

House Vote To Override Veto Is New Experience For Mark

SALEM (UPI) —The House voted Tuesday to override a veto by Gov. Mark Hatfield—the first time the House has done so in Hatfield's five years as governor.

The vote was 46-12, six more than the two-thirds needed. The 12 siding with the governor were all members of his party, but that still left 16 Republicans joining 30 Democrats against Hatfield.

The Senate was expected to go along with the veto. Not only would it be the first time in Hatfield's career that a veto has failed to stand, but the bill itself extends legislative powers over rule-making agencies under Hatfield.

The bill gives the Legislative Counsel the right, upon receiving a complaint, to review a rule or regulation issued by a regulatory agency in the executive branch.

The counsel then may recommend changes to the next session of the legislature.

Veto Reason Given
Hatfield's veto message objected that the bill dilutes the separation of powers between the legislative branch of government and the executive and judicial branches.

He said it makes the executive branch unnecessarily subject to the legislature.

Hatfield added that if the legislature is unhappy about the rulemaking powers it has delegated to executive agencies, it should change the law.

Rep. George Filcraft, R-Klamath Falls, replied that was just what the legislature was doing.

"The trend toward this sort of procedure is increasing," he said.

He said the Legislative Council will only be authorized to review and recommend, and the final disposition will remain within the legislature.

The house went along with Hatfield on two other vetoes, one on a bill to let the Justice Department charge dedicated fund agencies for legal services, and the other on a bill dealing with standards for trailer parks.

The bills had been passed by the 1963 regular session. They had nothing to do with the state's fiscal crisis for which the current special session was called, but veto messages must be dealt with at the next session of the legislature after they are issued.

In his five years as governor, Hatfield has vetoed 41 measures. Of these 36 vetoes were sustained, four Senate measures await action, and the veto overridden Tuesday in the House went to the Senate.

Storm Sewer Survey Set By Myrtle Creek Council

The Myrtle Creek City Council at its regular meeting Tuesday night authorized City Engineer Don Martin to make a survey of water drainage in the downtown area and prepare a map showing low spots not now adequately handled by the present storm sewer system.

According to Lorraine Biren-baum, correspondent, action is expected to be taken to upgrade the storm sewer following Martin's survey. Some business establishments are plagued by run-off water during the rainy season, Mrs. Birenbaum said.

In other action the council approved liquor license renewals for the following firms: The Market, Lilley's Grocery, HeHa Tavern, Alma's Tavern, Myrtle Hotel, and The Nutt Shell. Applications for renewal for The Nutt Shell was made by its former owner, Wayne Nutt, who recently sold the business to Steve Swan of Roseburg. Swan was also present at the council meeting to make his own request for liquor license renewal for the establishment. Final details of the sale transaction are pending state approval of the license and the double request was filed according to state statutes.

Vera White, park committee chairman, was present at the meeting and told the council that she would have a complete report of the income and expenses of the new Myrtle Creek swimming pool during its first summer of operation ready for presentation at the next council meeting.

Fire Chief Floyd Campbell reported that progress on the new addition to the fire hall was proceeding satisfactorily and that paving work in connection with the construction was to be done this week. A report was also given on the progress of the new street lighting project.

City Recorder Frank Danner was given permission to transfer $10,000 from a sinking fund earmarked for improvements to Division Street to a time deposit in the local bank to draw interest until such time as the street improvements were instituted.

Neighborhood TV, an organization holding a franchise to supply cable TV to 11 residences, was given permission to hook up its 11th patron, resolving a doubt to whether the patron was in the circumscribed area.

County Listed As Off Limits For Russians

Douglas County was listed as one of 13 Oregon counties classified as off limits to Russian citizens traveling in the United States, the State Department said today.

Six of the counties, Benton, Coos, Klamath, Linn, Morrow and Multnomah, were also restricted to members of Bulgarian, Czechoslovak, Hungarian, Polish and Rumanian missions in this country.

Douglas, Lane, Marion, Polk, Washington and Yamhill counties are closed to Russians but open to Eastern Europeans.

The State Department said today in Washington that about 1 per cent of the United States was marked off limits to diplomats from the five Eastern European countries to discourage spying.

Roughly 26 per cent of the nation, including Douglas County, has been closed to Russian citizens, but the system of closed areas did not apply to representatives of the other countries.

There was no official reason given for adding Douglas County to the list of off limits territory to Russians.

U.S. officials who announced the travel ban Tuesday said it was designed to close a loophole which had allowed satellite officials to gather intelligence data in parts of the United States closed to Russians.

Roughly 26 per cent of the United States has been closed to Russian citizens since 1955 in retaliation for travel curbs imposed by the Soviet Union on Americans.

Though there have been some restrictions on Eastern Europeans—such as having to give advance notice of trips—the system of closed areas did not apply to them.

Thus, if a Soviet military attaché could not visit a U.S. defense area, he always could get the military attaché of a Red satellite country to go for him.

The State Department also revised the restricted areas for Russians, closing some new localities and opening others, to take into account the fact that strategic areas have changed in recent years. The total area closed to Russians, however, is still about 26 per cent.

The Eastern European countries affected by the new rules are Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland and Romania.

In the case of Hungary the requirement that advance notice of trips be given was removed.

Hart Attack Claims Man Driving Truck

Ralph Edward Williams, 59, of Canyonville, apparently was a victim of a heart attack while driving along Interstate Highway 5 just south of Myrtle Creek about 10:20 a.m. Tuesday.

Williams, an employee of the Oregon State Highway Department, was operating a 1959 dump truck for the state and traveling northbound. According to investigating state police, the seizure is believed to have caused the pickup to veer off the traveled road onto the shoulder, where it struck the guard rail, then traveled 1,000 feet before stopping.

On arrival of officers at the scene, the car engine was dead, the ignition key in an "on" position and Williams was slumped over the steering wheel. The body was taken to Ganz Mortuary at Myrtle Creek.

Glendale Pair Held

Harlan Strand, 22, Glendale, and a minor were arrested by Glendale Police Chief Bob Miller early Sunday. The minor was cited for possession of liquor, and Strand for giving liquor to a minor.

Sunday evening William H. Hale, 24, of Grants Pass, was arrested by Chief Miller and cited for driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

They were to appear before the justice of the peace court this week, reports correspondent Mrs. G. B. Fox.

Father Exonerated

Future Farmers Will Benefit From Showing Of Alaska Film

"Alaska, Land of Adventure" is the title of a colored movie which will be presented Nov. 25 and 26 at the Roseburg High School auditorium. Showing time is 7:30 both nights.

The showing is sponsored by the Roseburg chapter of Future Farmers of America, and all proceeds will go to the FFA. The film is one and a half hours in length, with natural color and live narration.

The movie will feature an on-the-spot walrus hunt with the Eskimo, a story about a mother brown bear who has six cubs (and how she acquires them) and a polar bear hunt which shows the bear's moment of decision between retreating or attacking the camera.

Other shots will show the fighting silver salmon in a brilliant display of acrobatics, the huge Kenai Peninsula moose and the majestic caribou of the northern flatlands.

The film is presented by Marvin Eppes and Harold Parker. Eppes, an Alaskan guide, was reared in Roseburg and was graduated from Roseburg High School with the class of 1945. Parker, his partner and pilot, lived in Southern California before going to Alaska. The two men are currently engaged in commercial fishing, guiding and photography in Alaska. Their wives are the former Gerry and Betty Jo Taylor, also from Roseburg. They and their families accompany their husbands to Alaska each summer and actively take part in the fishing business.

Some of the pictures to be shown were taken during guided hunts and will give the public a first hand view of Alaska wildlife and scenery.

Police Find Clue To Missing Coed

ALBANY, Calif. (UPI) — Police today had their second major break in as many days in the baffling disappearance of a University of California coed who dropped from sight 16 days ago en route to classes in neighboring Berkeley.

Police late Tuesday night found two text books carried by 18-year-old Judith Williamson the morning she vanished. Both books were splattered with blood.

Chief Ralph Jensen confirmed the finding of the books, but he refused to reveal where they were found or who found them.

"We have some pretty good leads," Jensen said, "and we don't want to spook anybody."

On Monday, an 11-year-old boy turned over to police an umbrella Judith had been carrying the day of her disappearance. He said he had found the umbrella in a trash can three days after the attractive coed was reported missing.

Discovery of the books and the umbrella strengthened fears by police that the girl was the victim of an attack.

Judith left her home at 7:10 a.m. Oct. 29 for a five-block walk to catch a bus for the university.

Later, two persons told of seeing a car following Judith as she walked toward the bus stop and a third said he saw a girl who could have been Judith struggling in a convertible with a man shortly after she vanished.

Indian Club Sets Annual Banquet

Plans were announced today by the Roseburg Indian Club to hold the annual football banquet honoring the RHS grid squad on Dec. 4 in the Gold Room of the Umpqua Hotel.

Tickets will go on sale at the Indian Club luncheon at noon Friday at the Elks Club. Members of the Indian Club and parents of the football players will get first chance at the banquet tickets. Tentative plans call for seating about 300 at the banquet.

Bruce Elliott is chairman for the banquet and Harry Winter is in charge of ticket sales.

Search On For Second Boating Upset Victim

COOS BAY (UPI) —Search continued today for the body of a second man lost when the 43-foot cabin cruiser Avanti capsized in heavy surf off Coos Bay early Tuesday.

The body of one man, tentatively identified by relatives as Roswell Fred McCarty, 41, Seattle, was found later in the morning in the surf.

Also aboard the craft was Norman Ledger, 56, Seattle. They were taking the pleasure craft to San Francisco at the time of the accident.

Hulett Is Named Marshal In State

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today selected Eugene G. Hulett of Eugene to be U.S. marshal for Oregon. The appointment is subject to Senate confirmation.

Hulett, 41, succeeds the late Paul Kearney.

Hulett is a Democrat and a first-term member of the Oregon state legislature. He will receive $10,895 a year as a federal marshal.

Hulett is married and has one son. He was educated in the public schools of Springfield, Ore., and served as a member of the Oregon State Police Department from 1943 to 1960.

Since 1960, he has been operating a retail grocery business in Eugene.

Work Starts Monday On New Forest Road

Fred Lemery, Eugene contractor, plans to start work Monday on a project of reconstructing portions of the Bryce Creek Road in the Bohemia Ranger District.

The work will be done on four sections along a two-mile area extending southeast from Cedar Creek Camp on the Bryce Creek Road. The project starts about two miles inside the forest boundary which is five miles southeast of Disston and about 25 miles east of Cottage Grove.

Umpqua National Forest officials said the improvement involves widening, straightening and resurfacing with crushed rock portions of the old mining road which once provided key access to the Bohemia Mines.

Will Aid Hauling
Forest officials said the project is being undertaken to provide improved access to timber resources of Bohemia District. The area of the old mining road to be improved is presently quite narrow and crooked. The improvement will bring the road up to good forest road standard from Disston to the top of the Calapooya Divide.

Wreck Damages Explosives Truck

Two 1963 pickup trucks, registered to a Lubbock, Tex., man, R. H. Fulton, and a loaded explosives van truck were involved in an accident on Highway Interstate 5 near the Sutherlin junction at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday, state police report.

The first pickup, operated by William Henry Leflore, Myrtle Creek, traveling north, had slowed for traffic in heavy fog. The second pickup, operated by Albert Junior Gouley, Carlton, Ore., with Ralph E. Smith, Oakland, as a passenger, slowed behind Leflore.

The explosives truck, registered to Reliable Hardware Co., Arcata, Calif., and operated by Herbert Christian Heil, Arcata, was unable to reduce his speed sufficiently to stop and skidded forward, hitting the pickup operated by Gouley.

Gouley attempted to avoid the accident by swinging across the shoulder onto an access road, but didn't quite make it. His vehicle was forced into the first pickup.

Damage was extensive to the explosives truck. The driver was cited for following too close.

Felony Threat Case Dropped

A charge of a threatening commission of a felony, brought in a private complaint against Willie Holder, 23, also known as Armond Brown, of 4073 SW Hanna St., has been dismissed by order of Justice of Peace Ward Watson at Sutherlin.

The reason for dismissal is that the complaining witness, Veronica Hancock, same address, has withdrawn charges.

Holder was arrested Monday by Roseburg City Police on the felony warrant. Police also lodged another charge against him, that of having a concealed weapon. Police said he had a fully loaded 32.20 cal. pistol under some papers in his car at the time of arrest.

However, on arraignment in Roseburg Municipal Court Tuesday Holder pleaded innocent to the concealed weapons charge.

In other municipal court actions, Edwin Thomas Graves, 25, Winston, pleaded innocent to vagrancy, for late and unusual hours, on arraignment before Judge Warren Woodruff. Two companions, Lawrence Sylvester Norton Jr., 21, Winston, and Joseph Thomas D. Smith, 22, Riddle, each forfeited $35 bail by failure to appear. Their arrest followed an earlier disturbance in a parking lot of an apartment house.

New Lead Checked In Peckham Mystery

An unconfirmed report that William E. Peckham, missing since Friday, was in Reno, Nev., is being checked into by local authorities.

The report was to the effect Peckham had cashed a $50 check in the Nevada city on Monday. Peckham left home about 11 a.m. Friday, was known to have stopped at a Roseburg bank about noon, but his whereabouts since that time have not been learned.

Peckham did not show up for work at the county courthouse, where he served as a family relations counselor and did not return home. He has been the object of a widespread search since.

EXTENSION MEET SET

The Days-Creek Canyonville Home Extension Unit will meet at 10:30 a.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Rose Pilhofer in Canyonville. There will be a potluck dinner at noon. Mrs. Art Van Leuwen and Mrs. Hayden Laurence will present the program on "Funerals."

City Superintendent Appointed For Riddle

The Riddle City Council Tuesday night hired Orban E. Wilds, 49, Sutherlin, for the position of city superintendent, reports Erma Best, News-Review correspondent.

Wilds, currently employed by the city of Sutherlin as sewage plant operator, will take over his new position in about two weeks. His wife and three children, 7 to 9 years, will move to Riddle at the change of the school semester.

Wilds will replace Chris Hood, who died of a heart condition Sept. 10. The position has remained vacant since that time.
