Society Brand and L System Clothes

are the correct clothes for you as they are dignified yet stylish and have a certain hang and snap about them that distinguishes the fellow who wears them from the one who don't.

THE NEW L SYSTEM Coats are made to appeal to the college fellow who wants something different, by having a broad military shoulder and loose, easy hang, while the trousers are made big and peggy.

THE NEW SOCIETY BRAND CLOTHES are classy, yet dignified; coats made plain, but with sharp, clear lines. The patented "PERMANENT CREASE" in all Society Brand trousers appeals to young fellows.

CLASSES TOE MARK FOR MEET SATURDAY

Prospects are booming for the inter-class meet that will be held rain or shine on Kincaid Field at 3 p. m. next Saturday. All the classes have organized and will have their entries posted by Tuesday. The meet has done much to encourage training and any number of embryonic athletes keep the track hot.

All the class captains are confident of winning the meet though "Jumper" Johnston for the juniors says he and Struck have a hard proposition ahead of them. Opinion seems to be that victory lies between the seniors and sophomores with the freshmen a strong third.

For the seniors George Riddell is captain and Wilshire Bristow manager. Bristow's assistants are Dutch Steiwer and Arthur Geary. They are all determined that no one shall drag the green and white in the dirt.

Ferdinand Struck, as manager, and Jumper Johnston, as captain, will lead 1911. Though they are the sole representatives of the class' athletic ability they are determined to make a showing at least.

Martin Hawkins and Jim Johns tossed a coin yesterday for the captaincy of the sophomore class. Johns won and will be assisted by Manager Gwynne Watson. The sophomores expect to make a strong bid for the championship.

1913 elected Bob Kuykendall captain and Harold Warner manager. They announce that the "frost" will come to the front and disprove the recent insinuations as to their qualities as a class. From the number of freshmen on the track these days they should have a wealth of material to back up their claim.

GERMAN CLUB COMMITTEES APPOINTED

The regular meeting of the German Club Tuesday night will be held at the Gamma Phi Beta house instead of as first announced at the Kiosche Tillacum house. Committees for the year have been appointed as follows:

Literary: Miss Baker, Miss Bergeman, Miss Neubauer.

Social: Miss Davis, Miss Cummings, Miss Belot.

Musical: Miss Evans, Miss Homer, Miss Wise.

Membership: Miss Hill, Miss Baer, Miss Young.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

Prof. A. M. Espinosa, head of the department of Romance Languages at the University of New Mexico, is collecting the ballads and folk-lore of that state.

The Blue and Gold, California's 1910 Annual, sells for $3.00.

Ernest Fox Nichols, D. Sc. LL. D., was inaugurated tenth president of Dartmouth College, October the fourteenth.

California has an alumni association in China with headquarters at Shanghai.

The only copy of "Political Disquisition" in existence, so far as known, has been presented to the University of California Library. The book was written by James Burgh and was suppressed by the British government because of the author's views in regard to the colonists in their trouble with England.

Dr. James Mark Baldwin, a Princeton man, will direct the educational system of Mexico. A national University is to be founded in Mexico City under government supervision.

MEETING SHOWS GOLF TO BE POPULAR GAME

The Golf Club elected Professor Dearborn president, and Mr. Curtis as secretary and treasurer at its first meeting yesterday afternoon. A tax of one dollar per member was levied and it was decided to fix up the course at once and if the membership is large enough to mow the grass close to the ground. A club house was discussed, but no action taken.

"There are about fifteen members at present and double the number are expected to join within a few days. Very probably there will be a membership of 150 when the season begins in earnest," said Bert Prescott, one of the club's boosters, this morning.

Those who spoke at the meeting were unanimous in advising that those who wish to learn the game should consult some experienced player before purchasing clubs. Professor Dearborn, Professor DeCou, Bert Prescott, or Mr. Tiffany are among the well known masters in the art.

Several parties went out to the links today. President Campbell, Mr. Tiffany, Dr. Stewart and Miss Morgan went out this afternoon and will take lunch on the grounds this evening before they return.

SOPHOMORES ISSUE CHALLENGE TO BABES

The sophomore football men are parading around the University campus with the following challenge:

"We, the members of the invincible team of 1912, hereby challenge the class of 1913 to a game of football, provided the said class can muster courage to face us."

The freshmen promise their answer for the next issue.

STAFF APPOINTED FOR 1911 OREGONA

The following staff will handle the Junior Annual for the class of 1911:

Editor: C. W. Robison.

Assistant editors: Glen Scott

Associate editors: Fritz Dean, Gerald Eastham, Sam Davidson, Linley Welch, Juliet Cross, Mary DeBar, Cornelia Pinkham, Mary Steiwer, Tom Burke, Ralph Cronise.

Manager, Leslie Dobie.

Assistant manager: Cecil Espy.

Editor Robison believes that the Junior Annual is now on the way to fulfill his prophecy that the class of 1911 will put out the greatest book in the history of the University—one that will put Oregon on an equality with other northwest universities.

"With Scott and the rest at the head," he says, "the Annual has secured the best literary material that the University has ever seen. While, with Dobie and Espy to finance the book, its success is assured."

Manager Dobie is rapidly making preparations for selling advance orders. Five solicitors will be appointed soon to take charge of this department.

Dobie and Espy will then devote all their time to getting the book out. Everything will be done by contract at bed rock prices so that they cannot be swindled as last year's book was on the engraving. The Eugene Commercial Club has agreed to help in every way possible to enable the class to put out a book that will be a credit to the University.

Will St. John, '12, is again in college. He has been working in western Washington.

Gordon Moores will be at the Kappa Sigma House over Sunday.

NO U. O. MEN TRY FOR RHODES SCHOLARSHIP

"Not a single man from the University of Oregon has so far made application to be examined for the Rhodes Scholarship to Oxford University," said Bert Prescott, secretary to the President, this morning. "There is a mighty good chance for some one. Now that Greek is no longer required of applicants, the examinations are not prohibitive to the majority of students, as they have been heretofore."

The examinations are held this year at the Willamette University at Salem. Prof. Dunn leaves Tuesday night to represent the University of Oregon on the board of examining supervisors. The examination questions are sent out from Oxford and will be submitted to the applicants next week.

Senior Class Face Debt

ber of the remaining books or by a pure assessment without any return.

There are 88 members in the class. If every one should pay, a two dollar tax would just about cover the deficit. But there is little chance of collecting from every member and it is safe to say that a much higher assessment will be necessary if the amount is secured by this means.

In any case, it is certain that Wednesday's meeting will bring out many sensations. Every member of the class will be on hand with his pet measure and particular grievance and the oratory that will follow is being looked forward to with great interest. But after the tax is voted the treasurer is expecting a decline in the activity of the senior class. In fact, he is quite confident that seniors will be scarce at meetings thereafter.
