Holdup Is Legal At Bridge Table

(Written For NEA)
By OSWALD JACOBY

The holdup in bridge does not consist of putting a gun to the victim's head and demanding his money or his life, but the result may be the same.

East won the opening lead with the king of hearts and re-game and is an illustration of fine defensive partnership. It is also an illustration of poor dummy play. Do you see how South should have played the hand?

It was all right to start the clubs after winning the second heart, but South should have played the king, not the ten. West would still duck, but now South should go right after the diamonds. West could duck the king and queen, but would have to win the third diamond. A heart lead would knock out South's jack, but now South would be able to lead his ten of clubs and overtake with dummy's jack in the event that West ducked also. This would give him his third diamond trick, while if West took the second club South would have access to dummy for both minor suits.

turned the three spot to dummy's ace. Declarer played a low club from dummy and East played the eight. This wasn't to show strength, but rather the start of an echo to show a doubleton. West recognized the echo and ducked South's 10 of clubs and the following play of the king.

Nothing daunted South, he led his king of diamonds, but West started a second hold up play by letting that king hold the trick. This time East played the deuce to show three diamonds so West held up again on the queen.

This series of holdups effectively deprived South of his

Instead of responding two diamonds your partner jumps to three diamonds. You play this as strong, but not forcing. What do you rebid, if anything?

SHIRLENE BRAZIE'S FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Frozen rock lobster tails can be served in minutes—boiled, broiled or en casserole. The boiling time in minutes should equal the weight in ounces plus 3 minutes if you're serving straight from the pot; 2 if you are going to reheat in a sauce...

To broil the tails: parboil for 4 minutes per 6 oz. first, cool slightly, slit the cartilage down the middle and pull it out from each side of the shell. Crack the back lengthwise, use a skewer from stem to stern to prevent curling, douse with butter, add salt and pepper, broil until brown and serve with a dry, white wine...UMMMMMM! A gourmet's delight!!!!
