JAMISON ARRANGES BASEBALL SCHEDULE

It's a long look ahead to the spring baseball season, but Manager Jamison believes in taking time by the forelock and has already made preparations for what should be the best season of the national game Oregon has ever seen.

Some of the bright prospects he is holding before the Oregon rooters are as follows: Probabilities of trips to Japan, California and Inland Empire, the best coach on the coast and loss of only two men, Lee Hurd and Coleman. Besides, there is a wealth of new material in school with prospects of several more men entering in February.

Of course, the biggest thing is the Japan trip. Manager Jamison says that the trip is not yet assured but that he is doing all possible and hopes to land it late in the season. A California trip is practically arranged for. This will include games with Southern Oregon teams on the way down to San Francisco where they will play St. Ignatius, California and Stanford. Negotiations are on for games with the Southern California teams, as Santa Clara, St. Vincents and University of Southern California. It will be a long jump from San Francisco, however, and this part of the trip is doubtful. The Inland Empire trip will be taken again and this year will include U. of W. and Spokane teams. Manager Jamison is making efforts to include Victoria and Vancouver on this trip, which will probably occur in the spring vacation.

"Father Tom" will arrive early in March and start work immediately. This year he will have a line on the men and will not need so much time for tryouts. The battery cages will be put up again on the campus diamond but the games will probably be played on

CLASSICAL DRAMA FOR SENIOR PLAY

It is probable that the senior class this year will give a classical play for their annual affair. Professor Glen is in favor of the idea, and, although the class has expressed no opinion, he is on the lookout for a suitable one in case they should favor the plan.

A real classical play has never been given at the University of Oregon. Four years ago the senior class presented Pygmalion and Galatea, which has a classical subject but is not a true classical play. Professor Glen believes that a real classical play would be something new and would prove a great attraction.

Oliver Huston, president of the class, has appointed Ralph Dodson, Frances Oberteuffer and Louis Pinkham on the committee to make arrangements for the play. It is the intention if possible to give it during the first semester and thus use the proceeds to pay part of the deficit on the Junior Annual.

Fred Ohrt, a former University of Oregon student, is making good at Cornell. He has a chance at first place in the pole vault, having vaulted 11 feet last year. He is also on the civil engineering staff, which is an esteemed position.

the old professional grounds, thus avoiding any friction between track and baseball. Kelly likes it here and writes that he is anxious to get back.

An effort will be made this year to have organized rooting at the games. "Baseball," says Manager Jamison, "really arouses more enthusiasm than track athletics and with the number of good campus games the rooters should take it up seriously."

FEW CHANGES YET IN FOOTBALL SITUATION

The only development of importance in the football situation this week has been the shifting of Captain Clarke to quarterback to fill the place caused by Chandler being forced to leave the squad on account of getting behind in his studies. The practice game scheduled for this afternoon, however, is expected to result in more definite selection of those who are to have positions on the first team.

Hayward has tightened up on the men and hereafter they must be at home by nine and in bed by ten. There has been one infraction of the rule, the offender being punished by being asked to turn his suit in. Trainer Hayward expressed his regret at being compelled to take such action but said it was necessary to keep up the discipline and that any one on the squad from the captain down might know what to expect for violation of the training rules.

Twelve men are now eating at the training table. They are: Clarke, Pinkham, Main, Michael, Kiltz, Dodson, Hickson, Gillis, Mitchell, Taylor, La-tourette and Walker.

Since the wet weather, bucking has been harder and the plays go off with snap and precision.

Clarke, Walker and Taylor have been playing the backs and work exceptionally well together.

The seniors majoring in the Department of Economics are examining critically the new projects for remodelling the state constitution suggested by W. S. U'Ren, the well known originator of the Initiative and Referendum in Oregon.

CHAMPIONSHIP TO BE RAISED FROM 38 TO 40

"The whole golf course is going to be remarked and made more difficult," said Professor Dearborn, the president of the Golf Club yesterday. Besides lengthening the course somewhat, a number of the holes will be changed and made more difficult by placing bunkers around them.

The experts say that this rebuilding will make it so much more difficult that the "Bogey" of the course will be raised from 38 to 40.

Many students have joined the club and golfing promises to be a popular sport this winter. The fine weather the last of the week has been made the most of by several parties.

FIRST MEETING OF FACULTY COLLOQUIUM

The faculty colloquium will meet for the first time this year, Tuesday night in McClure Hall. Professor Dunn will read a paper on "Art as an Education."

The Colloquium is a club started last year among the faculty that proved a decided success. Some member reads a paper at each meeting, to which the general public is invited.

Seth Kerron, '06, has located in Tillamook to practice medicine.

GYM. NAME IN DOUBT UNTIL NEXT YEAR

The decision of the Board of Regents is still, to a certain extent, a matter of conjecture, as regard the resolution passed by the student body at its recent meeting, strongly favoring "Hayward Hall" as the name for the new gymnasium—in compliment to Bill Hayward, the trainer that puts out winning athletic teams for the University of Oregon. It is not known definitely how soon the regents will take action on the matter, but is probable that it will not be finally decided until the regular meeting of the Board on Tuesday, January 18.

ASSEMBLY SCHEDULE NOT YET COMPLETE

The schedule for speakers at the student assemblies although still far from complete, has been filled out for the most of the dates up to the time of the Christmas holidays. President Campbell will deliver an address before the assembly on Wednesday, October 27, and the following partial schedule has been arranged for ensuing dates:

Nov. 3—Mr. Ferrill, of the Y. M. C. A.
Nov. 10—Not yet filled.
Nov. 17—Professor Young.
Nov. 24—Thanksgiving holiday.
Dec. 1—Professor Glen.
