South Didn't Like Heart Jump

(Written For NEA) By OSWALD JACOBY

West's opening of the singleton diamond was a classic example of when to open a singleton. He held the ace of trumps as a sure quick entry.

His next play was an equally classic example of what not to do. South went right up with dummy's ace of diamonds and led a spade. West took his ace without a moment's hesitation.

♥♦CARD Sense♦♥

Q—The bidding has been:

South	West	North	East
1♦	Double	Pass	Pass
Redble	Pass	1♥	Pass
Pass	1♠	2♥	2♠

You, South, hold:
 ♠K 7 6 ♠A Q 4 ♦J 8 5 4 ♣A 10 2
 What do you do?
 A—Pass. Your hand is not getting any better.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding one heart over your redouble your partner jumps to two hearts. What do you do in this case?

Answer Tomorrow

led back his deuce of clubs. South won with the jack, but had no way to get to dummy to discard his last low diamond.

MARKET TIPS

Douglas County Produce Items Rapidly Diminish

By LEROY B. INMAN
 Business News Dept. Editor

Aside from considerable home grown and consumed products, Douglas County is just about out of the picture from the standpoint of feeding its own populace at this time of year.

Cantaloupes and watermelons are all but through. Tomatoes in general are of questionable quality. Local squash, including hubbards, banana, butternut, marbled and table queens are very good, but not enough to supply local demand. There are a few cucumbers, some corn and a small amount of cabbage produced for local consumption.

In the fruit line local apples and pears are very good, but insufficient to supply demand. The prune harvest is about through and most of the crop has gone to the dryers. The nut harvest locally is fair.

North Dakota red potatoes are making their appearance. They are very good and reasonable. Irish potatoes from Washington, Idaho, Prineville and Klamath Falls are coming in excellent supply, the crop being top quality. Yams and sweet potatoes, both available now, are little changed on the market.

The carrot market strengthened some this week. The quality from both Portland and California is very good. Turnips, rutabagas and parsnips out of Portland all are very good, and dry onions from Washington, Idaho and Labish near Salem are of top quality.

Lettuce continues strong, with a wide range of prices and quality. Leaf lettuces, romaine and endive are unchanged. Radishes are reported in stronger position, while green onions remain steady. The quality is average. A few green avocados are appearing now, the price strong. Black-shelled varieties are about through.

Cabbage is stronger, mostly out of Portland and some from California. Cauliflower eased on the California market and remained steady out of Portland. Broccoli from Portland is very good but the supply is short. Both Portland and California have some excellent, thick, heavy celery, the market being strong.

Corn is becoming a scarce item, a small quantity coming in from the Willamette Valley and California. Artichokes are very good but on the high side at present. The price should drop shortly. California and Portland both have very good squash and cucumbers. Brussels sprouts from both Portland and the San Francisco Bay area are a good buy. Peppers are in a strong position, all out of California, which also has tomatoes. The quality and supply of tomatoes fluctuates with the weather. Some mature greens now are showing.

Yakima has a bumper crop of apples this year. Pears, on the other hand, are on the scarce side. Grapes are very good, including Tokays and some Emperors.

Navel oranges are two to three weeks away, the Valencia crop remaining good. Florida grapefruit is coming in now, the quality being good and the price reasonable. Lemons are stronger, especially on large sizes. Bananas remain in a strong and scarce situation.

Cranberries, very reasonable from both Oregon and Massachusetts, are on the market and reasonable. Nuts and dates, while green onions remain steady. The quality is average. A few green avocados are available for the fall season.

Riverside PTA Approves Budget

The Riverside PTA held its first meeting of the season recently at the school gymnasium. Mrs. Delton Walker, president, conducted the meeting at which time the proposed budget for the 1963-64 school year was approved.

At the close of the business meeting Mrs. Joan Fox, program chairman, presented a program which was highlighted by an address given by Mrs. Willard Pease, regional vice president of PTA. Mrs. Pease spoke on the topic "The Purpose of PTA." She also urged the assembled group to study thoroughly the issues involved in the Oct. 15 tax election.

Roy Crain, principal, introduced the teaching staff.

Refreshments were served by the executive committee in the school cafeteria following the program, according to Mrs. C. W. Patterson, publicity chairman.
