

'Desire Under The Elms,' Next For Merely Players

"Desire Under the Elms," Eugene O'Neill's controversial play about life, lust and greed in mid-19th century New England, is next up on Merely Players' production schedule, opening Thursday night at the theatre on Melrose road.

Don Baile, who has had professional experience in both film and stage roles, is cast in the male lead as Eben. Jean Fake plays the young wife of old Ephraim Cabot, a selfish New England farmer, portrayed by Dr. Henry Hirschmann.

Eben's two brothers, Simeon and Peter are played by Dick Anderson and Don Freeman. Handling lesser roles are Cleo Arndt, Dan C. Hill, Jay Barrett, Euarda Schlafer, Ira Byrd, Verdun Hockett, Judy Knight and Chuck Lamm.

Director is Dick Lanier. The story concerns an old man, completely selfish, but with a strong belief in God, who carved a farm out of the rocky New England soil, and his three greedy sons, who wait only for the death of their father so they might have the land. When the father comes home with a young bride, the two older sons leave in disgust for the California gold fields, leaving Eben to run the farm.

How Eben becomes entangled with his stepmother, the greed and lust of them both leading to their eventual downfall, is revealed as the story unfolds.

Curtain time is 8:00 for the six-night run of the play. Dates for the production are Nov. 7, 8 and 9, and Nov. 14, 15 and 16.

WINNERS GET PRIZES — Jim Donnelly, chairman of the annual Neewollah Parade, screwed up his courage Thursday night long enough to award $5 prizes to two winners in competition. They were Stephen Adams, who was named best goblin, and Connie Cummins, right, who wore the most original costume. (News-Review photo)

Neewollah Parade Winners Announced

Despite a comparatively small turnout of worldly dressed youngsters, the annual Neewollah Parade was called a success today by Parade Chairman Jim Donnelly.

Again this year, the parade through downtown Roseburg was sponsored by the Roseburg Junior Chamber of Commerce.

CARE Crusade Set For Kickoff Here

Spearheaded by the Douglas County State Bank, the 1963 CARE Food Crusade is being launched in Roseburg as part of a state-wide program, according to an announcement today by CARE's regional office in Seattle.

As a special volunteer service to CARE, the Roseburg bank is distributing Food Crusade material in the community while serving as headquarters for the relief program planned nationally to reach 4 million of the neediest people in 19 countries.

Special importance is given the 1963 drive because of the aid going to victims of the recent hurricane disaster in Haiti, where CARE has been asked by the U.S. government to provide food to 100,000 victims for four months.

The $1 packages, each containing 27 pounds or more of food, are delivered in the name and address of the donor, with deliveries supervised by CARE's American staff in each area of the 19 countries. Although contents vary, they consist mainly of powdered milk, flour, corn meal, processed wheat, edible oils from U.S. Food For Peace donations of farm abundance, plus items CARE buys to meet country needs.

In addition to emergency programs, packages will also go to help people feed themselves in the future. There are school-feeding projects to aid education, to sustain refugees resettled on new farmlands until crops come in, and to help villagers while they build farm-to-market roads, fishing boats and irrigation systems.

Food Crusade information is available at the Douglas County State Bank.

Benson Elementary School trick-or-treaters out on the prowl, Roseburg experienced a very mild Halloween Thursday night.

Individual winners were Connie Cummins of Eastwood, for "most original costume;" Deborah Reber of Riverside, "best clown;" Kathy Willis from Benson, "best witch;" and Steve Adams of Rose, "best goblin costume." Each won $5.

Although only about 200 youngsters took part in the parade, Donnelly said it would no doubt be staged again next year.

Roseburg City Police reported a couple of calls but nothing serious. The sheriff's department got a report of tires on a car being slashed, but otherwise the situation appeared to be very orderly.

Chief of Police John T. Truett reported there were about 800 young people attending the dance at the Elks Terrace ballroom. The teen-agers conducted themselves very commendably, he said.

Approximately 300 children called at the police station for candy treats, which was about the number expected for a first year, said Truett. The dance and treats were sponsored by the Roseburg Police Benefit Association.

Truett stated he wished to extend his thanks to the young people for their cooperation in not resorting to vandalism beyond having a little fun.

Nutrition And Health Classes Prove Popular

An average attendance of 50 persons was reported for the recent nutrition and health classes held in the Roseburg Junior Academy auditorium under the auspices of the Roseburg Seventh-day Adventist Church.

The two-week series featured material from the International Nutrition Research Foundation in Arlington, Calif., a division of Loma Linda University. Local doctors and other qualified and especially-trained personnel gave short lectures in presenting the material, according to church spokesmen. Mrs. A. B. Munroe was in charge of the series.

Open House Scheduled By Rose School PTA

The executive board of the PTA met Oct. 30 in the school conference room and plans were made for the downtown baked food sale scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 2. Proceeds are earmarked for PTA-supported youth programs at the school. Mrs. Finster reported.

NEW CHEVELLE!

BY CHEVROLET

The kind of handling ease you'd expect in a smaller car. Come on down and drive it.

Only a car that looks as good as this could come between Chevrolet and Chevy II. Come on down and stare at it.

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior. Come on down and sit in it.

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses*!

And if that makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea.

You've also got a roomy car here. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions bumps.

And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too.

Sound good? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all) the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price!

Like to hear more? The listening's wonderful at your Chevrolet dealer's—and so's the driving.
