'Tragedy At Honda' Recreates Great Naval Disaster Of 1923

Dear Abby!

Words Of Advice!

— By ABIGAIL VANBUREN —

DEAR ABBY: I am a 17-year-old boy and I have been wanting to quit school for over a year, but my parents won't let me. I hate school and I want to quit now and get a job. I failed two subjects last term, and know I won't do any better next time. My parents found out I was smoking and they ordered me to quit. I told them if they wouldn't let me quit school I wasn't going to quit smoking. My Dad made a deal with me: he said if I quit smoking and continued with school, he'd buy me a car I wanted. I said okay. He got me the car and I really have been trying harder at school, but he caught me smoking. Well, he took the car away from me and I'm grounded until June. They said if I flunk anything I'll have to go to summer school. How can I get my parents to be more human?

well enough to call me anything but "Mrs. —" started calling me "Grandma." I resent it. While waiting in my doctor's office, his nurse had the gall to say, "Come on, Grandma, you're next." I am only 59 years old. Would I be out of line to correct these rude people? Or should I just sit there and burn?

"GRANDMA" DEAR "GRANDMA": Many people are not aware that pet names (and that's what they are) are not always appreciated. So I suggest that you tell whoever incurs your displeasure by calling you "Grandma" exactly how you feel about it. It takes nerve to be outspoken. But it's better than burning.

DEAR ABBY: I read the letter from "Likes It Peaceful" with much interest. I agree with her husband, who refused to drive the carload of children to school because he thought the walk would do them good. When I was a boy nobody chauffeured us to school and we didn't live in California, either. Not only that, but when I was six years old and had to have my tonsils out, my mother gave me a nickel and put me on the street car and told the conductor to drop me off at the hospital. She came to get me that night. I lived through it and am none the worse for it. I think our kids today are so pampered it's pitiful.

MOREY IN OAKLAND DEAR MAD: I think your parents are super-human. And far more generous than most parents would have been. You made a deal and watched on it. Work hard in school and quit feeling sorry for yourself.

MARKET TIPS

Cold Weather Plaguing Farmers In California

By LEROY B. INMAN Business News Dept. Editor

Douglas County is contributing considerably to the breadbasket of local residents, the principal products currently being cauliflower, turnips, rutabagas, squash and some parsnips.

California is plagued with cold weather for a great amount of its fresh produce, but Mexico is coming into the picture more on such items as green peppers, cucumbers and egg plant.

What is known as November-December cauliflower is on in the Garden Valley area and is very good, supplying most of the local demand. Turnips and rutabagas grown locally also are on the best buy list. Squash includes Hubbard, banana, marble head and butternut.

The potato market is very active. No. 2s are scarce and hard to come by. The keeping quality of potatoes has not been too good, and the picture is somewhat uncertain at this time although not in any way critical. Yams and sweet potatoes are available.

The carrot market is steady, mostly out of Bakersfield and Indio, with a few from Portland. Dry onions remain on the strong side.

The lettuce market was described as "red hot" because of "cold" weather in California growing areas. Indio, El Centro and Blythe have been hit by freezing weather or weather too cool for growing conditions. The same picture holds to a lesser degree for leaf lettuces, romaine and endive, also for radishes and green onions. The quality is poor and the price relatively high.

Cabbage was in a strong position, mostly because of poor growing conditions in California. Portland still is harvesting some. Broccoli eased somewhat this week. Celery was another produce item in a strong position, as demand exceeded supply.

growing conditions in California. Portland still is harvesting some. Broccoli eased somewhat this week. Celery was another produce item in a strong position, as demand exceeded supply.

Frost-free artichokes are hard to come by, and what few there are are plenty high. Frosted "chokes" are reasonable and unharmed, except for discoloration. Cucumbers are coming from Texas and Mexico, and egg plant and peppers from Florida and Mexico. The latter two sources also supply a small amount of Danish squash and zucchini. But the amount coming in is small.

Tomatoes are not maturing, because the principal supply source — Mexico — has been hit by a cold front. A few days of warm weather should increase supplies. The cold front is extending 150 miles or more south of the border.

Portland and California both have limited amounts of Brussels sprouts.

Bananas are scarce because of the Panamanian uprising. Supplies are being pro-rated to dealers, and no stabilization is in sight. A few pineapples and papayas are being shipped in from Hawaii.

Oranges are very good and showed some decline after a pickup last week. Lemons are steady. Tangerines eased somewhat and tangelos are just coming in good now. Small grapefruit from Florida are at a premium. The larger sizes are more plentiful. Texas is shipping in a few, but the quality is poor.

Emperor grapes strengthened, as the storage period lengthens. Apples and pears, both out of storage remain plentiful and good buys.

European Tour Of Duty Over For Umpqua Man

By MRS. GEORGE MUNSON

Lynn Leonard of Umpqua has returned home from Europe where he has been with the U.S. Army for the past two years. He has finished his enlistment and plans to spend some time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Leonard, on their ranch near Umpqua.

Visitors Return Home Mr. and Mrs. I. Moore and family have returned to their home in Wilmington, Calif., after spending the holidays at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Thomas, on Joelson Road.

Mrs. Alton (Peggy) Clark left on Monday for month-long where she is a senior at Oregon College of Education. She spent the holidays at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. James Banducci and family returned this week from Bakersfield, Calif., where they had enjoyed the holiday vacation with friends and relatives. Pat Murphy stayed at the ranch and was in charge while they were away.

Mr. and Mrs. James Schumacher and sons, Robert, Gregory and Douglas, of Tacoma, Wash., have been house guests at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Haines, near Umpqua.

Reports of a unique and enjoyable holiday caroling trip were received this week from children on the Cole Road near Umpqua. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Weston took their horse and wagon and some lanterns and then picked up Janet and Ricky Lee, Doralee, Charline, Patti and Joanne Baird, and the children of Mr. and Mrs. E. Stone and drove them up and down the country roads. The group ended up at the Umpqua Store where all were given refreshments.

Charles A. Lockwood (vice admiral, USN-Ret.) and Hans Christian Adamson, (Col. USAF-Ret.), recreate in dramatic hour-by-hour detail the "Tragedy at Honda," America's gravest naval disaster prior to Pearl Harbor.

"Graveyard Of Ships"

Desolate and dangerous, on the California coast 213 miles south of San Francisco, Point Honda broods over the "Graveyard of Ships." There, a 25-mile strip offers a great concentration of dangers as any from Point Barrow to Tierra del Fuego. In the very center of this maritime cemetery, black, bleak, hostile Honda rears its ugly head. It is an area of unpredictable gales, sudden fogs, wayward currents, crushing breakers and ship-killing rocks.

On Sept. 8, 1923, Squadron II, Destroyer Force, Battle Fleet, steamed south toward its home port of San Diego. The 14 four-stackers were using their homeward run to carry out endurance trials ordered by Fleet Command. As fog closed around them, they raced confidently at a steady 20 knots after the flagship "Delphy," following the unwritten follow-the-leader tradition of destroyer doctrine. The captain ordered a 55-degree change of course to take his squadron down the Santa Barbara Channel. As the ships astern turned in her wake, the "Delphy" ran, with underring impact, into the fog-wrapped reefs of Honda.

Nine minutes later, nine of the sleek destroyers were impaled, seven never to free themselves. A minute later, the lives of 800 men were in the most serious peril. The ships, bereft of power and light, were flooding and breaking up. Fog shrouded everything. No one knew what had happened, nor even where they were.

The subsequent Court of Inquiry and General Court Martial to determine cause and responsibility for the disaster was perhaps the greatest case of its kind between the Dreyfus Case and the Pearl Harbor investigations.

The entire story of the "Tragedy at Honda," the heroic rescue, and the subsequent investigations and their results has never been told before. When all the evidence is in, the courts adjourned, the verdict rendered, the authors suggest that the real cause of the tragedy lay in the interpretation of the differences which existed — and still exist — between the classic concepts of the naval regulations involved in a grim hunt in which they are stalked by a ruthless band of foreign agents determined to wipe them out. When the isolated castle in which they seek sanctuary is surrounded by their pursuers, who threatened the lives of all therein, Jonathan and his father — in a bold move — seek to draw the enemy away. At last, hunted and hunter come face to face in a dramatic climax.

This book for young people offers high adventure spiced with humor and the fascination of a remote and lovely setting.

An Arctic Summer In his latest book, Farley Mowat, official biologist for the Canadian government, describes an Arctic summer spent watching and tracking the activities of a wolf family which he came to know better than he knew himself. Written with compassion and humor, "Never Cry Wolf" takes us into the animal kingdom.

Mowat found the wolf in fact to be very different from the wolf of legend. He unraveled the complex tactics of wolves on a hunt; investigated the male rituals of marking off the "family boundaries." He tested, by trying it himself, the nutritional value of the wolf's summer diet — mice. He observed the hospitality meted out to visiting wolves and learned how cubs are reared and educated. He found that the wolf is an adept fisherman, a loyal spouse and impressive lover.

Other books, new on the library shelves this week are: "The Guns of the Heather" by Lockhart Amerman is a vivid, fast-moving tale of international espionage, played out on the moors and mountains of the Scottish West Highlands. The excitement mounts from the moment Jonathan Flower is lured by a false telegram from the school he attends in Edinburgh.
