

GREATEST RALLY IN HISTORY OF UNIVERSITY TO TAKE PLACE FRIDAY NIGHT

The best rally that the Varsity has ever seen is slated to take place on Kincaid Field next Friday night, when the football season will be formally opened and Yell Leader "Tubby" Alton followed by 350 leather lunged rooters will demonstrate that the spirit of Old Oregon is still alive. The gridiron heroes of a hundred battles will be among the spectators to witness the demonstration in celebration of the Alumni game scheduled for the next day. A parade through the city streets will precede the ceremonies on the field.

An elaborate program has been prepared by Yell Leader Alton, and on the list of speakers will be the usual well known orators among the faculty, Alumni and Regents: Pres. P. L. Campbell, S. H. Friendly, "Pat" McArthur, Coach Forbes, Manager Dean Goodman, Ben Williams, president of the student body, Dudley Clarke, captain of this year's team, Bill Hayward and speeches by various members of the Alumni team who will tell the students some of the history of the famous Oregon spirit.

The program has been arranged as follows: Meet at the dormitory at 7 p. m.; selections by student band. The line of march will proceed down Eleventh street to Willamette, and down Willamette to depot; thence to Kincaid Field, where a record-breaking bonfire will have been prepared by the freshmen class. As the rooters march onto Kincaid Field, at a signal, the bon fire will be touched off. After a few good rousing yells, just to demonstrate their ability, the rooters will retire to the background and give the speakers the floor.

Yell Leader Alton is enthusiastic, speaking as follows: "A good program is assured, 350 students will participate in the yelling, all that is required now to make the rally a grand success is the attendance of every person connected with the University."

WILLIAMS IS ELECTED CAPTAIN OF TRACK

Ben Williams, '10, champion pole vaulter, interstate orator, and president of the student body, was elected captain of the track team last Monday afternoon, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Oliver Huston.

The new captain is already hard at work endeavoring to arouse interest in track work and especially to get the men out for the big interclass meet on October 23rd. He is especially anxious about the freshmen who must be depended on for this year's material.

While realizing the hard proposition ahead of him, Williams spoke encouragingly of the track out look. "As long as we have Bill we can do anything."

In regard to the coming meet, he believes that it will go to either the seniors or sophomores, with the chances in favor of the seniors. They will enter Riddell and Downs in the distances, Bristow in the sprints and broad jump and Collins, a new man from Dallas College, will run the 440. Williams will take care of the pole vault and Carl Neal will compete in the weights.

Just now there seems to be a dearth of material among the Juniors but no doubt they will have several strong entries.

Some of the best Sophomore athletes are intelligible because of football. Ed Davis' absence will be keenly felt. Mart Hawkins will run the 220 and hurdles. Dave McDaniels and James Johns will probably run neck and neck in the quarter, and Watson and Sweany will take care of the pole vault.

The freshmen, of course, are an unknown quantity, though several have good prep records, as Kuykendall and Kreiger from Eugene and Murphy of Monmouth.

The track team has a hard row ahead of it, but an early start will be a great advantage. The purpose of the meet is to get training started early and enable Trainer Hayward to get a line on the men.

FOOTBALL TEAM TO PLAY DOUBLE HEADER

Two big football games are scheduled for next Saturday, one for the freshmen with Lincoln High School of Portland, and the other for the Varsity team with their ancient rivals, the Alumni.

To the disappointment of all, Fred Moullen will be unable to play, as he left for San Francisco during the last week. His loss will greatly cripple the graduates, leaving them without a punter.

Another loss to the Alumni is the absence of the Hon. C. N. "Pat" McArthur, who will not be in the lineup this year either as player or manager. It was known some time ago that Pat's official duties would not permit him to take charge of the team, but it was hoped that he might at least be induced to put on a suit and at least kick the ball once. But that cannot be.

"I have been with the Alumni team for four years," says Pat, "and they hvae lost every time. Let some one else try it for awhile."

Aside from these two mishaps the old timers are feeling in fine shape and in spite of them they expect to put up a great fight. The members of the team will arrive Friday in time to get a little signal practice.

The freshmen anticipate a hard game with the Portlanders as they are not organized any too well. Lincoln High is one of the oldest and strongest preparatory schools in the state. Several men from their former teams are now playing on the Varsity team, and they should play a good game.

The freshman game will come off immediately before the big game, giving the spectators a chance to see both. The whistle will blow promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

"Long May She Wave."

Above is a picture of Oregon's famous trainer, "Bill" Hayward. He has been with the University four years, during which time it has never lost a meet. He is the most popular man on the Oregon campus. At the student body rally one week ago, he rose to speak and was greeted by loud and prolonged applause. When reminded of it, he smiled taciturnly and said, "get out on the track. That's the way to show your regard for me."

Engineers are hampered on account of the inadequacy of the equipment in the shops. They are now badly overcrowded and the prospect of relief this year does not seem bright.

HAZERS HEAR THEIR FATE

FOUR ARE SUSPENDED AND THIRTY-ONE PUT ON PROBATION

Four students suspended for one year; thirty-one others on probation and their parents or guardians apprised of their conditions: this is the sum total and practical final result of the hazing investigation that was definitely closed and forever buried from official cognizance at the special assembly yesterday morning at ten o'clock.

Three of the four who were suspended had been placed on probation last year for hazing Nelson Gammans and the fourth made statements indicating his unwillingness to comply with the present faculty regulation. The rest of the number implicated were given the alternative of filing within ten days an honorable statement, signed by their parents, regretting the past occurrence and promising to refrain from hazing in the future, or remaining suspended for one semester. So far as is known, all will avail themselves of the former provision.

President Campbell, in making public the report, explained the matter fully, going into detail on the facts and arguments considered by the faculty and their general attitude on hazing.

While regretting the unpleasant circumstance, he spoke in highest terms of the manly and honorable behavior of the men at all times during the investigation. He professed his pleasure over the spirit shown by the entire student body and the hearty co-operation they had given the faculty in the solution of a problem which must, of necessity, be a source of unpleasantness to all who were interested in the welfare of the University.

In the course of his remarks, he substantiated the statement made in the Emerald Saturday that Oregon has a hazing record to be proud of. "Class rushes," said he, "have been abolished for a number of years, and severe hazing has never been known here. I believe that this incident will forever close the history of hazing at the University of Oregon."

The course of action adopted by the faculty is endorsed by the students in general, who for the most part feel it to have been the wisest and most effective method that could have been adopted in clearing up a matter which, misrepresented or misconstrued as it was almost certain to be by those unfamiliar with the circumstances, might have cast serious discredit upon the school.

The students suspended one year are: Abe Blackman and Austin Flegel, of Portland; Samuel Earhart, of Medford, and Charles Widlund, of Healdsburg, Cal. The other men given the alternative of one term suspension, or the handing in of written promises with their own and parents' signatures that they would in the future support the policy of the university faculty are:

Calvin Welch, Elmer Furuset, Rex Turner, Le Verne Van Marter, E. L. Elliott, John Shattuck, Charles Randall, E. J. Smith, Allyn Roberts, John Shan-

MANDOLIN PLAYERS TRY OUT TONIGHT

The tryout for membership in the Mandolin Club, which had been set for Tuesday afternoon in Villard Hall, was postponed until tonight at 6:45. Although the number of candidates offering themselves is by no means as large as in the tryout for the Glee Club, some excellent material is in evidence and prospects are good for a strong organization. Mr. Davidson, manager of the Mandolin Club, urges every student who is a mandolin player, to be present at the tryout this evening and do his share in helping the selection of the best musical aggregation possible.

The personnel of the Glee Club has not yet been definitely determined but the full list of the new members of the organization will be made public within a few days. While the large number of candidates and the exceptional percentage of especially fine individual talent makes selection a trifle difficult, Professor Glen, is well pleased with the prospect of having, when it is finally chosen the best Glee Club that the University has ever produced.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIP EXAMINATION OCT. 19-20

The examination for the Rhodes scholarship to Oxford University from Oregon will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, October 19 and 20, at Willamette University, Salem.

This scholarship gives to the winner $1500 a year for three years. The last time it was won by Wistar Johnson of the University of Oregon. Competitors are judged largely on their previous college records, in athletics and other college activities.

The next examinations will be held in 1910, in 1912 and in 1913.

Eutaxians Tonight

Eutaxian literary society will meet tonight from seven to eight o'clock in Prof. Thurber's room, second floor of Library hall. New girls are especially invited. Following is the program:

- Extemporaneous debate.
- Short speeches.
- Important business.
- Appointment of committees, etc.

German Club

The German Club met Tuesday night in Professor Koshler's room. There was an informal discussion. Election of officers was postponed till later, when it is hoped more will attend.

The Girls' Tennis Club will meet on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Professor Glen's room.
