

Negro Paraders Protest Racial Customs In Two Eastern States

By United Press International
Negroes paraded in Connecticut and North Carolina during the weekend to protest racial customs. The Connecticut demonstrators engaged in a bare-knuckle brawl with police, and six were ordered to appear in court today on breach of peace charges.

Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace continued his campaign to win northern support for his segregationist views with appearances scheduled today at Harvard University.

The governor, who twice forced the use of federal troops to carry out court-ordered integration in his home state, currently is on a five-day tour of the North.

Wallace appeared Sunday on a television program with Vermont Gov. Philip H. Hoff and vowed to continue his battle against integration "within the law and within the courts."

The Connecticut demonstration erupted in a fist fight when about 30 picketing members of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) refused police orders to quit blocking traffic leaving the Yale-Dartmouth football game at New Haven.

One policeman was knocked to the pavement, another was punched in the face, and one of the pickets was hit on the head. The Negroes were protesting bad housing conditions in a predominantly Negro neighborhood.

Other racial developments:
Lexington, N.C.: About 50 Negroes marched from a church to a white-only theater Sunday night and held a prayer service. They then repeated the

Roseburg Concert Set Tonight At 8

The Roseburg High School Girls Glee Club and Roseburg High A Cappella Choir join forces tonight for the 1963 fall concert, under the direction of Robert E. Robins.

The Glee Club will start the program with three selections, "Like a Father" by Cherubini; "Sing Along to God" by Michael Hydn; and "Three Songs from Sweden," with soloists Meredith Cone, Debbie DeBernardi and Catherine Smith.

The choir will sing "Psalm 124," "Locus Iste" by Anton Bruckner, "From the End of the Earth" by Alan Hovhanness, "The Eyes of the Lord Are Upon the Righteous" by Donald O. Johnston; "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" and "Consider Yourself" by Lionel Bart.

Other highlights of the evening will be selections by the Smith Twins, soprano Barbara Martin, the Senior Girls' Trio made up of Sherry Bogen, Anne Saunders and Peggy Harmon, and the Senior Boys' Trio made up of Doug Glover, Dave Hooper and Gary Riffe.

The concert will take place at the high school at 8 p.m.

Open House Slated At Fir Grove School

The Fir Grove PTA will sponsor an open house at the school tonight beginning at 7:30 p.m. All parents are urged to attend to make a tour of the school and visit with the individual teachers who will be in their respective rooms.

There will be a demonstration of the Science Research Association reading program by pupils of the third, fourth and fifth grades. The SRA kits were purchased for the school by the PTA.

A short business meeting will be held following the open house at which time plans will be made for the school carnival scheduled for Nov. 16. Refreshments will be served.

Open House Scheduled At Bailey Tree Farm

"Open house" of a type is being held at the Bill Bailey tree farm in Dixonville Tuesday.

The purpose is to give anyone interested a chance to visit the three farm and take part in a tour conducted by Bob Bradley, county extension forester, and Gary Sanders, Oregon State University extension forester.

Those attending are asked to be at the farm by 1 p.m. Directions may be obtained by stopping at the Dixonville store.

NR Sanitary District Petitions Available

Petitions are available at the North Roseburg Sanitary District office for those wishing to file for openings on the board of directors.

Two members of the board of directors will be elected to three-year terms. Those currently filling the positions are Francis Engle and Harold Patterson.

Petitions must be completed and returned to the North Sanitary District office by 5 p.m. Nov. 12. The election will be held Dec. 2.

Sunday Flue Fires

Flue fires Sunday evening had both the Roseburg City and Rural Fire Departments standing by. No damage was reported to either home.

At 5:47 p.m. the Rural Fire Department answered a call at the home of M. Revell, 1614 Eden Lane. The City Fire Department stood by during a flue fire at 8:15 p.m. at the home of George Rook, 926 SE Rice St., Roseburg.

Disorderly Conduct Charge Holds Youth

Mike Perry, 18, Rt. 1, Box 1142, Roseburg was scheduled for arraignment today before Municipal Judge Warren Woodruff on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Perry, arrested by city police over the weekend and released on posting $35 bail, is accused by beating a 15-year-old Roseburg boy, George Simpson, of 550 NW Bethel St., Roseburg, the night of Sept. 14.

According to city police reports, the boy had just left the Indian Theatre, headed south and at the crossing of SE Lane Ave. on SE Jackson St., was accosted by Perry, who jumped from his car and chased the boy. A fight ensued. The boy's father came to his assistance, reported the incident to city police, then filed a complaint next day. Police had been called to the scene but the participants had left prior to their arrival.

Sutherlin-Oakland Mortuary is in charge of arrangements.

Two Cars Collide

Minor damage was caused to two automobiles in Roseburg on SE Pine St. near SE Flood Ave., Sunday at 5 p.m. city police report.

A car operated by Harold Francis Schultz, 21, of Winston, was traveling south behind another car operated by Ray Oswald De Marrs, Medford. The De Marrs car signaled to change from the left to right lane, just as the Schultz car came up alongside. The latter car was struck on the rear bumper and signal light by the De Marrs car.

Rain, Cool Temps Due

The five-day weather forecast according to the Weather Bureau station at the Roseburg airport calls for temperatures below normal for the season. More than normal amounts of rain are expected.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®.

Kiwanians Host Glide Gridders

The Glide Kiwanis Club sponsored a trip for the Glide High varsity and freshman football teams to attend the Oregon State-Stanford football game held Saturday at Corvallis.

All Kiwanis Clubs in Oregon were celebrating "Kiwanis Kids' Day." The clubs invited either Boy Scouts or high school football teams. Over 4,000 boys attended the game, according to Gary Kennaday and Stan Young, captains of the Glide Wildcats.

Thirty-three Glide players, Head Football Coach Blair Harrington, Assistant Coach Gordon Carrigan and chaplains, Edward Morton GHS head baseball coach; Albert Jamison, father of one of the players and Carl Yeust, fire control officer of Steamboat Ranger Station, boarded the high school bus at 8 a.m. Saturday. Regulations required a chaperone for each group of 10 boys.

Coach Harrington reported to Glide Correspondent Mrs. Arthur Selby: "Only five of the 33 Glide players had ever seen a college game. They all gained knowledge of the technique of the game as played by top football players and I am confident my boys will now play harder in their high school games."

Man Accused In Wife-Slaying Plot Turns Red On Hearing Accusations

By H. D. QUIGG
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—The prosecution told the jury in the trial of accused wife killer T. Eugene Thompson today that it would show Thompson told his girl friend early in 1962, "Just give me 11 months" and he would be free to marry her.

The little, crewcut tow-head, who is accused of masterminding a plot to do away with his church-worker wife, Carol, 34, flushed scarlet many times about the face and neck during the one-hour opening statement by prosecutor William B. Randall in Hennepin County Court.

Thompson, 35, was a rising St. Paul criminal attorney until the savage bludgeon-stab murder of Carol Thompson, mother of four, in their Highland Park home in St. Paul last March 6.

Reveals Girl Friend

Randall, his six-foot-three frame hunched over a little blue lectern sitting on the counsel table, jabbing two skinny fingers constantly toward the jury box, stood only 10 feet from the sitting defendant when he brought out the existence of a girl friend.

He said the state would show Thompson had financed her training in a secretarial school before she got a job in his office, had taken her dining and dancing in the Twin City area. "The state will show that on several occasions he rented hotel or motel rooms and there spent the night—not with Carol," Randall said.

His voice rising in a measured cadence, Randall said the state would show that Thompson in 13 months before Carol's murder had accumulated $1,055,000 in accidental death insurance on her, of which he was the beneficiary.

Randall disclosed the state expects to prove that the murder was planned originally for March 5, but that something went wrong with the plan. He indicated the killer lurked in the basement and was to be lured by the ringing of a telephone at 8:25 a.m., at which time he would mount the basement stairs and slug Mrs. Thompson—standing at the only telephone in the house—on the back of the head with a rubber hose.

Randall said Thompson had identified a length of hose found in the house after the murder, as his.

The state also will show, Randall said, that the defendant "instigated, planned and helped in this murder."

"Just 14 days after the death of Carol Thompson, this defendant turned over to another attorney an unmarked envelope containing 25 $100 bills," Randall said.

"He told another attorney to deliver this to Norman J. Mastrian, and the attorney did, and told Mastrian it was 'a return of a fee.'" Randall said. Mastrian is accused as the "middle man" in the case.

Area Women Due At Portland Meet

Three University of Oregon mothers from this area will attend the fall state-wide board meeting of the University of Oregon to be held in Portland Wednesday of this week. They are Mrs. E. V. Lincoln and Mrs. L. F. Parks of Roseburg and Mrs. Paul Dodd of Winston.

Mrs. Lincoln is president of the Roseburg unit of the University of Oregon Mothers Club and Mrs. Parks is vice president. Mrs. Dodd is district vice president of the state group.

The meeting, to be held at Hillville restaurant, will draw board members from throughout the state. Speakers for the meeting will include Mrs. Golda Wickham, university dean of women; Ray Hawk, dean of men; and Karl W. Onthank, counselor for University Mothers and Dads clubs. Arthur S. Flemming, university president, is also expected to be in attendance.
