

DRAMATIC CLUB WILL BEGIN WORK EARLY

The first regular meeting of the Dramatic club will be held Thursday afternoon of next week at four o'clock in Professor Glen's room. Plans for the ensuing year will be discussed, a program committee appointed and arrangements made for the annual tryout for active membership.

The dramatic club is one of the growing young college organizations started last year. It numbers about one hundred members. Only those on the active list consisting of twenty-five are allowed to take part in the performances. Places on this list are eagerly sought and a tryout is held to select only the best.

Wm. Kiltz, '10, is president of the club. He says that several first class plays will be given this year and that work will begin on them as soon as the committee is appointed Thursday.

As yet it has not been decided who will train the actors, but a director will be selected immediately. Last year the work was performed by Miriam Van Waters of the Correspondence school.

On account of the late start, only two performances were given last year and they were both private exhibitions. This year it is hoped to give at least one public performance. The club will have plenty of practice during the first half of the year and feels that it should be in condition to appear before an audience during the spring.

Y. W. C. A. WILL HAVE GENERAL SECRETARY

At a meeting of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet last week it was decided to employ a general secretary to take care of the association work. This will place the women's organization on the same footing as the men's. Oregon is the first college in the state to employ a general secretary for the Y. W. C. A.

The cabinet is considering several available candidates for the position but will not take final action until in the spring. The new secretary will take up her duties at the opening of college next year.

FRESHMEN TO PLAY
EUGENE HIGH SCHOOL

The University freshmen will line up against the local high school next Saturday afternoon at three o'clock on Kincaid Field for the second game of the season. After the showing the juvenile team made last week, their supporters have little doubt as to the outcome.

The boys are getting better form every day but will probably not have so strong a team as in the last game because some of the best men are being drafted for the Varsity. Nevertheless they are confident of winning.

Little is known of the high school team, this being its first game. Several of their best men from last year have been graduated, but, while they have no individual stars, they have a fast bunch as a team.

FRITZ DEAN DESIGNS UNIVERSITY CALENDAR

A University calendar similar to the one published last year by A. S. Trew and Willis LeMasters is being prepared under the direction of Fritz Dean. It will contain twelve pages, each decorated with an appropriate cartoon.

The calendar, say those in charge, will be one of the classiest souvenirs ever put out at the University. Copies should be ordered in advance as only a limited number can be printed besides those spoken for in advance.

Dean is one of the well known University artists. Last year he contributed many of the sketches for the Oregonian and this year is on the Annual staff.

COLLEGE DIRECTORY WILL BE PUBLISHED

L. H. Gregory, editor of the Midnight Doughnut last year, and Arthur Geary are getting out a directory that they hope to popularize among the students and faculty. It will contain the name, college address, and home address of every student in college. The originators claim that it will be of inestimable value to everyone.

VARSITY WILL HAVE GIRLS' DEBATE TEAM

As a result of unanimous action from the Eutaxian society, overwhelming sentiment among the students and a keen desire on the part of the co-eds to be allowed to enter more into the college activities, it was decided by the oratory and debate committee Monday afternoon to send out a girls' debating team this year; if possible to form a regular inter-state league with Washington and Idaho.

While the student affairs committee must ratify the decision, no further difficulty is anticipated. It is known that President Campbell is favorable and there is little doubt about the opinion of the four student members.

Last year the University of Washington was very anxious to hold such a debate with Oregon, but opposition from the Dean of Women made it impossible. This year no such barrier is in the way and, if Washington is still in favor of it, the contest will take place. An effort will also be made to enlist Idaho in the movement and form a league similar to the present men's league, but, as the latter university has never suggested the matter, it is probable that only the Washington contest will take place this year.

In this case, the committee hopes to arrange for the first contest in Seattle as Oregon will have her hands full this year in financing the Utah debate.

The team will be selected at a special tryout and there will be no lack of material, many prominent society debaters having already signified their intentions of entering. The question will be decided as soon as possible so that candidates can begin preparation.

SOPHOMORE CLASS FAVORS CLASS HOUR

At the Sophomore class meeting this afternoon it was decided to recommend that the student affairs committee set apart a class hour each class to take charge of one assembly during the year. Each class will have one day set apart to it.

The following, appointed as a committee, are also to have charge of and make arrangements for the annual class dance: Martin Hawkins, David McDaniels, Jessie Bibee, Lewellyn McKinley, Ruth Merrick, W. Huntington.

Arrangements are also being made for a football game between the freshman and sophomore classes.

THIRTY MEN OUT FOR FALL TRACK TRAINING

The opening of the training season for the fall track meet, October 23, saw about thirty men in suits and on the field. Many of these were new men, the freshmen being forced out by the action of Trainer Hayward in closing his indoor gymnasium classes and ordering the men to do track work. Of the old men, Riddell, Williams, Downs and Sweeny are about the only ones who have appeared.

"The men do not support the track as in former years," complains Captain Williams. "When I read of the splendid turnouts they are having at other colleges, I hate to think of the coming season. O. A. C. has almost every man back, a team of veterans. Pullman last year had one of the strongest teams in the Northwest and almost every man is back. Washington, Idaho and Whitman have suffered little. Oregon alone is weak, but our supporters do not seem to realize the fact."

The manager of the University of California Annual, the "Blue and Gold," is encountering opposition from the Berkeley Merchants Protective association. They have refused to advertise in the book, claiming that it does not bring results. Accordingly, he is instituting a novel premium advertising scheme, whereby for every three dollars brought to the merchants as a direct result of Blue and Gold adds, one dollar is to go for advertising in the book.

Thos. R. Townsend, '09, arrived in Eugene Sunday to take charge of his position as principal of the Central school.

Those who desire to attend the first number of the Buceel Lecture Course Friday evening will have plenty of time after the address of Prof. Sweetser to get to the lecture. The men's meeting will begin promptly at seven and close not later than ten minutes to eight. This is a principle which the Y. M. C. A. will adhere to for the meetings this year and it is requested that those who attend will be prompt so that the program may begin without delay.

Ferdinand Henkle leaves tonight to return to his position in Portland. He has been visiting for the last week at the Beaver house. He will be in college the second semester.
