

High Court Opens Lengthy Arguments On Reapportioning

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court Tuesday opened marathon arguments on whether urbanites are denied a constitutional right to equal representation in state legislatures.

Arguments were to begin on a New York reapportionment case as soon as the court disposed of the first decisions and orders of its 24th sessions. The court heard 24 cases in October and was expected to have a few opinions ready.

New York attorney Leonard B. Sand, representing radio station WMCA, its president, R. Peter Straus, and five other individuals, was scheduled to lead off arguments on the New York appeal.

He is attacking the 68-year-old formula in the state constitution for apportioning seats in both the Senate and the Assembly. New York City and Westchester, Nassau and Suffolk counties are specifically involved.

Pleads For Urbanites

The complainants argue that the formula gives vastly more weight to the votes cast in rural areas than to those from cities. Therefore, it violates the guarantee in the U.S. constitution.

Let Opponents Make Mistakes

By OSWALD JACOBY

spades from dummy and played his own nine. West won with the queen and found himself in an end play. A heart lead would give Paul a chance to ruff in his own hand and discard a club from dummy. After that Paul would play the ace and king of clubs, ruff a club, and finesse against East's king of spades.

West chose to lead a club. Dummy's jack won the trick and the finesse was taken against the king of spades.

Do you readers see how West might have beaten the hand? All he had to do was to lead the queen of spades when he was in with the ace of hearts.

Q.—The bidding has been:
 South West North East
 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass
 2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

You, South, hold:
 ♠ A 2 ♥ A 3 ♦ K J 7 6 ♣ A Q 10 8 8
 What do you do?
 A.—Bid three spades. You aren't passing three no-trump by this bid and you are not showing a real spade suit.

TODAY'S QUESTION
 Instead of bidding three diamonds your partner jumps from two diamonds to four. What do you do now?
