

Council Delays Hearing On Street Name Change

The doughty forces defending the names of their streets in West Roseburg can rest easy for a while.

A public hearing, continued from the last meeting, to change the name of a portion of W. Oriole Avenue to W. Oriole Drive and W. Agee Street to W. Oriole Drive was discontinued indefinitely.

Obviously willing to get rid of a sticky situation, the council voted to "indefinitely postpone" the hearing. City Attorney Paul Geddes explained this would mean retaining present names of the streets until another hearing is called. The indications were this would be a long time in coming.

The Roseburg Planning Commission has recommended that a single name be used for a loop street around the Fullerton IV school. It said it had no objections to naming the loop either Agee or Oriole Drive, just so one name applied to the complete loop.

The sections in question were W. Oriole Avenue from Broccoli Street to Cardinal Street and the portion of Agee from W. Harvard Boulevard to W. Bradford Drive. Delegations stumping both for a change to Agee and a retention of the Oriole designation were on hand. With an impasse obvious, the council decided to drop the whole matter, for the moment anyway.

Laws Studied By Assessors

County assessors from District 1 of the Oregon Assessors' Association are gathered in Roseburg today to discuss new laws passed by the 1963 Oregon Legislature and their effect on assessments and taxpayers.

The association's District 1 embraces the counties of Southwest Oregon, reports Lela and Svarverud, Douglas County assessor. Participating in today's session are Charlie Mack and Richard Rink of the state Tax Commission and Berkeley DeVaul, commission attorney.

Assessors attending are Thad Hatten, Jackson County; Don Jones, Josephine; Francis Flanagan, Coos; Ken Omlid, Lane; Robert E. Lyon, Deschutes, and Svarverud for Douglas.

Two laws receiving particular attention in the discussion were those involving farm land zoning and assessment, and the old age exemption and deferral law, both of which go into effect in 1964. Other problems relating to activities of county assessor offices were to be discussed.

Svarverud said this is the first in a series of similar district meetings which will be held around the state to consider the legislative changes that effect assessor's office operations.

Coed Loses Fight Against Cancer

ROCKFORD, Ill. (UPI)—Diane Lindstrom, 18, who spurned a leg amputation to stave her life on the controversial drug krebioxen, died Monday night of bone cancer.

Miss Lindstrom lost her year-long battle against a malignant tumor of the right thigh at Rockford Memorial Hospital. She had been in the hospital about six weeks.

Last March, the pretty high school coed faced a terrifying decision—either have her leg amputated or face the risk of dying before she reached her 23rd birthday.

Her family physician, Dr. Robert E. Heerins, who first detected the tumor last January, said the cancer was "severe" and urged her to have the operation.

Two days before the scheduled amputation, Diane called it off. She said she would rather die than have her leg amputated.

A spokesman at Rockford Memorial Hospital said Diane died of "bone cancer."

Food Plant Blast Injures Workers

Taken to the Vancouver Memorial Hospital were Palmer Jorgenson, 52, Camas, Wash., and Horace Kibbler, 58, Vancouver, both chemical operators, and Milton Sanders, 27, Vancouver, a process engineer.

The explosion twisted steel beams and shattered reinforced concrete walls. A fire then broke out.

Robert Polansky, resident manager of the plant, said he did not know the cause of the explosion and was unable to estimate the damage. However, it was thought that a solution in a two-story stoneware container exploded.

The plant, which manufactures hydrogen peroxide, was not closed by the blast.

Ballet Delights Audience Here

By LEROY B. INMAN

Roseburg Community Concert Association members were treated to a delightful evening of dancing entertainment presented by the Pacific Ballet of San Francisco Monday night at the Roseburg High School auditorium.

A variety of talent from the youthful to the more experienced was offered, with lovely Grace Doty as the leading soloist, featured opposite Alan Howard, director and principal dancer. Miss Doty, graceful and attractive, proved also dramatic and sultry in the dance offering of Don Quixote Pas de Deux, with Howard as her partner.

The most entertaining number was the dance Sur La Plage (On the Beach) a humorous bit depicting a young girl in her own world of poetry and romance and her conflict with adult competition.

Cathy Sallade as Yvonne, the young girl, infatuated with a poet, played by Alan Howard, scored with her audience. Barbara Crockett as the beautiful swimmer saved from drowning by the poet, gave an excellent portrayal, while Patricia Te Roller, the friend, and Philippe, the tease, added humor.

The program was concluded with waltz selections, featuring the entire cast of girls in pink formals, to give a colorful climax to the evening. Featured were Miss Doty, Miss Crockett, Miss Te Roller, Sharon Lewis, Cathy Sallade, Marilyn Knowles, Alan Howard, Richard Cash, Don Douthett and Frank Cobery.

The opening selection was Simple Symphony, an abstract ballet in four movements using three couples.

School Board Slates Wednesday Session

The Roseburg School Board will meet in regular session at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the school administration offices on West Harvard Boulevard.

Included on the agenda will be a review of bid requirements for providing bus transportation for the school district. Ellison Transportation Co. is current holder of the contract.

Routine matters, including hiring of 11 adult education instructors, are also included on Wednesday night's agenda.

The trio left Portland International Airport Sept. 14 and arrived at Calcutta, India, where they assembled some 600 pounds of equipment. They left Katmandu, Nepal.

Travel By Air, Train
They traveled by train to Raxaul, India, near the Nepali border, where they caught a Royal Nepalese Airlines flight to Katmandu.

Steve McCarthy describes their impression of that city: "Arrival in Katmandu was unbelievably pleasant. After hot, muggy Calcutta, we stepped off the plane into a cool breeze and a valley full of orange trees, grapefruit trees, monkeys and ancient shrines and temples. Katmandu is as neat and clean as part of Switzerland and the people are the friendliest we've seen yet."

The youthful adventurers spent two weeks in Katmandu where they had to make arrangements with the foreign ministry for their expedition to trek across the Himalayas.

In a letter to Reed, they described Katmandu as an "unbelievably cosmopolitan city. Russians, Chinese (Red), Germans, Italians, etc., abound. There are few Americans here, but they are generally unobtrusive."

Route Described
Their trek began Oct. 1 and they hope to arrive in Darjeeling, India by Nov. 15. Their route will go from Katmandu, to Thyangboche, a few miles from the base camp of the American Expedition which scaled Mt. Everest. From Thyangboche, the expedition will cross the wild eastern section of Nepal.

During the expedition, they will carry on scientific work for the Smithsonian Institution, the Oregon Museum of Science and Industry and the Chicago Field Museum.

After arriving in Karjeeling, they will then visit New Delhi, where they have an appointment with U. S. Ambassador Chester Bowles. They will next visit Kashmir, the Khyber Pass, the Middle East, and arrive in Europe next spring.

Their trip and equipment were donated and financed by several Portland firms and institutions including Reed College.

Symphony Group Lists Proceeds

The Roseburg Symphony Society realized a gross take of an estimated $1,800 from its sponsorship of the Oct. 15 concert of the Portland Symphony Orchestra.

Estimated costs of the concert totaled about $2,800, representing about a $1,000 deficit, according to Society spokesman Avery Thompson.

Many businesses, industries and individuals of Roseburg and vicinity furnished money to underwrite the concert cost, with the promise gross proceeds would be returned to them on a prorated basis.

Thompson said some of the ticket salesmen have been slow in turning in their proceeds, and he has issued a call for them to do this as quickly as possible. He asked that all those who sold tickets turn the money in to Society Secretary John Kort at the Douglas County State Bank immediately so reimbursements can be made to underwriters in the city who made the concert possible.

WHITE SHRINE TO MEET
Nativity Shrine No. 10, Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, will hold a stated meeting at the Masonic Temple in Grants Pass Saturday at 8 p.m. All members are urged to attend and visiting sojourners are invited.

MINERAL BATHS AND ARTHRITIS

Q. I have arthritis and have had little success with doctors. Would warm mineral baths help?

A. Perhaps you have expected too much from doctors. There is no cure for arthritis. Warm baths are only a part of the total basic treatment of the condition. Such baths should always be prescribed by a physician familiar with the case. This is essential not only to obtain the most benefit but also to avoid harmful effects.

APPENDICITIS

Q. If a woman developed appendicitis during pregnancy, would the doctor operate? If so, would this damage the child?

A. The doctor would operate if the mother's life was in danger. The child would not necessarily be harmed.

Remember—the diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician.
