It is the heart of a demanding land that gave birth to Christianity and Judaism. Moslems hold it sacred as the spot from which the prophet Mohammed ascended to heaven.

Today it is as much a city of sorrow as ever. Enmity between Arab and Jew divides Jerusalem with a wall, leaving the city's holy Christian shrines in the Jordanian section. Here slightly more than 60,000 Arab Moslems and Christians follow a life that in many ways has not changed since Pontius Pilate washed his hands of Christ.

Donkeys shuffle along narrow alleys past mud-brick homes. The souk (Arab bazaar) still terms with tiny shops. Brown-eyed waifs still scamper among the crowds. You can still eat the same greasy meats that made the Crusaders ill.

Retraces Christ's Steps
Pope Paul VI will come here to retrace part of the Way of the Cross, the Via Dolorosa, and say Mass over the spot enshrined as the tomb of Christ in the Church of the Holy Sepulcher. The pontiff will follow paths and visit places marked out by centuries of tradition and exhaustive research.

He comes as a pilgrim to a city that knew pilgrims long before David struck down the Jebusites in 1000 B.C. and captured it for the Israelites.

Here was an altar to a fire god. Here was Solomon's Holy of Holies. Here the place where Christ was crucified. Here, as well, is the spot where Omar built the first mosque on the site of the present Dome of the Rock. The prophet Isaiah lived here. Outside the walls St. Stephen, the first Christian martyr, was stoned to death.

Standing on a narrow plateau jutting southward from the Judean hills, Jerusalem guards the line between the desert and the sea beyond. A learned man once said it was all olive, desert and rock.

Excavations have shown that generation upon generation have called it home since 3,000 years before Christ. Trade routes from the north, from Syria, Galilee and Samaria, and on to the east intersect nearby and it was still early in the time of man when Jerusalem became an important fortress.

The roll call of this old city's conquerors and rulers touches the golden pages of history. After David came his son Solomon. Hezekiah beat off the Assyrians in 701 B.C., Nebuchadnezzar sacked the city in 586 B.C., and his Babylonians destroyed Solomon's temple. Cyrus of Persia allowed the exiles to return and in 537 B.C. the temple was rebuilt and its "flame of sacrifice" rekindled.

Alexander the Great entered Jerusalem peacefully in 332 B.C. Twelve years later Ptolemy I of Egypt partially destroyed the fortifications. Herod, the friend of Mark Anthony and the emperor Augustus, arrived in 37 B.C., doubled the temple area and tried to wed Palestine firmly to Rome.

Prize Of War
After Christ the city became one of the focal points of Christianity. But it was still a prize of war. Titus sacked it in 70 A.D. and ordered his legions to plough it under before building a new city Aelia Capitolina, with temples to Bacchus, Jupiter and Venus.

Chosroes II of Persia, Godfrey of Bouillon, Saladin, Selim I of Turkey in the 16th century and others came as conquerors. The name Jerusalem itself means "Foundation of God."

After David's victory it was often called the City of David, or Zion. And for several centuries afterward it was the only known place in the world where one God was worshipped. All around was the wilderness of paganism.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Webster Jr. and children, Terri, Toni and Tod, of Eugene, are spending the holiday vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Meehan, and with the Frank Websters, his parents. Other guests at the Meehan home for Christmas week were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. David Elliott and daughter, Carol, of Ashland.

Calvin Hilkey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Darling of this city, is home on a 14-day holiday leave from the Coast Guard. He is an Electronics Trainee 3, Spec. 1, and has just completed six months of training in electronics at Groton, Conn., and on his return there will take additional advanced aviation and electronics training. Just prior to leaving Groton for his holiday visit here, Hilkey, who has been in the Coast Guard for the past 17 months, was cited for his part in saving the lives of three persons in a surf accident at San Diego last summer while he was stationed there. In addition to the citation, he received a life saving medal.

Nation's Highway Toll For '63 Nears 40,000

CHICAGO (UPI)—Traffic deaths on the nation's streets and highways soared to a record high during the first 11 months of the year, the National Safety Council said today. The safety council said 39,280 persons died in traffic accidents through November. The fatality rate was 5.4 deaths for every 100 million vehicle miles. The November toll of 4,070 also set a record, jumping 11 per cent from last year and eclipsing the previous peak in November 1936. Among cities with more than one million population, Los Angeles remained in first place with the lowest registered vehicle death rate. Chicago was second, Philadelphia third, New York City fourth and Detroit fifth.
