Mr. Editor:

I happened to be a passing by the U. of O. campus a few days since and I seen the football boys a workin' out under the direction of a big feller with a big "Y" on his sweater and I also seen Bill Hayward standin' there with his little grip, so I went in and set down in the bleachers for to watch the fun for a while and I tell you, Mr. Editor, I was greatly pleased with the fine bunch of football men that I seen. I have followed the Oregon team for a long time and have gone down from my ranch up here in the hills every year to see Oregon wallop the boys from the O. A. C. and other colleges, but I'll swear, Mr. Editor, I never seen such a fine lot of big football men as the U. of O. has this season. They are simply great! They are as fine a bunch of players as I ever seen and the big feller with the "Y" on his sweater, he's a daisy coach, sure and no mistake. In fact, he is jest as good or better than Dick Smith, and Bill Hayward, who always comes up to my place to hunt in the summer time, he's a jim dandy trainer and Manager D. T. Goodman, he looks like a bright young feller and Professor Hug, the deputy coach, he's a good one too. In fact, the whole outfit looks good to me.

There ain't no denyin' the fact, however, Mr. editor, that the rooters ain't supportin' the team like they should. The day I seen the practice, there wasn't over a dozen students on the field and most of them was girls. There wasn't no men there but Judge Chrisman and Judge Harris and Mike Walker, who drove Sam Friendly's team. I tell you Mr. Editor it's a burning shame that there ain't more rooters out. The showing would bring tears to the eyes of Van Dusen, Ike Fountain and Ed. Blythe. There ought to be three or four hundred there every afternoon. O. A. C. will soon be down with a trainload of rooters and a brass band, and our handfull of rooters won't be able to make any kind of a racket to compare with that bunch if they don't smoke up a bit. There's lots of work ahead for the rooters and if Oregon is to win this year, they must get busy and make some noise. The boys from the Ridge is all goin' down to Eugene for the games with O. A. C. and Multnomah. We was a goin' to Portland to see Taft, but decided to save our money and take in the games at Eugene.

So, Mr. Editor, here's hopin' that Oregon will win all her games and that the rooters will make a big noise. Yours truly,
OLD SUBSCRIBER.
