... new Kiwanis president be second vice president, and Ed Young will again be club treasurer.

Elected directors were Don Sanders, Lauren Loveland, Harry Jacoby, Ray Sims, Charles Woodrich, Vin Brenner and Virgil Lomax.

The program at Tuesday's meeting was provided by the Roseburg High School A Cappella Choir under the direction of Bob Robins. The choir presented a concert of religious and popular numbers which was well received by the club members.

Bud Smith and Terry Fitzgerald of the RHS Key Club attended the meeting with the latter outlining some of the work entailed in the club's management of RHS Homecoming, which is this Friday.

A financial report on the recent Pee Wee football jamboree was presented showing a healthy profit for use in the Kiwanis grid program for youngsters in the local school district.

Mental Health Group To Hear Dr. Treleven

"Hometown treatment" is proving to be the key to more effective and economical treatment of the mentally disturbed, according to the Mental Health Association of Douglas County.

To explain the meaning of this statement, the association has called in Dr. Joseph H. Treleven, administrator of the Mental Health Division of the state, to explain to the community just what its role is.

He is scheduled to speak Thursday night at 8 in the Roseburg Woman's Club building on SE Mosher Street. As administrator, Treleven is responsible for all state mental hospitals, Home for the Retarded, the Alcoholic Treatment Center and 17 community clinics.

His job in Roseburg will be to explain the reorganization of the state hospital in Salem, and what it means to Douglas County residents.

Dr. Treleven has a tailored background for the job to which he was appointed in 1962. He was staff psychiatrist at the state hospital in Salem, was in private practice of psychiatry in Tacoma, Wash.; served five years as half-time consultant at a variety of community psychiatric clinics; and was clinical director at the state hospital.

Any one interested in the session in Roseburg Thursday may attend.
