Defense Can Count Hand

(Written For NEA)
By OSWALD JACOBY

One of the hardest things for a defender to do is to count a hand out and to decide why declarer has made his various plays.

Now suppose you follow the play from the East hand only. At trick one you cover dummy's queen of diamonds with your king. South wins with the ace so that declarer's original holding was five spades, three hearts, two diamonds and three clubs.

Declarer's next play is the five of hearts from dummy and if you have been awake you will play the seven spot. You won't have much hope for this play, but you will realize that you aren't going to do yourself any good by playing one of your honors and that the play of the seven will beat the hand if your partner holds the ten.

Q—The bidding has been:
South West North East
1♣ Double Pass Pass
Redouble Pass 2♥ Pass

You, South, hold:

What do you do?
A—Pass. Your partner is showing strength, but he did not redouble one diamond.

TODAY'S QUESTION
You pass. West bids three diamonds and your partner bids three hearts. East passes. What do you do now?

Revised Health Booklet Is Due

School representatives from various parts of Douglas County and Public Health Department personnel recently joined forces to work on revision of the booklet "Health Services for the School-Age Child in Oregon" which will take the place of the 1958 edition.

This publication is produced as a joint enterprise of the state Health Department and the state Department of Education. Douglas County was one of several counties asked to assist with the project.

Contributions by the various committees will be summarized by Leland P. Linn, director of education for County Supt. Kenneth P. Barneburg.

Representing the schools were Frances Price, Glendale; Byron Huckins, Drain; Marie Oehler, Reedsport, and Larry Wait, Winston-Dillard. Dr. James K. Gray, Douglas County health officer; supervisor Erma Plett and public health nurses Lavenia Miller, Bernice Smith, Nettie Ulmer, Irene Howard and Ethel Wilton also worked on the project.

U.S. Personal Income At New All-Time Peak

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Longer hours and greater employment helped push personal income in the nation to a record rate during September, the government reported recently.

The Commerce Department said income, figured on an annual rate basis, reached $466.5 billion last month—$1.5 billion above August.

The department said wages and salaries accounted for nearly all of the rise. Part of it reflected increases under the new federal minimum wage law which went into effect Sept. 1.
