

Keep New Year Promises To Be Prettier In 1964

By GAY PAULLEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — Every one's entitled to break a few New Year's resolutions, but not in one department. The beauty division.

A prettier you in 1964 is up to you, and owed to yourself and to those around you.

So get out the pencil and start the list.

Lose a Few Pounds

—Resolve never to let a day go by without some form of exercise to keep those muscles toned, the figure in shape. For as one physical fitness expert has said, every curve has a muscle beneath it. Make the exercise a brisk walk in the morning or evening. Or, climb out of bed 15 minutes earlier and go to work on those setting-up exercises. A little of them each day and a slim waistline is here to stay.

—Resolve if you need to lose a few pounds not to resort to crash diets to do it. The slow, steady outdown on the daily caloric intake is the way most experts advise taking off avoirdupois.

At the same time, re-educate those eating habits which put the pounds on. Consider, for example, that a dessert of one baked apple is approximately 100 calories. A slice of apple pie, however, is 350. One peach is 50. One sundae, 400.

—Resolve not to retire without removing the day's collection of makeup. If the cleansing is with cream, use the fingertips to give the chin a gentle massage upward and outward to discourage sag. It was the actress Billie Burke, an ageless beauty, who once told me, "age reaches up and grabs women by the throat."

—Resolve to try a new hair style during the year. Have good facial bone structure? Then try one of the new, severely straight bobs. Bone structure not so good? A qualified hairdresser can teach you easily the art of illusion.

—Resolve to try a new hair color. With today's coloring preparations, there's only one excuse for being drab. Laziness.

—Resolve to give those dishpan hands a candid study. Useful hands certainly are beautiful hands, but can't they be even more so with an occasional manicure. Remember to give them the lotion treatment after each dip into water.

Come to think of it, how long since you've taken time to give yourself a pedicure?

—Resolve to look your best from the start of the day. None of the cartoonists' horrors of curlers and sloppy robes. Now, how long does it take before the rest of the house is stirring to put on a dash of lipstick, run a comb through the hair, slip into a crisp housecoat?

—Resolve that good posture is just as much a part of good looks as clear skin and shining hair. Do a little more mirror-watching on the subject. Resolve to eliminate television slouch.

—Resolve to give yourself time each day for your beauty's sake, even though a room may need dusting and there are those dishes again. Dust and soiled dishes will keep. Looks won't unless cod-died a little.

Homecoming Banquet Given At Lookingglass

A lovely homecoming banquet for students spending the holiday vacation at their homes in Lookingglass was sponsored by the Mary-Martha group of the Lookingglass Community Church on Friday evening in the social room of the church.

The tables for the luscious ham dinner were attractively decorated in the holiday motif and places set for the following: Lee Swift of the Emmaus Bible School of Oak Park, Ill.; LeRoy Greer of Westmont College, Santa Barbara, and Jim Williams and Nancy Grass from Oregon State University. Local youth enjoying the occasion included Lois Swift, Toni Ollivant, Martha Kay Vance of Portland, Nadine Grass, Lois Powell, Judy Marsh, Jeannette Gose, Jamie and Nicki Harris, Georgia Green, Glenda Boling, Shirley and Dan Jones, Bob, Kathy and Richard Reid, Marilyn Grass, Dick Powell, Larry Swift, Bruce and Tom Ellis, Glen and Jerry Nielsen, Bill Marsh, Jerry Gose, Mickey Jasper, the Rev. and Mrs. Gordon Titus, Sharon, Lois and Paul Titus.

The Rev. and Mrs. John Seanzoni former pastors of the local church and now in Eugene, were in attendance. The Rev. Seanzoni conducted a brief devotional service. A lovely vocal solo was presented by Martha Kay Vance, accompanied by Mrs. Seanzoni and Nadine Grass played two trombone and baritone duets and a song fest was enjoyed by the group.

Mrs. Vernon Bronden, Mrs. Ivan Swift, Mrs. Elton Grass and Mrs. J. C. Williams were hostesses.

New Year's Day Dinner Given By VanDermarks

A lovely New Year's Day dinner was given by Dr. and Mrs. Harry L. VanDermark at their home in Winston at 6 p.m. The red cloth covered table was attractive with the traditional holiday centerpiece. The occasion was honoring Mrs. Fran Allen on her birthday.

Following the dinner, visiting and games were enjoyed by the following: Mrs. Hazel Rawles of Medford, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. McGuire, Mrs. Helen Dyhre and Kim, Mrs. Fran Allen, Gordon Holtean, Steve and David VanDermark and the host and hostess, Dr. and Mrs. VanDermark.

Later in the evening guests calling included Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rigney, Mrs. Kenneth Anderson and son and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rigney.

Camas Valley Couple Has Silver Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bartley of Camas Valley were pleasantly surprised when they were honored at an open house on their 25th wedding anniversary at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Bartley, Dec. 23 from 6 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Fred Abreu, Mrs. Mars Southwick, Mrs. Robert Unicum, Mrs. Kenneth Dunham, Mrs. Donald Lawson, Mrs. Ted Wiley and Mrs. Kenneth Wilson assisted the James Bartleys in giving the anniversary party.

The decorations were in silver and white. The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with a beautiful tiered cake in white and silver topped with two white bells and a circle of silver leaves with the numeral, "25". Other table decorations were white roses and silver pine cones.

The Bartleys were married Dec. 23, 1938, in Chehalis, Wash. and came to Camas Valley in the spring of 1949. Bart drove a log truck, and in 1952 they opened Bart's Cafe, which they own and operate.

Mrs. Lawson, Mrs. Dunham and Mrs. Abreu served cake, coffee and punch.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Al Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Defferding, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Ashton, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. James Wheelock, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Joyce, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McClellan, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Wafer, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. Marian Rentz, Mr. and Mrs. Alec Shaylor, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Labranche, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Unicum, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Abreu, Mrs. Ruby Wafer, Mrs. Alice Stobie, Virgil Benham, Virgil and Kenneth Grant, Jack Hendricks, Mr. and Mrs. James Bartley and the honored couple.

Those sending gifts were Mr. and Mrs. James Combs, Mr. and Mrs. Chuck White.

Holiday Dinner Party Event At Winston Home

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Costelloe entertained at a holiday dinner party at their home in Winston for members of the family and friends. The table was lovely with white cloth, green candles and poinsettias. Of interest were the antique candle holders centering the table, which was placed in a u shape with small candle holders at each place setting holding miniature lighted candles.

The 2:30 p.m. traditional turkey dinner was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Thompson and four children of Coos Bay; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Burch and four children of Green; Mr. and Mrs. Bob O'Henick and eight children from Cottage Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stack and Pete from Tigard; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stack of Grants Pass, the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Costelloe.
