Dear Abby!

Shades Of Criticism!

— By ABIGAIL VANBUREN —

DEAR ABBY: Just before report-card time, our sixth grade teacher told us to write a paragraph grading HER on her personality and teaching ability. She said we could tell about her good points and bad points and nothing would be held against us. Well, I thought she really meant it, so I went ahead and told her what I thought of her. I guess maybe I didn't say enough about her good points and kind of went overboard on her bad points, because my mother just got a letter from the teacher telling everything I wrote, and saying how horrible it was of me. Now my mother is making me write an "I'm sorry" letter to the teacher. Do you think it was fair of this teacher? Also should I have to write that "I'm sorry" letter? I thank you.

A SIXTH GRADER

DEAR SIXTH GRADER: I think your teacher was extremely unfair! But your Mom is trying to teach you that although some people insist they want to hear the truth about themselves, if it's unflattering, they resent it. Mom is the boss, Honey, so write that letter, and remember the lesson.
