Opportunities For Boys In Field of Dancing

There are good opportunities for boys in the dance field today as teachers and professionals. Many boys not interested in athletics would find dancing a good outlet for surplus energy. However, many college coaches recommend dancing lessons as a means to better coordination and rhythm. When you are thinking of ways to help your boy — call the Roseburg School of Dance and find out how dance lessons will be a real satisfaction to him. We have boys of all ages enjoying tap, ballet and modern jazz dance lessons.
