Splendid enthusiasm and a general get together spirit characterized the monster student body rally held in Villard Hall this morning. Songs, speeches and rousing cheers furnished an excellent program that did not drag once during the entire hour which it lasted.

"Get the Oregon Spirit," said George Hug, and the following speakers echoed the command. Time and again was the injunction repeated. Fervently, earnestly, heatedly, did they plead with the freshmen to support their university and the rooters followed with a cheer for each man.

"The Oregon Spirit is love for Oregon, reverence for her ideals, desire to work for her, sacrifice yourself for her," said Professor Glen. "When she needs it, yell for her; when necessary, keep still for her; stand up for her or sit down for her as occasion demands."

"Even our rivals admire our spirit," said Hug in closing. "Every college man in the Northwest thinks most of Oregon outside of his own college. The Oregon Spirit is the spirit of democracy; honor and cherish it."

"Prospects are bright for a winning football team," said Dudley Clarke, "but the freshmen must get out if the record is kept up in other years."

"And the debaters are just as full of fight as the football and track men," added Robison, speaking on oratory and debate.

Manager Espy of the track team paid a fine tribute to Bill Hayward, calling him the peer of any trainer in the Northwest. "Oregon," said he, "cannot offer Hayward as much money as can some other colleges, but he stays because he loves her spirit. Keep up the Oregon Spirit or we will lose him."

President Williams introduced Hayward as the "greatest trainer in the West," and as he rose to speak he was greeted by a burst of applause that lasted several minutes, the like of which has never been seen on the Oregon campus. And when he sat down the

ADRIAN LECTURES ON L. BURBANK

Mr. Adrian, of California, representing the Teachers' Institute, delivered a lecture before a large audience in Villard Hall, Monday night on "Luther Burbank and His Wonderful Work."

A personal acquaintance and an ardent admirer of Mr. Burbank, his address was strong in features of human interest and his characterization of the gentle wizard of horticulture was attractive in the extreme.

In describing the methods of selection employed by Mr. Burbank to achieve his remarkable results, Mr. Adrian exhibited a number of specimens of the plants which he had originated. Among these was an object of especial interest; the new thornless, fruit-bearing cactus, which seems likely to revolutionize the agricultural industry of the world. Mr. Adrian supplemented his lecture with a number of fine stereopticon views on the Burbank farm near Santa Rosa.

Vocal selections by Professor I. M. Glen and two piano selections by Mr. L. R. Geisler were given before the lecture, both being received with the heartiest applause.

KELLY ENTHUSIASTIC OVER BASEBALL

Coach Kelly, of the baseball team, passed through Eugene on the 10th of this month on his way south. He talked enthusiastically of the outlook for baseball next spring and spoke of several new men of known ability that he was expecting to have on the team. He will take charge of the Oregon team about April 1st.

CONGRATULATIONS ARE NOW DUE

Dr. Robert Carlton Clarke of the History department, and Miss Anna Wallace were married at Clifton Heights, Penn., September the eighth. The bride was formerly a student at Bloomburg Normal, where Dr. Clarke was an instructor. They will be at home after October first, at their apartments in the St. Francis hotel.

Harry Paddock, '07, Walter Berry, '08, Leslie Miller, '08, and Clarence Stoddard, '11, were married during the summer vacation.

Y. M. C. A. STARTS AN EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

Rousing songs and an interesting speaker are the features of the Y. M. C. A. men's meeting. A well known man from Portland is scheduled for next Thursday and a special quartet will furnish music.

A new venture of the association and one that has thus far proved a decided success is the employment Bureau. Through personal solicitation among the businessmen and advertisements in the city papers, enough work has been secured to supply all demands. This department will be continued throughout the year. A bulletin board will be kept in the Dormitory and students wishing employment can secure it by inquiring there or at the Y. M. C. A. office between 10 and 11:30 and 1:30 and 3.

GIRLS WILL FORM INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATING LEAGUE

WISCONSIN COACH OFFERS DEBATE COURSES AND STARTS INTEREST

Four Veterans Return and Many New Men Will Compete—Societies Begin Early—Interstate Question Submitted.

Co-education is to be extended into the field of forensics this year if the plans of the Eutaxian society to arrange for an intercollegiate debating league are successful. Miss Marion Stowe, president of the society, has obtained permission from President Campbell to send a team against any college that may be willing to meet them, and, inasmuch as the University of Washington was very anxious to arrange for such a debate last year, it is probable that that institution will be given the first opportunity. With the arrival of a Wisconsin man as assistant in public speaking and coach for the debating teams, interest in that department has taken a surprising start. A determination that opponents may have cause to regret characterizes the preparations that Mr. Buchen is already making to win back the interstate championship that was lost two years ago. Besides a general course in extemporaneous speaking, he is offering one especially for those who intend to try for the team. The regular team will hold practice debates every day after it is selected.

An early step toward determining this year's question was taken last week when the committee on oratory and debate, under Mr. Buchen's advisement, submitted the proposition of federal incorporation as Oregon's choice. Washington and Idaho have not yet expressed their preference but manager Steele is endeavoring to get from them an early response, so that candidates may have plenty of time to prepare for the try-outs.

Societies Active

All three literary societies are busy with preparations for the year. The Laureans led off Saturday night with a short meeting addressed by President Campbell and Mr. Buchen both of whom spoke enthusiastically but insisted on hard work by each and every member. Clarence Steele, '10, was elected president.

The Philologists will hold their first meeting next Saturday evening at seven o'clock. They have announced that they want twelve freshmen who want to work; no more. By thus limiting their membership they expect not only to get men of the best quality, but to give them all thorough practice at least once a month. Mr. Buchen will address the meeting Saturday night, after which the old members will take part in a short extemporaneous debate.

Eutaxians Will Meet at Night

A revolution is to take place in the management of the girl's society by the arrangements Miss Stowe has made for them to meet evenings, instead of after-

CHANGES ARE MADE IN VARSITY FACULTY

The faculty has undergone some important changes since last year. Most prominent is the installment of Professor Thurbur in the English department to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Dr. Luella Clay Carson.

Professor Thurbur comes highly recommended. Graduating from Yale in 1891, he studied one year in Paris and then took his M. A. degree from Harvard in 1894. Since then he has taught in the Universities of Nebraska, Wisconsin, Missouri and Yale.

In the department of mining Prof. Richard S. Grider will assist Professor Barker. He is a former Oregon student, a graduate of the Colorado School of Mines and has had twelve years' practical experience in the mines of California.

A much needed addition to the faculty is that of Dr. Bertha Stewart as physical director for the women. She will be established in the old gymnasium as soon as the new one is opened for the use of the men.

Professor Glen has an able assistant in G. W. Buchen of the University of Wisconsin. He will also coach the debating teams, a position for which he is well fitted by four years as an active varsity debater and orator.

FOUR YEAR RULE ROBS OREGON OF SPRINTER

Oliver Huston will not be allowed to run for Oregon this year on account of the well known four year rule, the faculty having decided last week that he would come under its provisions. His loss will greatly handicap the Oregon team next spring but Hayward is already considering plans for developing his successor.

A new captain will be elected next Monday afternoon. He will take charge of the fall training preparatory to the track meet which is scheduled for October 23.

COMMITTEE SELECTING ROOTERS' YELL LEADER

Has Oregon a man for yell leader this year? The executive committee is unable to decide, so is holding a practical tryout each night, when candidates take turns in demonstrating their ability. "Tubby" Alton, R. Kennedy, and Arthur Geary have each led the rooters for one night. The leader for tomorrow (Thursday) is Roy Terry and for Friday is "Doc" White.

CAMPAIGN IS ON!

A Bible Study campaign is being conducted this week by the Y. M. C. A. Bulletins will be posted from day to day giving the results. Two hundred students is the mark set for this year, and solicitors are around signing the men up. A special rally will be held Thursday night.

An enthusiastic crowd came to eat doughnuts and coffee at the Y. M. C. A. stag social Saturday night. Verner Gilles, last year's champion, won the rooster fight. Short speeches were made by President Campbell, B. H. Williams, Harper Jameson, W. C. Nicholas and Percy Collier.

LARGE SQUAD FOR FOOTBALL UNDER FORBES

SIXTEEN OLD MEN MAKE CHAMPIONSHIP FOR U. OF O. CERTAIN

Taylor, Scott and Grout Come to Fill Depleted Ranks and All Positions Are Contested.—Geo. Hug Will Coach Linemen.

Football Schedule

- October 9: Oregon vs. Alumni at Eugene.
- October 30: Oregon vs. Willamette at Salem.
- November 6: Oregon vs. M. A. A. C. at Eugene.
- November 13: Oregon vs. O. A. C. at Eugene.
- November 25: Oregon vs. Washington at Seattle.

"Prospects? Great!" This was Captain Clarke's answer when questioned as to Oregon's football chances this fall, and the same opinion seems unanimous among the rooters. Coach Forbes and "Bill" are well satisfied with the outlook, though they warn against overconfidence.

As yet Kincaid field is too hard for scrimmage, but the men are put through daily signal practice while the bleachers are lined with rooters. Geo. Hug, '07, is assistant coach, taking special charge of the linemen. Clarke is kicking his long spirals farther than ever, Pinkham is in fine condition, full of his old fighting spirit, and Taylor is again making those beautiful end runs that were the feature of the Idaho game two years ago.

Through a fortunate combination of circumstances, thirteen of last year's team have returned. "Chuck" Taylor, Glenn Scott, and Ben Grout—all members of the 1907 team—have also re-entered school, making the total number with varsity experience sixteen. Besides, there are several new men that are showing up well and, while they are not certain of places, enough is known of them to convince critics that they fill make some of the old men work to keep on the team.

About thirty candidates, all heavy and fast enough to be in first team class, make the competition keener each day. Mitchell, a freshman from the Eugene High School, Henderson and Applegate, are among the promising men out for the line positions.

With old men like Pinkham, Gilles, Voight, Grout and Main, as a nucleus, this part of the field would seem to be filled, but other places will be even more hotly contested.

Kiltz, Dodson, Michael, and Hickson of last year's team, are trying for end, and Kay, of Salem, and Broughton, of Portland, are attempting to break into this already over-crowded place. Latourette and Chandler are again calling signals, and Coach Forbes has recently been trying "Chuck" Taylor in the po-
