

Marine Gets Year In Jail For Damage To Juke Box

Roger Lee Marine, 36, of Seaford, Del., Thursday was sentenced to serve one year in the Douglas County jail on a charge of malicious and wanton injury to personal property.

He pleaded guilty to the charge, brought in the district attorney's information, accusing him of damaging a juke box belonging to Gladys Sanders, owner of the Sandy's Tavern on May 24, 1962. The Grand Jury indictment charging him with burglarizing the place will be dismissed.

Sentence Concurrent

Marine's sentence will run concurrently with one for six months he is currently serving on which he pleaded guilty to a charge of taking and using an automobile without the owner's consent. Credit was given him for time he already has served in jail. A detainer has been placed against him by California authorities for parole violation.

Dennis Alvin Langenberg, 20, of Winnis, was sentenced to serve six months in the Douglas County jail, with credit for time already served and probation for two years after he has served 60 days. He pleaded guilty to a charge, reduced from contributing to the delinquency of a minor, of vagrancy, in which he was accused of "inviting and persuading juvenile girls to come to his apartment" where liquor was dispensed, where they allegedly imbibed beyond their capacity and judgment, and where the peace and quiet of the neighborhood "may have been disturbed." The original charge had accused him of giving liquor to a 12-year-old girl in his apartment.

Time Asked

Ruby Serogins, 51, Winston, asked time in which to enter a plea when he appeared in answer to a Grand Jury indictment charging him with assault and battery by means of force, likely to produce great bodily injury. The case was continued to 1:30 p.m. Monday, and his bail was reduced to $2,500. The charge involves his alleged beating of his 12-year-old daughter with a belt.

Lawrence Edon Fowler, 36, Myrtle Creek, is booked at the county jail on a Humboldt County, Calif., warrant charging non-support.

Bertram R. Bainbridge, 25, Sutherland, is held on a Lane County warrant charging contributing to the dependency of a minor.

John Henry Reid, 57, Springfield, has been committed to the county jail in lieu of a $200 fine for drunken driving out of the court of Justice of the Peace Ward Collier at Reedsport.

Joe Edwards, 23, Winston is held as being absent without leave from the Army.

Coffee Event Boosts Local Dimes March

Plans for the Mothers' March of Dimes in January received an additional boost at a morning coffee held this week at the Umpqua Hotel and attended by chairmen and workers.

Present to lead the meeting were Walker Larson, state representative for the National Foundation; Bob Curtis, Douglas County campaign chairman; Gordon Wood, county chapter chairman; Mrs. Jack Norris, county chairman for the Mothers' March; and Mrs. Roger Smith, Roseburg chairman.

Some 200 women have already been signed up to participate in the march, and others are needed, it was reported. Outlying areas most short of workers are those of Sutherland and Myrtle Creek.

Mrs. Norris and Mrs. Smith reported on their recent trip to Portland where they joined other Mothers' March workers from throughout the state to hear Dr. Virginia Atgar, National Foundation leader of research into the cause of birth defects. Dr. Atgar told of how foundation funds are used to a large extent now in the birth defect field, giving hope that this area of tragedy can be narrowed as was the incidence of polio. A movie on what the March of Dimes is accomplishing today was also shown to the workers.

Women who would like to assist in the Mothers' March are asked to contact Mrs. Norris, Mrs. Rogers or Bob Curtis, all of Roseburg, or the chairman in their individual areas.

Wrong Address Given

A typographical error in last Saturday's News-Review incorrectly identified the address of the Roseburg office of Gregor, Gallus & Co. The accounting firm is located at 1547 SE Jackson.

Gallus, who bought out the practice of the late Walt Brittell some time ago, now makes his home in Roseburg while John Gregor is in charge of the firm's other office.

Gift Exchange Set

Zuleima Club, Daughters of the Nile, will hold its Christmas gift exchange and party tonight at the Harris Cafe.

The dinner at 7:30 will be preceded by a social hour starting at 6:30.

Democratic Leaders Plan Hearing On 'Succession'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic leaders today endorsed plans for January public hearings on the problem of presidential succession, but carefully reserved judgment on what form it should take.

The main point at issue now is how to deal with a vacancy in the vice presidency.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., told a reporter that hearings on two constitutional amendments introduced Thursday will "get the subject out in the open" for a determination of whether changes are needed.

Democratic Whip Hubert H. Humphrey, Minn., said he is asking about 50 top members of the American Political Science Association to "give us their views as guidelines" for any action.

He is a former officer of the association.

"By looking to the scholars we can get some very helpful guidance for the hearings," Humphrey said.

Humphrey told UPI he feels that the "appropriate form" for any change is the constitutional amendment, rather than legislation. But he added, "I'm not yet prepared to say which route by amendment is better."

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., proposed an amendment to provide for the immediate congressional election of a vice president when that office becomes vacant for any reason in this "split-second nuclear age." This would be done in joint session, with each member of House and Senate having one vote.

Planning Groups Hear Talk On Oregon Land Control Bill

The new Oregon subdivision control law, enacted by the 1963 state legislature, was explained to members of the Roseburg and Douglas County Planning Commissions Thursday night by William Healy, education supervisor for the state Department of Real Estate.

Healy explained the new law is aimed at controlling misleading and fraudulent advertising and actually affects only those subdivisions which are advertised out of state. He said the law is aimed primarily at low-cost desert lands which some promoters have been trying to sell "sight unseen" to out-of-state residents at fantastic profits.

Penalties Heavy

Violation of the law can bring a fine of up to $10,000 or a prison sentence of up to three years.

A federal court jury in Pendleton is currently deliberating a case in which seven men are charged with misleading advertising involving mail fraud in the sale of Harney County land.

Healy said the Planning Commissions are concerned with the subdivision law itself, but not with the subdivision control law. All persons who subdivide land must comply with the subdivision law by having their plats approved by the planning commission. All persons are required to file a preliminary notice of intent to sell subdivided land with the state Real estate commissioner once their plats have been approved by the planning commission. If, however, they do not plan to advertise the land out of state, an immediate waiver (at no cost) will be granted, Healy said.

If there is intention to advertise the land for sale out of state, filing fees are required and all advertising material must be approved by the Real Estate Commission. In addition, the real estate department will make a personal survey of the property and file a public report on the property. A copy of this public report must be given to each prospective buyer.

Method Outlined

For Douglas County subdivisions, this means basically they are required (as in the past) to have a plat of their subdivision approved by the city or county planning commission. Once that plat has been approved, they are required to file intent to sell, and if they do not plan to advertise out of state, they will receive an automatic waiver and will be able to proceed with the sale of their land, Healy explained. Those who may plan to advertise out of state will receive additional forms from the Real Estate Commission after they have filed their intent to sell forms.

Lighting Contest Set By Jaycees

The annual Roseburg Christmas home lighting contest will be sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with Pacific Power & Light Co.

Norman Neal, chairman, said categories will be open to residents of the Roseburg area. Categories will be determined by cost of displays. First category will be for displays costing up to $25; second for those from $25 to $75; and third, for those over $75.

Displays will be judged on artistic merit, originality of design, lighting techniques and ingenuity. First, second and third place winners in each group will be awarded trophies. A trophy and revolving plaque will be awarded the grand sweepstakes winner. This trophy and plaque will be awarded each year. If won three times, it will become a permanent prize.

Entries in the contest must be postmarked by Dec. 18. Judging is set for Dec. 20, and the winners will be announced Dec. 23. Those wishing to enter the contest, should mail a postcard with their name, address, category entered and explicit directions for finding the house. It is also requested that the house number be visible. Entries should be sent to Junior Chamber of Commerce, Post Office Box 681, Roseburg. All those who entered last year, are encouraged particularly to enter again this year. Neal

Junior High Schools Set Hoop Encounter

A basketball battle of the small giants is scheduled next Wednesday at the Fremont Junior High School gymnasium.

It will pit the crosstown rivals, Fremont and Joseph Lane Junior High freshman squads, both undefeated so far this season. The game will be played at 1:30 before the assembly of both schools is expected to be a close one.

The Joseph Lane freshmen Grants Pass freshmen, 63-48, to claim their second victory. Earlier this month, Fremont stopped the same squad, 56-38.

Grants Pass had the top scorer in Gary Bates, who hit 18, but Joseph Lane spread its scoring evenly to win the game. Leading Lane scorer was Don Orwick with 10. Tom Hoskot and Don Hobbs each had nine.

Dear Abby! Double Commentary!

— By ABIGAIL VANBUREN —

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were married for ten years. We were divorced, but have maintained a very good relationship in spite of it. He sometimes comes and spends the weekend in my home. I live alone. It has come back to me that this is very improper since he is no longer my husband. Neither of us has married again. We are both over 35, and what we do is OUR business. I would like you to run this in your column so all the busy-bodies will quit running their mouths. Thank you.

OLD ENOUGH

DEAR OLD: What you do is indeed your business. But you should be aware that you are doing business without a license.

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor whom I considered a good friend had a garage sale. I bought an old lamp for a dollar. In the meantime I became interested in antiques and, after this lamp sat in a corner of my basement for about a year, I found out the glass shade was a genuine antique and was worth $30. My friend heard about it and came across the street to tell me that since we are such good friends I should either sell the lamp back to her for a dollar, or split the $30 with her if I sell it. I've never been so hurt in all my life. My friends say a deal is a deal and I should keep the lamp. What is your opinion?

UPSET

DEAR UPSET: A deal is a deal, and if your neighbor's friendship isn't worth any more than $15 you won't have lost much.

DEAR ABBY: Last year Grandma died, and the big old house was too much work for her, so my husband and I offered to buy it from her. We put our house on the market and went apartment-hunting for a Grandma. Our children told all their friends that we were moving to Grandma's house. That was our big mistake. It soon got back to us that all our relatives were saying that we were pushing Grandma out of her house so we could live in it, so we quickly gave up the idea. Yesterday I learned that my brother had just signed the papers. HE is buying Grandma's house, and Grandma is moving into an apartment! If you are wondering what the relatives' think, from all I've heard, they think it's great. There must be a moral somewhere in this dirty deal, but I'm too mad to figure it out. Can you?

DIRTY DEAL

DEAR DIRTY DEAL: When you know you're shooting square, don't be influenced by the babbling of others.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
