There is one conspicuous exception to this rule that is well illustrated in today's hand. South doesn't have much of an opening bid but his partner's hand is very sound and the contract of four hearts is a good one.

South will play either the king or the queen. It shouldn't make the slightest difference to West. He will see that the only chance to beat the contract will be to let South hold that trick, so if West is on his toes he will play the deuce of clubs.

Eventually East will get the lead with his queen of trumps and a second club lead will allow West to make his ace and jack.
