Myrtle Creek

German Pupil Active In School Functions

Myrtle Creek High School's German exchange student, Hans-Georg Schmitz, is taking an active part in the school's functions.

Hans participates in cross country because he has a chance to keep physically fit and to take part in a team activity. For other extra-curricular activities, Hans attends the Photocub, Drama Club and the International Relations League.

In Germany he would be taking 12 subjects, some of which are studied only twice a week. At Myrtle Creek he has six subjects to study, going to each class once a day. Students in Germany go to school from six in the morning until shortly after one in the afternoon for six days a week.

Starting to America last summer, Hans met other German and American exchange students, including Myrtle Creek's own Bonnie Wright, who is now living with Hans' parents in Germany. Later in Brussels he met the exchange students from other European countries.

During his four-day stay near New York, he had no time to tour the city. As he crossed the continent he saw no landmarks, with the exception of what he viewed from his window. The green hills and the forest cover of Oregon impressed him, since his home land is very flat.

When Hans returns to Germany next year, he plans to continue his high school education.

Roseburg

Roseburg 4 On OSU List

Four students from Roseburg are listed among the 102 Oregon State University freshmen who qualified for the School of Science Honors Program this fall.

They are Paul M. Felker of 1085 N. W. Harlan Avenue; Joyce M. Larson, 430 S. E. Leeland; Timothy C. McCarthy, Route 3, Box 75; and Jeffrey W. Smith, 2441 West Lorraine.

The Honors program was started in 1959 at OSU to "enrich and extend academic opportunities" for top students.

To qualify for the program, students must have ranked in the upper one-fifth of their high school graduating class, have had all A and B grades in science and mathematics, and have been recommended by their high school principal or science instructor.

All four are graduates of Roseburg high school.

Douglas

Pancake Feed Set At Douglas

A pancake supper, under the direction of the Douglas High School Student Council, will be held Saturday from 5 to 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria, to raise money for the football lights.

The supper will be held just before the practice game with a team from the Sunset League. The public is invited to attend. There will be special prices for families and children under 12.

Student body volunteers will be serving in the cafeteria. Entertainment will be provided throughout the evening.

According to Associated Student Body president Juanita Ching plans for the supper are still being formulated. It is hoped that all of the student body will participate, she said.

Friday night, Oct. 25, spectators of the Douglas-Riddle football game at Douglas High School witnessed the dedication of the new football lights, concession stand and scoreboard.

Juanita Ching, Associated Student Body president, gave an appreciation speech and then introduced Phil Daniels and Jim Richie.

Daniels spoke on behalf of the football team and Lettermen's Club. Richie, a member of the school board, acknowledged all persons and organizations helping make this long-awaited dream come true.

RHS Selects Four Students To AFS Study

Four American Field Service exchange students will be chosen from Roseburg High School. Names will be announced Nov. 8.

From 11 applicants the four most qualified are to be chosen. According to Gene Bolen, dean of boys at Roseburg High School, these four will compete nationally in New York with all the other semi-finalists from the high schools participating in the AFS program. Narrowed down from all of the semi-finalists in the Nation, the four students best qualified will have the privilege of living abroad. The finalists' names will be announced in March.

Because of the lack of housing facilities, six foreign students will have the opportunity to live in America, while one American student will live abroad.

In the grade school division, first place went to the third grade. One unit, Mrs. Elbert Troxell's class, represented firemen with a fire truck, stretcher and fire net. The other, Mrs. S. Palmer's class, represented a pirate boat. The first grade, Mrs. Roy Anderson and Mrs. George Wobbe's classes, won second with the theme of "Class of '76." The third place went to the fifth grade which used pirate ships as its theme for both Mrs. Don May and Floyd Wright's classes.

Bob and Linda Servaes, who dressed in pioneer costume and accompanied a covered wagon drawn by a white goat, won the prize for the best individual entry.

Under the organizations division, the Glendale School Band won first place. Second prize for organizations went to the Job's Daughters float which featured their Honored Queen and officers. Third went to the GAA and Lettermen's Clubs with their prisoner (Glide) in a cage.

Team teaching, its beginning, how much has been accomplished and what is planned for the future, will be discussed Nov. 10. Supervising teachers from Riverside, Joseph Lane, Fremont and the high school, as well as Harry Jacoby, assistant superintendent of schools, will take part in the discussion.

On Nov. 17 a panel of high school students will discuss what they think should make up a student code of dress.

Riddle

Rally Squad Girls Picked

Leading the Riddle Varsity cheerleading squad this year is Yell Queen Carole Johnson, who is backed up by Susan Daniels, Debby Roberts, Beryl Brown and Freda Loughridge.

Junior Varsity tryouts were held last Tuesday. Carla Weakley, Janet Denton, Kathy Robbins, Sharylle Morrison, and Irene Bishop were the five picked for this year.

Two of the varsity girls, Debby and Beryl, went to cheerleading school at Lewis and Clark College this summer. The girls came back with many new yells and motions which are helping them greatly this year.

At the present time the cheerleaders have school bracelets which they plan to sell in the near future to raise money.

The rally squad had various money-making projects this past summer. The girls held car washes and worked for the school on schedule cards, checking new books, and inventorying all books in the school.

2 County Schools Try New Periods

Activity procedures have been changed at Myrtle Creek High School to permit clubs and other extra-curricular groups to meet during the day. A half-hour will be set aside during class periods for groups to meet on Wednesdays, eliminating activity periods which have been permitted during the last half hour of the day every few weeks.

The science club, International Relations League, the Future Teachers of America, and the Future Homemakers of America met Oct. 23 during the last half hour of period one. On the other Wednesdays other groups may meet during the last half hour of later periods of the day.

Formerly students not participating in meetings were permitted to go home. The new plan was evolved by members of the faculty appointed to a special evaluation committee.

A new activity period began at Roseburg High School for the first time Nov. 4 on a trial basis, reports Robert McKee, principal.

The period, lasting 30 minutes, occurs between first and second periods and is designed for club meetings, teacher conferences, class work, and library work. Students are required to remain on the campus just as in a regular period.

The RHS administration hopes for increased participation in studies and clubs with the addition of activity period.

Oakland OHS Holds 'Hush Day'

October 18 was "Hush Day" at Oakland High School.

On this day the girls could not talk to the boys unless they purchased a one-minute speech ticket. If a boy persuaded a girl to talk to him without a ticket, she paid a one-ticket penalty. At the first kickoff of the football game that afternoon the students popped pep bags and then everyone was able to converse.

At the end of the day the boy with the greatest amount of tickets was named. That evening at the "Hush Day" dance the announcement that Wayne Davis, a sophomore, had earned the title of "Mr. Irresistible." The day and dance sponsored by the Peppercuts as a fund-raising campaign was well received by the student body.

Roseburg Youths Headed For LDS Mission Posts

The jet age was a reality Tuesday for two young Roseburg lads who winged their way from Salt Lake City, Utah, to their respective mission stations with the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

Elder Courtney Healy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carson Healy, left the Salt Lake City Airport at 10 a.m. Tuesday and was in Paris the same night. He has accepted a call to serve in the French East Mission with headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland, for two and a half years.

Elder Lynn Anderson, son of Bishop and Mrs. Ralph Anderson, took off from the same airport at 2 p.m. Tuesday and was scheduled to arrive in Australia today. He will be working in the South Australian Mission with headquarters in Melbourne for the next two years. Missionaries in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints serve for two or two and a half years in the mission field at their own expense.

Elders Anderson and Healy, along with some 200 other young men and women have spent the past week in the Missionary Home in Salt Lake City. Following this week of training they joined 12,000 other missionaries who are laboring in the missions of the church.

Both local young men are 1962 graduates of Roseburg High School. They have been students for the past year at Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah.

Other missionaries serving the church from this area are Elder Thomas A. Weeks, Military Drive; Elder Bernard Fenn, 2337 NE Diamond Lake Blvd.; Elder Thomas Hatfield, Garden Valley; and Elder Larry Tavener, Myrtle Creek.

Glendale

Glendale Celebration Successful

Community participation in the annual Homecoming Parade held recently reached an all time high at Glendale when classes and organizations of the high school, the school band, the Boy Scout troop, and all classes of the grade school took part.

The winner in the float division of the parade was the senior float, which also won the sweepstakes award. The aqua and white float, pictured above, featured the senior princess, Patti Buchanan, who was crowned as Homecoming Queen between halves of the football game with Glide that evening. Her court included Monta Raye Derschied, Glenna Gilmore, and Linda Van Duine.

Juniors and the freshmen tied for second place. Each of the tying floats, as well as the sophomore class float which did not place, featured the class princess and her court, each of whom were given places of honor on the float.

Included were juniors, June Croff, princess, and Susan Brady, Carol Burgoyne, and Joneen Payne, court; freshmen, Diana Sallee, princess, and Linda Sheppard, Loretta Byrd, and Susan Lowden, court; and sophomore, Sandra Troxel, princess, and Sue King and Barbara Van Norman, attendants.

In the grade school division, first place went to the third grade. One unit, Mrs. Elbert Troxell's class, represented firemen with a fire truck, stretcher and fire net. The other, Mrs. S.
