement stage Monday night which was acceptable to both parties.

The Roseburg City Council voted to adopt an Airport Commission recommendation to deny commercial status to DALO, and Roseburg Airways, Inc. President R. C. (Bud) Good stated he would not object to DALO continuing to allow its member student pilots to use DALO aircraft during their training.

Positions Retained This puts both Roseburg Airways, Inc. and DALO back in the same basic positions they held before Good lodged the original complaint which resulted in several hearings by the Airport Commission on the matter.

Good said Monday night he was withdrawing his complaint on the understanding DALO, in turn, would not press for commercial status to expand its operations and would limit the lease of its aircraft to members of the organization. DALO actually operates on the general basis of a club, but was formed into a corporation to avoid the heavy taxation on flying clubs.

Good will provide the flight instruction for DALO members taking student training in the future and will remain as the lone commercial operator at Roseburg Airport. The Airport Commission had earlier ruled there was not enough business at the airport to support more than one commercial operation.

DALO members contended throughout the past weeks they did not want commercial status, but wanted only to continue their operation as they had in the past, which included allowing student pilots to use DALO aircraft. They did not apply for commercial status until City Attorney Paul Geddes had ruled they were operating on a commercial basis without a license.

Complaint Withdrawn Good's earlier contention had been that as the lone commercial operator licensed at the airport, he should (1) offer all of the flight training to student pilots; and (2) only Roseburg Airways aircraft should be used by student pilots.

Following an hour-long discussion at the Monday night City Council meeting, Good officially withdrew the complaint he had filed against the DALO operation.

In the conclusion of its motion to deny the DALO request for commercial status, the Council based its denial on the findings the club does not intend to carry out commercial operations in the future.

The matter will be studied further at the regular council meeting set for 8 p. m. Oct. 7, at which time Dr. Ferguson is expected to be present to discuss what is proposed in the way of a clinic building and services. Dr. Ferguson practiced in Glendale before establishing a clinic at Shady Cove, and is, at present, representing another physician who is interested in establishing a practice at Glendale. Mrs. Fox reports.

Medical Clinic Eyed For Glendale Approximately 25 persons attended the unofficial open forum sponsored by the Glendale City Council at the City Hall to give community residents an opportunity to voice their views on a proposal to establish a medical clinic in Glendale.

The City Council had earlier at two separate meetings reviewed a proposal to donate two city-owned lots to Dr. Howard Ferguson of Shady Cove for the establishment of a clinic. At the second of the two meetings, council members voted not to make the property an outright gift and tabled further action until the wishes of the community residents were ascertained. Mrs. Gerald Fox, correspondent, reports.

Funeral services for Harold Clifford Mather, 38, of 726 NE Fulton St., Roseburg, will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Long & Shukie Memorial Chapel, with Kim Newman of the Jehovah's Witnesses officiating. Private interment will follow at Canyonville cemetery.

Mather died after being run down by a former mental patient while returning from a session of the Jehovah's Witnesses convention at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif. California police arrested the driver of the vehicle on a charge of suspicion of murder.

Mather was riding a bus and stepped from it with the bus driver when the former mental patient stopped them. The man then drove off, turned around and came back to run Mather down with his vehicle.

Mather was born in Roseburg on March 23, 1925 and had lived in this area most of his life. He was married Dec. 25, 1950, to Neva Hatch at Newport.

He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Linda K., both of Roseburg; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton C. Mather, of Milo; and two brothers, Duane and Clifton, both of Roseburg.

SERVICE PINS — George Marsters, left, receives a 10-year pin, and Ilo Bishop, center, a 15-year pin in recognition of long service with the Oregon Department of Motor Vehicles. Both are driver examiners, stationed in Roseburg. The awards were presented by Edward J. Warmoth, assistant to the director of the department, Monday in Cottage Grove, a part of the territory covered by the examining team. Service pins are presented by the agency to recognize the importance of career employes in the department. Also present were Edward Syring, manager of the drivers license division, and Malcolm Page, manager of the registration division.

City Council Okays Rate Hike For Cabs

A new rate schedule for Roseburg's two taxicab companies has been approved by the City Council.

The council's action was in support of a recommendation by City Manager Craig McMicken who said the cab companies, under their present rates, are "having a difficult time making ends meet."

He said the last increase granted to cab operators locally occurred in February 1959. New rates planned by the cabs would give them an approximate 9 per cent revenue increase.

Increase Okayed Although the council approved the rate increase, it will not go into effect until Sept. 23 to give the public ample notice.

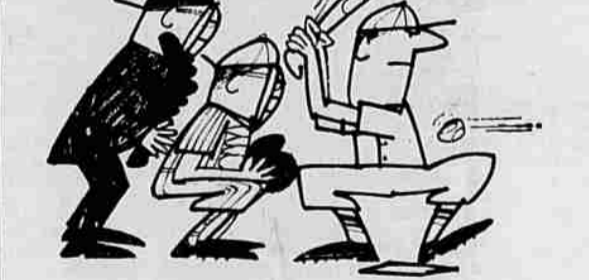

It was reported the typical fare will be increased by about 10 cents. Taxicab rates in Roseburg are regulated by city ordinance.

In other action Monday night, the council awarded contract for a ramp improvement at the airport to Roseburg Paving Co. The firm's bid of $6,542.50 (the only bid received) was opened by the city several weeks ago but action was withheld pending confirmation of a grant covering the full amount by the Douglas County Court.

Thrift Of Items From Car Reported To City Police George Henry McEwing, Route 4, Box 1299, Roseburg, reported to Roseburg city police Monday the theft of a transistor radio, brown sports jacket, red Pendleton jacket and other items from his car, parked on a parking lot. Value of the items was listed at $89.

Medical Mirror HORSES — INSIDE AND OUT Q. Is horseback riding good exercise? Is it true that "the outside of a horse is good for the inside of the man?" A. Equestrians will probably flood us with letters explaining the inside/outside-man/horse relationship but frankly, we have never heard the expression. If the number of sore muscles a novice gets from riding a horse is any indication, horseback riding must head the "good exercise" list.

EYE CARE Q. I have considerable trouble with my eyes. The lids twitch and my eyes water a great deal. Would eye drops help? I am 74 years old. A. Eye drops would not be advisable unless prescribed by your doctor. As we age, the skin and mucous membranes become thinner and more sensitive to physical irritants such as cold, heat, and light. Moderation in eating, bathing (water should not be too hot or too cold), sunbathing, exposure to wind, etc. As for the eyes, persons over 50 or so should have regular check-ups, just to rule out serious trouble. CALL — that's all — and we'll pick up and deliver your prescription.
