

ALGERIA TEETERS ON BRINK OF CIVIL WAR

The News-Review

Established 1873 12 Pages ROSEBURG, OREGON TUESDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1963 ★ 231-63 10c Per Copy

El Hadj Calls For Revolt Against Bella

ALGIERS (UPI) — Col. Mohand Ou El Hadj today called on troops of his 7th Military Region to join his rebel movement against President Ahmed Ben Bella and in an order of the day boasted he would crush any attempt to subdue him.

From his headquarters at Michelet, one of three opposition strongholds in the Grand Kabylia Berber region, the grizzled 65-year-old veteran of the war for independence issued the appeal at noon (7 a.m. EDT).

His latest act of defiance indicated President Ben Bella may have to use force to quell the insurgents headed by El Hadj and his political ally Hocine Ait Ahmed, chairman of the clandestine Socialist Forces Front (SFF).

Fear French Safety
The mounting tension between the loyalist and dissident camps caused worry among French authorities for the safety of the 100,000 French residents still living in Algeria.

French Ambassador Georges Gorse flew to Paris for consultations. But French authorities said there was no question of halting the gradual repatriation of the remaining French forces due to be completely evacuated by the end of next year.

In his order of the day, Col. El Hadj said to his Berber tribesmen:

"The time has come to launch a decisive struggle against the dictatorial regime. Let us close our ranks against which the Ben Bella and the Boumediennes (Defense Minister Col. Houari Boumediene) and other creatures of the fascist regime shall come and shatter themselves. Rejoin me in my combat. Together, we shall finish the police regime and set up democracy which will give the right of speech to all revolutionaries."

Ait Ahmed told his followers Monday night in Michelet: "Resistance to the government will only end with the overthrow of the dictatorship and installation of the democratic regime for which our people fought for seven years."

There has been no bloodshed thus far, although government troops Monday forced rebel units to abandon two towns, only to surrender them to the rebels once more later in the day.

Today the insurgents controlled the city of Tizi-Ouzou and the neighboring towns of Michelet and Fort National.

Ben Bella Monday night denounced the leaders of the dissidents, veteran Col. Mohand Ou El Hadj and Hocine Ait Ahmed, his former deputy premier, and appealed for public support for his army as it moved to combat the threat of civil war.

He also accused neighboring Morocco of backing the insurgents.

(Morocco's news agency reported that Algerian army reinforcements had arrived on its border where there have been frequent minor incidents in recent weeks.)

Ben Bella did not explain the connection between Morocco and the uprising in the Kabylia Mountain area, about 500 miles to the east, except to note that another dissident former vice premier, Belkacem Krim, visited Morocco recently.

The tough and independent Berbers, a separate nationality from Algeria's 8 million Arabs, were among the fiercest fighters against France during the long guerrilla war. Since independence, their leaders have been increasingly critical of Ben Bella's consolidation of power.

Estacada Youth Killed

ESTACADA (UPI) — Gregory Mapletop, 16, Estacada, was killed when his car collided with a logging truck on State Highway 211 near here Monday.

State police said his car went out of control on a sweeping curve coming onto the Clear Creek bridge on the highway. Robert Ritchie, 21, Molalla, was driving the truck, police said.

Solons Ask JFK Views On Wheat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy and Democratic congressional leaders conferred today about prospects for sale of American surplus wheat to the Soviet Union.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield told reporters afterward that "the matter is under serious consideration and Congress is being kept informed" by the administration.

"The matter is still under discussion," Mansfield said. He said the matter came up only "incidentally" at Kennedy's regular weekly breakfast meeting with the leaders and received only brief mention because of the press of other business.

Asked whether it would be necessary for Congress to indicate its attitude on the question before an export license was issued for the wheat sale, Mansfield replied: "Not at all."

But he emphasized that the Senate committees with an interest in the matter were being kept informed of developments.

Ten Republican wheat state congressmen earlier urged the Chief Executive to "clarify" his position on the wheat proposal.

The legislators' wire to Kennedy came after three cabinet-level officials endorsed the transaction at a meeting with the Senate Foreign Relations and Agriculture Committees.

Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman, Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges and Under Secretary of State George W. Ball told the senators at a closed-door session that the administration would decide within the next few days whether to allow private U. S. wheat traders to sell to the Russians.

The 10 congressmen asked Kennedy what diplomatic pressure the United States could apply to other free world countries trading with Cuba or other Communist nations if the U. S. Russian wheat deal went through. "Will such a sale to Russia impair the present policy of containment in Cuba?" they asked.

They also asked what the future U. S. policy would be toward Red China, Communist North Viet Nam and Cuba should those nations offer gold or dollars for wheat or any other surplus farm products.

Fischer Five 'Doing Fine'

ABERDEEN, S.D. (UPI) — The Fischer quintuplets continued doing fine today, and their doctor said James Andrew may be the first to go home.

James Andrew, the lone boy, has been the strongest and fastest growing of the quintets since their births Sept. 14. He weighed 4 pounds 9 ounces when four of the quintets were placed on the scales at St. Luke's Hospital Sunday.

Dr. James Berbos, general practitioner who delivered the quintets and has been caring for them, said he would not set a time yet for sending James Andrew home.

Berbos said he would not weigh Mary Ann, the first-born and smallest, until she gets stronger. Mary Ann also is the only quint still being fed through the nose, and Berbos said he did not know when she would join the other four on bottle feeding.

Gov. Archie Gubbrud notified the planning committee he would attend a celebration for the quintets Oct. 14 in Aberdeen.

E. C. Pieplow, president of the Aberdeen Chamber of Commerce and spokesman for the Fischer family, said Girl Scouts are continuing to make and distribute the Fischer quintet emblem—four pink safety pins and a single blue safety pin.

Soviet Union Strengthens Red China Border Guards, Naval Forces In Mid-East

LONDON (UPI) — The Soviet Union was reported today to be strengthening its guards along the frontier with Red China and its naval forces in the Far East.

Diplomatic sources said both moves appeared to be precautions prompted by the worsening Sino-Soviet conflict.

The strengthening of border guards was believed designed to discourage any further incidents along the disputed frontiers in the East.

The show of naval strength in the Far East appeared largely aimed at Asian public opinion, as a reminder that the Soviet Union has important political stakes in the area and the strength to defend them.

No immediate clash was anticipated between the two Communist giants. Moscow, believed anxious to avert any deterioration in the conflict with Peking, was apparently taking precautionary measures to discourage any possible Peking military moves.

Russia last month claimed that more than 5,000 border violations had been committed by China and indicated the trouble was continuing.

Moscow also gave a direct warning to Peking to stop its "provocations" or face a "decisive rebuff." The Russians did not spell out the nature of the rebuff they had in mind.

There have been unconfirmed reports that Russia may be shifting some of its forces in East Germany to the Chinese border. The figure of a "few divisions" was mentioned.

Russia has about 22 fully equipped divisions in East Germany. There have been no discernible signs to date of any major Soviet troop movements away from Europe and diplomats considered them unlikely at this stage.

Trouble on the border between China and Russia involved two main areas along the 3,500-mile border.

Peking has reminded Russia that czarist Russia incorporated considerable Chinese areas into what is now Soviet territory. In the northeast, the disputed territory involves land east of the Amur and Ussuri Rivers, leading down to the vital Soviet port of Vladivostok.

An official spokesman said about 50 known Communists will be exiled. It appeared that the other prisoners would be released unconditionally.

The junta also ordered police to make no further raids or arrests for the time being, but indicated that new orders on this point might be issued later in the day.

The three-man junta installed Thursday by Armed Forces Secretary Victor E. Vinas Roman appeared to be courting opposition groups which had vowed they would never support the government if it "trampled on human rights."

"We will deport (exile) only those individuals having an international character as Communists," the spokesman said. "Up to now, we have decided to export (sic) only 50, all known Communists.

"Most of the nation's Communists, however, have not been arrested."

Interior Secretary Angel Severo Cabral and Foreign Minister Donaldo Reid were said to be particularly interested in guaranteeing the rights of citizens under the new regime.

Like all the other members of the 13-man cabinet installed by the junta Friday, Segoro and Reid were persecuted while assassinated ex-President Rafael L. Trujillo was in power.

Publication of the order freeing the political prisoners was the latest step toward the relaxation of strict curbs imposed immediately after Wednesday's coup d'etat.

Hurricane Winds Hit Caribbean

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI)—Hurricane Flora, the season's most intense tropical twister, headed into the Caribbean south of Puerto Rico today from the tiny island of Tobago which it swept with devastating winds.

Weathermen here said the storm, packing winds of 110 miles per hour near her center, presented no immediate threat to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, but warned "there is a definite possibility" of a northward turn.

A late San Juan Weather Bureau advisory located the storm at latitude 12.0 north, longitude 62.9 west, or about 85 miles west of the tiny island of Grenada off the north coast of South America.

Flora, sixth hurricane of the season, was moving west-northwest about 15 m.p.h.

Hurricane force winds extended 20 miles in the northern semicircle from the center, and gales blew outward 125 miles to the north and east and 50 miles to the south and west.

"Ships in the path of the hurricane should exercise extreme caution as Flora is intense over a small area near the center," weathermen warned.

Flora, spotted by America's Tiros weather-eye satellite, smashed into Tobago Monday only two hours after it was pinpointed by hurricane-hunter planes. Winds of up to 100 miles an hour lashed the island inflicting widespread damage.

Reports said the Crown Point Hotel, known by thousands of American tourists who visit the tiny tropical island, was devastated. Heavy rains accompanying the storm flooded Crown Point airport.

Prime Minister Eric Williams of Trinidad, summoned Red Cross, police and fire officials to an emergency meeting in Port of Spain to plan emergency relief for Tobago.

House To Act On Military Pay Increases

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House was set today to give final congressional approval to a pay increase for almost 2 million of the nation's servicemen. The price tag would be $1.2 billion.

The Senate already has approved the compromise measure which calls for raises for all those in the military except 742,000 draftees and enlisted men still serving their two-year military obligation.

The average increase would be a little more than 14 per cent. The effective date would be today.

A total of 411,000 retired military personnel also would benefit. They would receive increases ranging from a 5 per cent cost-of-living boost to recomputation of their retirement pay under new scales. The increases vary, depending on the retirement year.

The bill also provides combat pay of $55 a month to U. S. servicemen under fire in Viet Nam and any other cold war area where fighting may erupt.

Other congressional news: Prayer: A delegation of citizens, led by Charles W. Winegarner of Glendale, Calif., present a three-mile-long petition to Congress today to urge action that would permit constitutionally sanctioned "devotional exercises" in public schools. The petition is the work of the 1,350-member "Citizens Congressional Committee," formed solely to deal with the prayer issue.

Civil Rights: The Senate today begins a rescue operation for the U. S. Civil Rights Commission, which lapsed into limbo at midnight Monday night. Senate Democratic Whip Hubert H. Humphrey, Minn., predicts the commission will be granted a one year extension over little more than token opposition.

The Dalles Police Probe Fatal Shot

THE DALLES (UPI)—Sherman County Dist. Atty. T. Lester Johnson today was investigating the fatal shooting of Keith Sturdevant, 34, at a Rufus trailer house Sunday night.

Johnson said witnesses were being questioned but no charges had been filed.

NEGRO DEMONSTRATORS in the Orangeburg, S. C. county jail compound stand in front of a fire hose nozzle minutes after their arrests in an anti-segregation demonstration Monday. They were among 177 arrested in the demonstration, bringing to 761 the number arrested since Saturday. The hose was not used. (UPI Telephoto)

Church Bombing Suspects Face Further Questioning In 'Bama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Two suspects being held in connection with recent racial bombings in this steel city undergo further questioning today by state investigators.

State authorities have kept secret details of the arrests of the two suspects and results of earlier questioning of the men.

The suspects, both with Ku Klux Klan backgrounds, underwent questioning by state investigators Monday at the city jail where they can be held 72 hours on an open charge.

Col. Al Lingo, head of the state police, identified the men, arrested Sunday night, as R. E. Chambliss, 59, and Charles Cagle, 22, both of the Birmingham area.

"Those are the men being held in connection with the bombings," Lingo said.

But he added, "We are not through yet" with the investigation of bombings here, the worst of which, on Sept. 15, killed four Negro girls in the 16th Street Baptist Church. The city has had 23 bombings since 1956 and none has been solved despite around $80,000 in reward money.

Lie Detector Test
Lingo said Chambliss was given a lie detector test late Monday but it was not known whether Cagle took a similar test. The results were not disclosed. The office of Gov. George Wallace in Montgomery was expected to release a statement on the arrests Monday, but no such statement was made.

Chambliss, with a record of several arrests but no convictions in connection with various Klan activities, was dismissed as a city employe in 1949 for smashing a newsman's camera at a Klan rally. He signed a petition in the 1950s to incorporate the Alabama Ku Klux Klan, Inc.

Cagle, son of a Freeville Baptist minister, was arrested near Tuscaloosa in June, several days before the integration of the University of Alabama, on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. No date for his trial has been set. Cagle was in a group of men, some of them Klansmen, picked up en route to a Klan rally.

Cagle's father, the Rev. A. M. Cagle, said Monday that his son "broke away from the Klan about two months ago." He said Charles, a laborer for an engineering firm, was arrested after his return from church Sunday night. "We've got to look to the Lord," he said.

Had Some Knowledge
The arrests came as a surprise to local authorities, but Police Chief Jamie Moore said "we have been aware of some of the suspects questioned by state investigators and had knowledge of their activities."

"However," Moore said, "at the time of their arrests, we felt we did not have enough evidence on any of them for a conviction."

Negro leader Martin Luther King Jr. said Monday that possible progress in the investigation of the bombings eliminated the necessity for immediate racial demonstrations. He left for his home in Atlanta but said he would return next weekend to evaluate talks between city officials, Negro leaders and a two-man team appointed by President Kennedy to work for racial peace here.

"If such negotiations are unproductive, we have no alternative but to demonstrate," King said. He declined to set a deadline.

Wilson Outlines New Policy Plan For Great Britain
SCARBOROUGH, England (UPI) — Labor party leader Harold Wilson, who would be prime minister if the Conservatives lose the next general election, today outlined a four-point program to modernize Britain on the basis of the current scientific revolution which could create "munitions of peace."

His program won unanimous approval.

Wilson told a cheering audience of more than 3,000 delegates and guests at the annual party conference here that the Britain of the future would not be able to depend upon any "special relationship" with other nations—an obvious reference to the United States.

"One of the dangers of the 'old boy network' approach to life is the thought that it is international—that whatever we do and whenever we run into trouble, we can always rely on a special relationship with someone or other to pull us out," he said.

"From now on Britain will have just as much influence in the world as we can earn and as we deserve."

The Socialist leader said Britain under a labor government would use the development of modern science to create a better society for the nation. He said the plan would include four main points:

He said the plan would be used to produce more scientists, to do a "great deal more" than Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government to keep scientists from leaving Britain, to make more "intelligent use" of the scientists, to reorganize British industry so that it applied scientific methods to creating more production.

He also said Britain should create a "state-sponsored chemical engineering consortium" to train and mobilize chemical engineers "to create the plants the world needs."

Because he has broken the underworld's code of silence, Valachi's death is reported to be worth $100,000 to his former criminal associates. Chief U. S. Marshal James J. P. McShane said a bodyguard would be provided by marshals and federal agents again today to protect him.

The Weather
AIRPORT RECORDS
Night and morning fog, sunny afternoons with little change in temperature.
Highest temp. last 24 hours 49
Lowest temp. last 24 hours 47
Highest temp. any Oct. (58) 91
Lowest temp. any Oct. (54) 26
Precip. last 24 hours 0
Normal Oct. precip. 3.02
Precip. from Sept. 1 1.42
Precip. from Oct. 1 0
Sunset tomorrow, 6:55 p.m. PDT
Sunrise tomorrow, 7:12 a.m. PDT

Focus On New York
Valachi, confessed killer and convicted narcotics peddler, was expected to focus today on clashes for underworld control of New York during the 1930's and the existing syndicate hierarchy there.

Cosa Nostra the Italian name for the organization that translates as "our thing" in English.

Valachi said Cosa Nostra was ruled by an executive board consisting of "family" bosses. The five top men in New York were reported to be Vito Genovese, Luchese (Three Finger Brown), Thomas (Carol Gambino), Joseph Magliocco and Joseph (Joe Bananas) Bonanno.

Valachi said Genovese's power was so strong he exerted control over his gang from federal prison and ordered the slaying of a lieutenant who "couldn't take it."

Genovese Is In Prison
Genovese, 65, is now in the federal prison hospital at Leavenworth, Kan., where he is being treated for a heart ailment. He is serving a 15-year sentence for narcotics violations.

It was Genovese who administered a "kiss of death" to Valachi in their prison cell at Atlanta that the underworld turncoat regarded as a sign that he was doomed to die as a suspected informer.

Valachi has described Genovese as "under-the-table boss of all the bosses" in New York and perhaps in the national organization.

Because he has broken the underworld's code of silence, Valachi's death is reported to be worth $100,000 to his former criminal associates. Chief U. S. Marshal James J. P. McShane said a bodyguard would be provided by marshals and federal agents again today to protect him.

Bob Kennedy Says Valachi Will Be Federal Witness
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said today Cosa Nostra informer Joseph Valachi will be used as a government witness in federal criminal trials.

Kennedy's disclosure came as Valachi was recalled by Senate investigators to testify for the second day on workings of the sinister crime syndicate he belonged to for 32 years.

Valachi was scheduled to testify at 10 a.m. EDT.

The attorney general, who opened the hearings last week by warning that Cosa Nostra is a powerful "invisible government" with a multi-billion dollar income, declined to specify in what cases Valachi would be used.

But Kennedy hinted in an interview that Valachi's court testimony would be used to help prosecute some of the organized crime chiefs he has been identifying at the Senate hearings.

Valachi was scheduled to testify for the second day on workings of the sinister crime syndicate he belonged to for 32 years.

Valachi was scheduled to testify at 10 a.m. EDT.

The attorney general, who opened the hearings last week by warning that Cosa Nostra is a powerful "invisible government" with a multi-billion dollar income, declined to specify in what cases Valachi would be used.

But Kennedy hinted in an interview that Valachi's court testimony would be used to help prosecute some of the organized crime chiefs he has been identifying at the Senate hearings.

Valachi was recalled by Senate investigators to testify for the second day on workings of the sinister crime syndicate he belonged to for 32 years.

Valachi was scheduled to testify at 10 a.m. EDT.

The attorney general, who opened the hearings last week by warning that Cosa Nostra is a powerful "invisible government" with a multi-billion dollar income, declined to specify in what cases Valachi would be used.

But Kennedy hinted in an interview that Valachi's court testimony would be used to help prosecute some of the organized crime chiefs he has been identifying at the Senate hearings.

Valachi was recalled by Senate investigators to testify for the second day on workings of the sinister crime syndicate he belonged to for 32 years.

Valachi was scheduled to testify at 10 a.m. EDT.

The attorney general, who opened the hearings last week by warning that Cosa Nostra is a powerful "invisible government" with a multi-billion dollar income, declined to specify in what cases Valachi would be used.

But Kennedy hinted in an interview that Valachi's court testimony would be used to help prosecute some of the organized crime chiefs he has been identifying at the Senate hearings.

Valachi was recalled by Senate investigators to testify for the second day on workings of the sinister crime syndicate he belonged to for 32 years.

Valachi was scheduled to testify at 10 a.m. EDT.

The attorney general, who opened the hearings last week by warning that Cosa Nostra is a powerful "invisible government" with a multi-billion dollar income, declined to specify in what cases Valachi would be used.

But Kennedy hinted in an interview that Valachi's court testimony would be used to help prosecute some of the organized crime chiefs he has been identifying at the Senate hearings.

Valachi was recalled by Senate investigators to testify for the second day on workings of the sinister crime syndicate he belonged to for 32 years.

Valachi was scheduled to testify at 10 a.m. EDT.

The attorney general, who opened the hearings last week by warning that Cosa Nostra is a powerful "invisible government" with a multi-billion dollar income, declined to specify in what cases Valachi would be used.

But Kennedy hinted in an interview that Valachi's court testimony would be used to help prosecute some of the organized crime chiefs he has been identifying at the Senate hearings.

Valachi was recalled by Senate investigators to testify for the second day on workings of the sinister crime syndicate he belonged to for 32 years.

Valachi was scheduled to testify at 10 a.m. EDT.

The attorney general, who opened the hearings last week by warning that Cosa Nostra is a powerful "invisible government" with a multi-billion dollar income, declined to specify in what cases Valachi would be used.

But Kennedy hinted in an interview that Valachi's court testimony would be used to help prosecute some of the organized crime chiefs he has been identifying at the Senate hearings.

Valachi was recalled by Senate investigators to testify for the second day on workings of the sinister crime syndicate he belonged to for 32 years.

Valachi was scheduled to testify at 10 a.m. EDT.

The attorney general, who opened the hearings last week by warning that Cosa Nostra is a powerful "invisible government" with a multi-billion dollar income, declined to specify in what cases Valachi would be used.

But Kennedy hinted in an interview that Valachi's court testimony would be used to help prosecute some of the organized crime chiefs he has been identifying at the Senate hearings.

Valachi was recalled by Senate investigators to testify for the second day on workings of the sinister crime syndicate he belonged to for 32 years.

Valachi was scheduled to testify at 10 a.m. EDT.

The attorney general, who opened the hearings last week by warning that Cosa Nostra is a powerful "invisible government" with a multi-billion dollar income, declined to specify in what cases Valachi would be used.

But Kennedy hinted in an interview that Valachi's court testimony would be used to help prosecute some of the organized crime chiefs he has been identifying at the Senate hearings.

Valachi was recalled by Senate investigators to testify for the second day on workings of the sinister crime syndicate he belonged to for 32 years.

Valachi was scheduled to testify at 10 a.m. EDT.

The attorney general, who opened the hearings last week by warning that Cosa Nostra is a powerful "invisible government" with a multi-billion dollar income, declined to specify in what cases Valachi would be used.

But Kennedy hinted in an interview that Valachi's court testimony would be used to help prosecute some of the organized crime chiefs he has been identifying at the Senate hearings.

Valachi was recalled by Senate investigators to testify for the second day on workings of the sinister crime syndicate he belonged to for 32 years.

Valachi was scheduled to testify at 10 a.m. EDT.

The attorney general, who opened the hearings last week by warning that Cosa Nostra is a powerful "invisible government" with a multi-billion dollar income, declined to specify in what cases Valachi would be used.

But Kennedy hinted in an interview that Valachi's court testimony would be used to help prosecute some of the organized crime chiefs he has been identifying at the Senate hearings.

Valachi was recalled by Senate investigators to testify for the second day on workings of the sinister crime syndicate he belonged to for 32 years.

Valachi was scheduled to testify at 10 a.m. EDT.

The attorney general, who opened the hearings last week by warning that Cosa Nostra is a powerful "invisible government" with a multi-billion dollar income, declined to specify in what cases Valachi would be used.

But Kennedy hinted in an interview that Valachi's court testimony would be used to help prosecute some of the organized crime chiefs he has been identifying at the Senate hearings.

Valachi was recalled by Senate investigators to testify for the second day on workings of the sinister crime syndicate he belonged to for 32 years.

Valachi was scheduled to testify at 10 a.m. EDT.

The attorney general, who opened the hearings last week by warning that Cosa Nostra is a powerful "invisible government" with a multi-billion dollar income, declined to specify in what cases Valachi would be used.

But Kennedy hinted in an interview that Valachi's court testimony would be used to help prosecute some of the organized crime chiefs he has been identifying at the Senate hearings.

Valachi was recalled by Senate investigators to testify for the second day on workings of the sinister crime syndicate he belonged to for 32 years.

Valachi was scheduled to testify at 10 a.m. EDT.

The attorney general, who opened the hearings last week by warning that Cosa Nostra is a powerful "invisible government" with a multi-billion dollar income, declined to specify in what cases Valachi would be used.

But Kennedy hinted in an interview that Valachi's court testimony would be used to help prosecute some of the organized crime chiefs he has been identifying at the Senate hearings.

Valachi was recalled by Senate investigators to testify for the second day on workings of the sinister crime syndicate he belonged to for 32 years.

Valachi was scheduled to testify at 10 a.m. EDT.

The attorney general, who opened the hearings last week by warning that Cosa Nostra is a powerful "invisible government" with a multi-billion dollar income, declined to specify in what cases Valachi would be used.

But Kennedy hinted in an interview that Valachi's court testimony would be used to help prosecute some of the organized crime chiefs he has been identifying at the Senate hearings.

Valachi was recalled by Senate investigators to testify for the second day on workings of the sinister crime syndicate he belonged to for 32 years.

Valachi was scheduled to testify at 10 a.m. EDT.

The attorney general, who opened the hearings last week by warning that Cosa Nostra is a powerful "invisible government" with a multi-billion dollar income, declined to specify in what cases Valachi would be