Orphaned Family Doing Very Well

COLLINSVILLE, Ill. (UPI) — Five young sisters who became orphans shortly before Christmas are "making it pretty good" by themselves and plan to remain together under one roof.

Etta Myers, 17, the new head of the family, said Friday "everything right now is just upside down," but offers of aid have been coming in.

They were left without parents Dec. 14 when their father, Hershal, 58, died of a heart attack. The mother, Modena, 50, died Aug. 11 last year after a long illness.

In addition to Etta, there are Patty, 15; Lorene, 13, Mae, 11; and Pamela Sue, 8.

Etta, a junior at Collinsville High School, said they have been amazed at the offers of aid.

"I have never met half of these people before in my life," she said. "They came up to my house and told us they just didn't want to help us through Christmas but through the whole year."

A fund raising effort also was begun on behalf of the girls by an East St. Louis, Ill., real estate dealer, Mrs. Betty J. Ferrell.

"We understand they owe $4,600 on their home and they also have $2,000 in debts resulting from funeral expenses," she said.

Ever since their father, a house painter, died, the girls have been living a semi-transient life in their home and in the homes of well wishers.

Special Events Of Season Spark Days At Forest Glen

Programs and other expressions of the holiday spirit were much in evidence at the Forest Glen Senior Residence in Canyonville.

Residents enjoyed hearing several musical groups: The Riddle High School Girls' League, the Canyonville Bible Academy Choir, the A Capella Choir of Milo Academy and singing groups from Tri-City Baptist Church, the Canyonville Methodist Church and the Tri-City Presbyterian Church. Two Riddle Camp Fire Groups added their efforts to the holiday festivities.

O. F. Goettel, a member of the Residence and a retired pastor, presented a worship service, and Jim Winder of Tri-City gave a musical program.

Mrs. Martha Erskine spent the holidays with her daughter and family in Roseburg, the Harley Schaeffers, where the family get-together included Mr. and Mrs. Dick Crumpton who have recently returned from Turkey where they have been for two years, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Schaeffer and family from Spokane.

Son Is Visitor

A recent guest of Mrs. Mollie Brooke was her son, Nelson, and his wife from Pinetop and Phoenix, Ariz.

Mrs. Margaret Shelton is convalescing following a week's illness.

Fourth floor residents are sorry to lose Mrs. Carl Campbell who is leaving for an indefinite stay in Florida.

Mrs. Zella Buzan resumed her afternoon read-aloud sessions Monday with "Miracle of 34th Street," a play by Valentine Davies.

Mrs. Helen Stevens is visiting her sister in Sacramento, Calif., this week. Gene Scovill has returned from a visit in San Jose where he was a guest at the home of his son.

Misses Irene and Olive Walker spent a few days visiting relatives in Phoenix, Ore., during the holidays.

A thoughtful gift was that of Mrs. A. R. Bennett of Canyonville and Mrs. Myrtle Wood of the residence who made a warm quilted throw to use with the residence wheel chair.
