INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS AND NOTES

Idaho, for the first time, is maintaining a training table for her football men.

In four days at the University of Minnesota, 1188 out of 1600 tickets were sold for the football games.

Freshmen girls at Barnard College, N. Y., must hereafter go puffless and ratless, by edict of the sophomore women.

A five-dollar student fee has been instituted at the University of Utah. The money is apportioned among the various student activities.

Today is University Day at the A. Y. P. and a big day for Washington. A great rally will be held to celebrate the University's acquisition of new buildings.

Fire in one of the rooms of the Phi Gamma Delta house at Minnesota resulted in two of the men being severely burned and a property loss of about $1500.

The University Argonaut will have a correspondent in every High School in Idaho in order to bring the High School students in closer touch with their state university.

The name of the official publication of the University of Washington has been changed from Pacific Daily Wave to University of Washington Daily. It is published in the afternoon of every college day instead of four times a week as formerly.

Rowing at Stanford will no longer receive support from the student body funds, but will be maintained by the crew men and other lovers of the sport, who have organized a club for that purpose. California, after much agitation, has decided not to abolish that activity.

Ernest Foster, a sophomore, has been elected to captain the Whitman College track team in place of Martin, who has gone to Notre Dame. Foster is a pole vaulter and holds the college record at Whitman at eleven feet, three inches.

This record exceeds the record of B. H. Williams, Oregon's captain, by a quarter of an inch, but the two men have never met to try conclusions. Last year Foster tied with the Idaho pole vaulter that Williams subsequently defeated, thus making it all the more doubtful as to the outcome when the two champions meet. Friends of the two men are very confident of the superiority of their respective favorites and the question can only be decided by a personal trial.

The Engineering Club will meet Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in McClure Hall. Dr. Leonard will present another of his series of mathematical puzzles, which have long been star attractions for the engineers. Percy P. Adams, professor of drawing and architecture, will deliver an illustrated lecture on skyscrapers. At this meeting, too, an editor for the engineering department of the monthly will be elected.

The Oregon Monthly will be printed at Yoran's Printing House again this year, the first number going to press about the 25th.

Cal Sweek is confined to his room with tonsillitis.

Policy of the Sherman, Clay & Co. Organization.

Reliability.

One price to all.

Superior quality of goods.

A "square deal" to everybody.

A small margin added to the wholesale cost is our profit.

Easy terms of ownership is the explanation of our large and increasing business.

No fake sales or spasmodic reduction of prices in any of our line of stores.

To offer an expensive article today at one price, tomorrow at another and later at half price indicates either an enormous profit or an unreliable policy.

Sherman, Clay & Company shuns such deceptive methods, believing that an instrument of merit is worth as much today as it was yesterday or will be tomorrow.

A child can buy a piano as safely and as cheaply from us as can the most experienced business man.
