PROSPECTS BRIGHTEN AS SEASON ADVANCES

(By Ralph Moores)

With the season half over prospects could not be brighter for a winning football team. Wealth of material, experience, weight, the best coach and trainer in the country, all combine in pointing to the Northwest championship for Oregon. Thanks to Trainer Hayward the men are in excellent shape with hardly a cripple in the whole bunch of 24. We have practically two teams, at least two men for every position and the Willamette game showed that the Scrubs are as strong as the Varsity. Indeed last night the Scrubs not only held them down but actually scored on the first team.

There is danger of over-confidence, however, especially if we take seriously the hard luck stories passed out by Washington and O. A. C. Every paper is filled with a doleful account of how their teams are slumping and how their best men are crippled. It has always been Bill's policy to tell the truth about his men but that does not imply that Oregon is to be deceived by newspaper fakes regarding her rival's men.

Three college teams are yet to be played. Idaho on the 13th, O. A. C. on the 19th and Washington on the 25th. This is a stiff schedule and will work the men to the limit. Idaho is the least to be feared as they are not up to their usual standard. Their old rival Whitman, hung a 30 to 6 score on them and Washington last week made the remarkable score of 50 to 0 against Idaho. This game would show Idaho very weak or that Washington has a phenomenally fast bunch.

So far O. A. C. has played but one game of importance, defeating Whitman 10-6 last Friday. Whitman's score was a fluke, it being admitted that our neighbors had them outplayed at every point. This puts the Missionaries out of the running and shows, in spite of their hard luck stories, the Farmers have their usual strong team and that Oregon will have no easy game. Metzger, the O. A. C. coach, evidently means business.

As President Campbell said in Assembly Wednesday, the Thanksgiving game will probably be the greatest football game ever seen in the Northwest. Washington is certainly as heavy and probably much faster and better drilled than last year when they trimmed us 15 to 0. Every Oregon rooter knows that we are stronger, probably, than ever before. The Oregon spirit will be there and if Forbes' men do not win that game it will be because Washington is invincible.

The schedule of games for Northwest Conference Colleges yet to be played is as follows:

University of Idaho—
Nov. 13, Oregon, at Portland.
Nov. 25, Boise Club at Boise.
Nov. 27, College of Idaho, at Caldwell.

University of Oregon—
Nov. 13, Idaho, at Portland.
Nov. 19, O. A. C. at Eugene.
Nov. 25, Washington, at Seattle.
