

Dear Abby!

A Case In Point!

— By ABIGAIL VANBUREN —

DEAR ABBY: I am 23 years old (male) and need your help. Recently, in a joking way, I gave a girl a cheap, imitation ring I picked up at a dime store. Now she's trying to tell me that no matter how cheap the ring is, as long as I gave it to her, we are officially engaged. I tried to tell her it was all a gag, but she is threatening to sue me for breach of promise. Can she do this? A buddy of mine who is attending law school says she can.

DEAR ABBY: I am no lawyer, but I can tell you that anybody can sue whomever he (or she) wants to sue and all the defendant can do is try to defend himself. If she brings suit against you (which I think is unlikely) she will have to prove that the ring was given to her together with your promise to wed. If she can do that, Crother, you are in trouble.

DEAR ABBY: Do you remember way back when you invited people over for a meal and they came and ate with such enthusiasm that it made you feel that it was worth every bit of trouble you went to? What has happened to those days? I had a Thanksgiving dinner for 20 and I carried more than half the food off the table untouched. Nobody wanted any sweet potatoes (too fattening!) and all my lovely home-made rolls were passed up. Somebody asked me if the peas had butter on them and only 5 out of 20 would even taste my pecan pie! Everybody is either on a diet or watching their cholesterol. It's no fun to cook any more. What's the answer?

DEAR ABBY: Next time take the whole lot of 'em to a restaurant and let them order what they want.

DEAR ABBY: I just had a thirty-minute argument with a boy on the phone and hope that you can settle the question: When a boy talks to a girl, who is supposed to hang up first? I really don't think it makes much difference, but he says the girl is definitely supposed to hang up first. Is there any such rule?

DEAR FRIEND: As far as I know, there is no such rule, but it really doesn't make much difference as long as SOMEbody hangs up after thirty minutes.

Roseburg Police Reserves Will Wear New Uniforms

Several members of the Roseburg Police Reserve are scheduled to receive new uniforms soon.

The new navy blue outfits, similar to uniforms worn by the regular police officers, will replace the olive drab and green presently being used by reserve officers.

Police Reserve Lt. John Kelly said eventually, as the budget will permit, all active members will be suited with the new uniforms.

Kelly said reserve is in need of new members to fill out the complement. Anyone interested may contact Capt. Bert Eaton at the Roseburg Police Department for further details.
